POPE ASSAILS FLAMING YOUTH EVIL IN AMERICA

Blames Parents for Wild Parties.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 4.—Warning by the successor of the apostle, Peter, on American morals, or "the great overseas evil," rang loudly through the somber Vatican halls today. A crowd of Lenten preachers, who called on Pope Pius this morning for the annual pre-Lenten visit, heard the pontiff thunder his ire against the growing weakness of obedience and ties of the young American generation to their parents.

The pope also deplored the unbridled press, which, he said, by discussing everything without any respect, was dangerous to the young.

The outstanding evil, he said, consists in "the parents' abdication of every right and duty which is theirs, the surveillance of young men and girls' actions. Boys and girls are, therefore, free to go where they like, with whom they like, and at what time they like, absolutely uncontrolled by their fathers and mothers.

Raps Unchaperoned Parties.

"It is the duty of Christian Catholic parents carefully to watch their children, because nobody is perfect, nobody is exempt from original sin, which always is ready to produce its disastrous effects."

Surprisingly well informed, with minute details of American home life, the pontiff expressed keen disgust at unchaperoned parties, arranged exclusively by young folks, who without shame cut out their parents whom they describe as "excess baggage."

"There are even cases of invitations among young people subject to the condition of 'no baggage,'" he said.

"Bad Influence on Europe."

Referring to the "bad influence" of American habits on European countries, he said:

"It is hard to believe that in Catholic countries which have the benefit of the faith and the revelation that children may show contempt for their parents to such an extent. The parents forget the tremendous responsibility of bringing up their children."

The pope assured his audience that he had been a personal witness to a startling case of a child's irreverence toward its parent. He quoted a case in which he had overheard a five year old child call his father a fool.

"Evidently, it was because that child had really started to understand at that moment what his father had so far failed to comprehend," he said.

Assails Evil Literature.

The pope further called the priests' attention to evil literature. The catalog of reading books—Catalogo Guida—recently edited by the Fascist Lictorial library, the pontiff said, was full of errors.

"It contains," he said, "many books that are not only unsuited for youths, but much that is positively dangerous or evil, many books that either are expressly forbidden or forbidden owing to their very nature."

However, he expressed hope for a speedy correction and had kind words for the Fascist editing institution, which, he hoped, will not allow antireligious works to sneak under the valid protection of the Fascist insignia.

Attack on Press.

In connection with the "irreverent lack of restraint in the press, irreverent not only in the eyes of God, but also toward nature and human dignity," the Pope said:

"It is true that this cruel irreverence is chiefly toward that age which is particularly recommended to the reverence of adults, so much so that it formed one of the chief postulates of education, even of the ancient pagans."

MONACO FACES REVOLT AGAINST GAMBLING CZARS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTE CARLO, March 4.—With its government in a state of chaos and its royal family involved in a scandal that has gone around the world the little principality of Monaco is seething tonight over a third crisis, this time the Casino.

The stockholders of the "Societe des Baines de Mer," Monaco's organization in control of the gambling palace and five of the great hotels, are up in arms against the company's directors, whom they charge with projecting a ruinous expansion program.

A "committee" of twenty able bodied Corsicans has been engaged to guard the Casino.

Police Called to Settle War of Democrats

BY PARKE BROWN.

Hair raising eleventh hour alarms marked the arrival of the midnight deadline for the withdrawal of candidacies for public office at the offices of the city clerk and county clerk last night.

There were frantic calls for police, hurried telephone messages that this man or that man had been kidnaped or held prisoner, that he was being prevented from withdrawing or was being forced to do so. There were complaints that the law regarding deadly weapons had been flouted, but the prevailing opinion among onlookers was that perhaps it was the Volstead law that has suffered most.

All the uproar, for once at least, was in the Democratic camp. The center of the storm seemed to be County Commissioner Frank J. Wilson, who has started an organization of his own with Hotel Sherman headquarters, and is out to beat the regular organization and particularly its chief, County Chairman A. J. Cermak.

Eleventh Hour Dive for Regularity.

The action was focused in the Sherman but it shifted two or three times to the county building and city hall across Randolph street.

Putting all the various stories together it appears that there was a last moment movement of Wilson's candidates to line up with the regular organization. Frank T. Baranowski, Wilson entry for clerk of the municipal court, is said to have turned his withdrawal over to the Cermak forces. A messenger took it to County Clerk Sweitzer's office by mistake. Wilson, on watch there, challenged its authenticity, but the messenger finally got it filed at City Clerk Smith's office.

It was Baranowski, according to rumor, who said that his running mate, Otto F. Janousek, Wilson candidate for bailiff of the Municipal court, also was ready to withdraw but was being held against his will in room 619 of the Sherman. The Cermak forces telephoned for the police and members of the detective bureau squad took Janousek out of the room where he sat with some of the Wilson group.

Janousek Files Withdrawal.

At the city clerk's office it was said that Janousek was with two detectives when he filed his withdrawal later.

The insurgent group headed by Wilson declared that Janousek had no intention of withdrawing and had been kidnaped by police called by leaders of the regular group.

This was about all the excitement the last day for withdrawals produced. Most of the candidates who stepped aside were unimportant politically, and there were no surprises among the big fellows. John J. Garrity, former chief of police, withdrew as a Republican candidate for sheriff. James L. Beckwith withdrew from the Snow Republican ticket, leaving it one short on entries for the full terms of the drainage board.

BIND WOMAN IN RIVERSIDE HOME; GET $22,000 GEMS

Jewelry valued at more than $22,000 was stolen from the home of Fred K. Babson, 183 Addison road, Riverside, last Friday by three armed bandits who bound Mrs. Babson and two maids in a clothes closet while they ransacked the house, it was disclosed last night. Mr. Babson is secretary of John A. Colby & Sons, loop furniture house.

Chief of Police C. C. Neuschafer of Riverside revealed the details of the robbery after a period of silence which he said was caused by the reluctance of the Babson family to call on his force for assistance.

According to Chief Neuschafer's story the three bandits appeared at the Babson home about 5 p. m. Friday. Mrs. Babson answered the door bell and was forced at the point of a gun to summon the two maids. All three were bound and forced toe li in a closet while the robbers gathered the loot, the whereabouts of which Mrs. Babson revealed through fear of violence. After the bandits had departed one of the maids freed herself and Mrs. Babson.

Included in the loot, which was fully insured, was a string of 101 pearls valued at $14,000 two diamond rings valued at $1,500 each, a diamond onyx bracelet valued at $1,750, and a diamond bar pin valued at $1,500.

200 Are Dead as Flood Rages On in France

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 4.—Floods, which already have taken a toll of nearly 200 lives in southwestern France, are now threatening the lower valley of the Garonne. Lack of boats and communications is greatly hampering the relief work of troops and volunteer squads. The government tonight decided to ask the chamber of deputies tomorrow to appropriate $1,173,000 for flood relief.

It was reported tonight that 100 persons perished when an embankment of the Tarn river broke at the town of Moissac, 15 miles northwest of Montauban. Water swept into two sections of the town.

Impossible to Estimate Loss.

It is impossible to describe definitely the extent of the damage and estimate the number of dead. At Castres, textile mills and other factories lost $391,000 worth of goods and machinery. Buildings and houses are collapsing in many towns, burying the occupants.

The wine growing regions of Bordeaux and Cognac, where the famous brandy is made, are threatened. The panic stricken populations of the villages of Cadillac and Cerons, near Bordeaux, are abandoning their homes.

The disaster has also spread to the Mediterranean coast. At Cruisan the high seas assumed the proportions of a tidal wave and invaded the town. At Nimes, on the Allier river, where the most interesting Roman ruins in France are located, the rain is still pouring down late tonight.

Ruined Art Treasures.

Priceless art treasures, which had lasted throughout centuries in various churches and cathedrals, have been ruined. The streams are carrying corpses and the populations are menaced by starvation.

Six hundred workmen were cut off without food for more than thirty hours in the upper stories of a factory at Villemur, on the River Tarn. At Montauban the inhabitants have been camped on the roofs for more than thirty hours, surrounded by water and awaiting help from rescuers, who are unable to find boats. The entire town of Albi, on the Tarn, is still under water and the people are obliged to remain in their homes awaiting food supplies from boatmen.

Poisoner Hunted After Kenilworth Dogs Die

Residents and police of Kenilworth yesterday sought trace of a dog poisoner whose activities have caused the deaths of two valuable airedales and the serious illness of 10 other dogs in the North Shore suburb. The airedales which died were the property of Frederick F. Skeel, 338 Woodstock avenue, and Frank A. Hiter, 337 Cumnor road, sales manager of the Alemite coporation. The poison was placed on meat and bones and given to the animals.

ROYAL BOLOGNA SELLER ENTERS NECKLACE DEAL

Archduke Admits He Got Commission.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 4.—[Special.]—A little matter of 47 canary-tinted diamonds that have been wandering through the Almanach de Gotha since Napoleon bought them in 1811 will occupy the attention of a grand jury here, it was decided late this afternoon. This grand jury is interested because a Fifth avenue jeweler acquired them for a song three weeks ago.

The Archduke Leopold of Austria, until recently a Royal Park avenue sausage salesman, has had his passport renewed, his flaxen mustache cropped and his cane half soled, and will stay to see what these "droll Americans" want. The Napoleon necklace belonged to his aunt, the Archduchess Maria Theresa, and the archduke aided Charles Townsend in selling the $400,000 trinket to Jeweler D. M. Michel for a paltry $60,000. Mr. Townsend and his wife, the Princess Baronte, are reported on the high seas en route to India. The jewel that the Little Corporal took home with him one night to surprise his wife, the Empress Marie Louise, rests intact in the jeweler's safe.

Only $7,270 to the Archduchess.

It appears that every one who took part in the sale of the jewels had full legal authority to act, but that nevertheless somebody got gyped. It was not the jeweler. It was the archduchess. She got only $7,270. Expenses and commissions consumed the rest.

Today the archduke called at the district attorney's office on invitation. Laurence A. Steinhardt, attorney for Baroness Annie Elanmenger of Mount Vernon, was another caller. Assistant District Attorney Harold A. Hastings greeted them. The Mount Vernon baroness claims to hold a power of attorney superseding the one held by Col. Townsend. Her plea will be heard tomorrow. The archduke admitted he was present when the jewels were sold and said he received a commission.

The archduke, who, in addition to having worked for a wholesale bologna house, has tried his royal hand at being a sailor, mechanic and film extra, was in affable mood. He stood for a moment chatting with reporters, but his two attorneys, former District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora and Conrad Milliken, did not stand the customary ten paces away that royalty prescribes.

He Smiles for the Girls.

A group of stenographers, having heard that a member of the royal Hapsburg family would call, arrived on the scene.

"Here's the duke!" cried one of the girls.

He smiled an undernourished smile, tilted his little black derby and vanished into an elevator. He was gone more than an hour. At the close of the conference Mr. Hastings said the archduke was of the belief that Townsend had full legal authority to sell the necklace. He said the archduke refused to state the amount he had received as a commission.

The royal sausage salesman also was quoted as saying that several years ago an attempt had been made in Europe to sell the necklace for $100,000, but that it was unsuccessful. The archduke told Mr. Crain he would be available for questioning whenever he was wanted. The sale of the necklace, it was disclosed, was carried out in the office of Arthur Garfield Hays, a well known attorney.

Plans a Few Novels.

The Hapsburg archduke has been living in a dark little room on the east side since he arrived here from his adventures as a Hollywood extra.

"There are two kinds of Hapsburgs," said the archduke, "rich Hapsburgs and poor Hapsburgs. My aunt is a rich Hapsburg and could hire a hundred servants, and yet the last time I saw her she was carrying a sack of potatoes on her back through the streets of Vienna."

His royal highness, who also, by the way, is grand duke of Tuscany and prince of Hungary and Bohemia, summed it all up in a sentence.

"One time," he said, "I go to a dinner for the king of Spain, then I am a mechanic, then I am on Park avenue, and next I am doing something like selling sausage."

The archduke has a lot of ideas about making money. When he gets this little matter of a necklace commission settled he is going to dash off twenty novels. He already has thought up the titles.

Painting Cost $20,000; Now It's $400,000

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Skyrocketing of the artistic value of a large canvas owned by the Art institute of Chicago over the brief period of ten years recently led officials of the institution, it was learned yesterday, to refuse a French syndicate's offer to buy back for $400,000 a painting purchased in Paris in 1920 by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clay Bartlett for $20,000. The picture is the work of Georges Seurat, and is known as "Sunday Afternoon on the Grande Jette."

The latest offer for the painting, which hangs in the Birch-Bartlett memorial gallery of modern painting at the Art institute, was made two weeks ago and followed an earlier offer of $250,000, made to Mr. Bartlett two months ago. In the opinion of Robert Harshe, director of the Art institute, if the painting is worth $400,000 to France, it is equally important to Chicago.

Bought in Paris.

In Paris ten years ago Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett stopped for tea at a little shop and the woman in charge casually showed them the picture which she owned. They were immediately fascinated and begged her to sell it, but she refused to consider a sale, or even to name a price. Several later trips made to the shop by Mr. Bartlett failed to change her decision. Then he and Mrs. Bartlett left for another point in France.

The woman's son, who was delicate, fell ill, and the doctors said his only chance was a long stay in the south of France. The painting by Seurat offered her the only opportunity to raise the funds for the journey, and she decided to part with it. A rumor of her predicament came to the Bartletts and they hastily returned to Paris. They arrived late one night and sat up most of the remaining hours discussing ways and means of finding the money to pay the woman's price.

Bargain Is Clinched.

Five o'clock in the morning saw Mr. Bartlett at the tea shop. After much haggling and protestation the bargain was clinched. She named her price—$20,000—and Mr. Bartlett made her a first payment.

Georges Seurat lived from 1859 to 1891. He was the chief exponent of the school of painting known as "Pointillism." The term "Pointilliste" meant quite simply that he achieved his effects by innumerable dots of paint. There are four important Seurats in existence. Three are abroad; one is here. The Metropolitan museum in New York had an opportunity of acquiring one, but lost it through some hesitation. The "Sunday Afternoon on the Grande Jatte" is a lovely piece of color. It is old-fashioned, quaint, and lovely.

The price offered for the Seurat places it practically second in value of the paintings in the Art institute. The most valuable was designated by Mr. Harshe as a painting by El Greco, worth an estimated million dollars. A Rembrandt there is valued at $250,000, and an Ayala altarpiece at $200,000.

Mrs. Edgar Conway Files Second Bill for Divorce

Mrs. Helene Mudge Conway, 25 years old, 8033 Crandon avenue, yesterday filed a bill for divorce in the Superior court against her husband, Edgar Conway, vice president of the W. P. Nelson company, interior decorators. The bill charges cruelty. Mrs. Conway had dismissed a similar bill last week. The Conways were married March 6, 1923, in Crown Point, Ind. Although they have lived in the same home they separated Jan. 25, 1926, according to the bill.

PREMIER BACKS LAW HALTING BOOZE EXPORTS

Wet Hearings Close in Washington.

Day in Prohibition

WASHINGTON.—Leading figures in politics, business and women's organizations attack prohibitory laws.

OTTAWA.—Legislation is offered in Canada to prevent the annual shipment of $30,000,000 in rum to the United States.

BY GEORGE SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., March 4.—Premier MacKenzie King of Canada introduced in the house of commons today legislation by which his government will endeavor to stem the annual $30,000,000 flow of liquor from wet Canada to the dry United States.

The bill is entitled "An act to amend the export act," and the Canadian prime minister explained to the house its purport in the following words:

"The purport of this amendment is to authorize officials of the dominion government having charge of liquor in bond and the granting of clearances to vessels to refuse to release such liquor or to grant such clearances where the granting of such release or clearance in any case would facilitate the introduction of intoxicating liquor into a country where the importation of such liquor forbidden by law."

Prohibition Is Mandatory.

The prohibition is mandatory and is not left to the discretion of officials.

The expectation of the government, as officially expressed to THE TRIBUNE by a member of the government, is that the bill will carry through the house of commons. The administration, by introducing it as a government measure, has staked its political existence upon its passage. If the bill, after debate, were to fail to pass the commons, the MacKenzie King government, by constitutional law, must resign and appeal for public indorsement in a general election.

The measure, to become a Canadian law, must also pass the senate, but while there is a little less certainty with respect to senate approval, the government, which controls half the ninety-six senate seats, is confident of its passage there also.

U. S. Sought to Stem Flow.

The United States government, through an official commission which visited Ottawa a year ago last January, officially requested the Canadian government to prohibit the export of liquor into the United States. The Canadian government's first reaction was a flat refusal.

Premier MacKenzie King has been the leader toward a reversal of Canadian attitude. Since then he has made public pronouncement of the opinion that Canada should not be a party in aiding rum runners to violate the American dry laws. At the present moment he is understood to have practically the entire government party behind him in support of the measure and is certain also to receive the approving votes of the third party group, comprising a score of western Canadian progressives and laborites.

Political Foes Silent.

The official conservative opposition party so far has remained absolutely silent with respect to its attitude on the long heralded government move. It is not likely that they will vote directly against the principle of the bill, but it would not be surprising if they found ground upon which to fight its passage through the introduction of some amendment.

The debate, which is certain to be a hot one and involve Canadian-American relations and question the justification for the Canadian government losing millions of dollars annual liquor profits in helping to keep America dry, will be precipitated this week.

The bill would amend the export act simply by the introduction of a prohibitory clause covering liquor.

WETS' ATTACK ENDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 4.—[Special.]—Winding up a seven day assault upon the 18th amendment with testimony from eleven more outstanding citizen witnesses, the anti-prohibitionists moved off the stage at the house judiciary committee hearings today, giving way to the drys, who will start submitting evidence tomorrow.

The session concluded the proponents' side of the hearing being conducted by the committee on pending wet legislation. Chairman G. S. Graham [Rep., Pa.], announced, however, that the wets will be given limited time for rebuttal.

Some Leading Spokesmen.

Both as to the caliber of spokesmen and plane of their statements, the final wet presentation today matched those of the previous hearings. Among the witnesses were Breckinridge Long, former assistant secretary of state; W. W. Ball, Charleston, S. C., publisher; Dr. Stewart Paton, Johns Hopkins psychiatrist; I. G. Hilton, former president of the American Pharmaceutical association, and three leaders of women's organizations. They came from various sections of the country.

Some simply and others dramatically, the witnesses added new color to the picture of conditions painted by those preceding—a picture of the American people in rebellion against an unenforceable constitutional amendment. All urged action toward its repeal or modification.

Will Testify for Drys.

Three of the witnesses to be presented by the drys, who heretofore have kept their plans in the dark, were announced tonight. They are: Edward Keating, former congressman from Colorado, editor of Labor; Patrick Callahan, Louisville, Ky., paint and varnish manufacturer, and Dr. Daniel A. Poling, former pastor of the Marble Collegiate church, New York, editor of the Christian Herald and president of the International Christian Endeavor.

Analyzing the eighteenth amendment as a constitutional lawyer, Mr. Long assailed it as an abortive provision of the kind never intended by the forefathers to go into the constitution and one that must be taken out to restore that instrument to its former dignity.

During ten years of prohibition, he declared, the people have had brought home to them with increasing force the gravity of the damage dealt their form of government with its enactment.

Fritter Away People's Rights.

"My chief objection to the eighteenth amendment," he said, "is that it assumes that any temporary majority of the people, irrespective of their power, has the right to change the constitution in accordance with their prejudices.

"It was never intended that any positive law should be written into the constitution. It was drafted for one purpose only—to set up a structure of government. It created agents to carry out its provisions, but it contains not a suggestion adding to the power of government. The 18th amendment violates that principle. It has injected legislation and policy into the constitution which has no more right there than the Monroe doctrine."

Further, Long contended, the 18th amendment centralized power in the hands of the federal government which even Hamilton, at the peak of federalist party power, "never dreamed of."

"It has laid the basis for autocratic executive action, extending from the President down to the town constable," he continued, "promoting lawless acts by government agents themselves. Moreover, and more important, it has overturned the bill of rights and denied the security of personal liberty, one of the prime objects of the constitution. It must go, or it will carry the constitution down with it."

Three Women Take Stand.

Each of the three feminine witnesses held close attention as they testified. They were Mrs. Robert W. Lovett, Boston; Mrs. Cortlandt Nicoll, New York, and Mrs. Carroll Miller, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Lovett sounded the keynote of the testimony of all three with a declaration that the anti-prohibition women are seeking the same objectives as the dry women, namely, protection of children, a decrease in crime, and abolition of the commercialized liquor traffic.

"But what have we today?" she demanded. "Drunken children, crime on the increase by leaps and bounds, and an illicit liquor traffic infinitely worse than the open saloon."

Mrs. Miller struck out at the W. C. T. U., which, she asserted, is corrupting legislative bodies with its political tactics.

"These misguided women," she said, "do not care how a man lives. They care nothing for his honesty, ability, or knowledge of the law. They ask only that he vote dry. As a result, they are helping to fill up the legislatures with hypocrites, ignoramuses, and cowards."

Mother of Four Sons.

Mrs. Miller, who said she is a mother of four sons, deplored the fact that "prohibition has totally destroyed the great temperance movement in this country," adding that it has resulted in open rebellion on the part of the younger generation.

During the 1928 political campaign Mrs. Miller stated that she traveled extensively through the central and eastern states and everywhere in hotel rooms found empty flasks and signs warning guests not to break up the furniture, as a corkscrew hung in the bathroom. Challenged by Representative C. E. Moore [Rep., O.] to name one town in which she found such a hotel, she replied:

"Springfield, Ill. I stopped there one day and a prominent clubwoman told me they used to have 30 licensed saloons, but now they have 400 bootleggers. In one of the best hotels in Springfield I saw the usual flask in the wastebasket."

The statement frequently is made that while there is resentment against the prohibition law in the eastern states, in the middle west a happy condition prevails where the precepts of Mr. Volstead are followed and his word is law, Mrs. Nicoll pointed out. The women coming from those states, and the letters they write tell a different story, she said.

"The wife of one of the leading citizens of Kansas told me in Chicago last May that Kansas did not need to bootleg its whisky, for they possessed the finest stills in the United States; that the garages back of the high schools were used by boys and girls to store their beer and whisky; and that in the town where she had spent her life a home for delinquent boys, which formerly had 400 inmates, today has 1,200, and this with no perceptible change in the population of the town," she explained.

Again Representative Moore, who is an ardent dry, demanded more conciseness, asking the name of the town referred to. Mrs. Nicoll promptly replied, "Hutchinson, Kas."

It's Wet in Dixie, Too.

Mr. Ball, introduced as editor and publisher of the Charleston News and Courier, came to Washington as the first witness from a politically dry southern state.

"There is at least one distillery in every county in South Carolina," he asserted, "and there is no village or city in the state where it is any serious inconvenience to get a drink.

"In my community there is no commodity so stabilized in price as whisky. And may I say that prohibition has educated the ladies and gentlemen of Charleston to the virtues of $4 a quart corn whisky. I come from a town of cocktail parties. In the old days, the decent days, Madeira or claret was served at social functions, but today it is corn whisky cocktails. Drinking is no longer a social incident; it is the end and aim of the entertainment.

"My estimate is that between 30,000 and 40,000 of the population of South Carolina are engaged in bootlegging, which is largely a rural problem," he continued. "And no wonder, the condition of the South Carolina farmer is from bad to desperate. He takes $1 a bushel corn and manufactures $1 a gallon whisky. The government has helped him better his economic condition."

Corruption Under Dry Law.

Following up the testimony of the Charleston editor as to political corruption in the wake of prohibition, Henry H. Stroud of Tulsa, Okla., related his experience as special agent for the department of justice prior to 1926. For several years in the early days of prohibition, he said, he was in charge of the bureau of investigation branch in Milwaukee.

After one investigation in Milwaukee, he said, his men seized 1,000 cases of liquor and brought about the prosecution of a half dozen prominent men, one of whom was sent to the penitentiary after he had paid Stroud a $7,000 cash bribe and promised him $35,000 more plus a stipend of $10,000 a week to close his eyes to the illicit rum traffic.

"So far as I have been able to observe," Stroud concluded, "things are just about as bad now as they were when I was in the government service."

Airs Idaho Liquor Selling.

Idaho, the state of Senator W. E. Borah, a dry leader, and a solid dry delegation in the house of representatives, was brought into the hearings for the first time by Noel B. Martin, a lawyer from Lewiston, who cited numerous cases of the ineffectiveness of enforcement in his section of the country.

"In Idaho," he asserted, "there has been a tremendous breakdown in the reverence of the citizen toward the federal government."

Norman Johnston, a New York attorney, who described himself as "an ordinary citizen, representing nobody but myself," astonished the committee with his candor. "I drink," he stated. "I've always drunk. And, please God, I'll always be able to drink. I have a right to drink and my only complaint is that the government forces me to drink liquor. I used to drink 1.5 per cent beer, but now I have to drink high powered hard liquor."

"Before prohibition," he said, "the wages of sin was death. Nowadays the wages of sin is a Rolls-Royce and a fat bank account."

Both Dr. Paton and Dr. Hilton emphasized the medical point of view toward prohibition. The latter, as a druggist and an official of the American Pharmaceutical association, said he always had opposed prohibition because it has turned drug stores into saloons.

Quoting an authoritative source, Dr. Paton declared that today there are more patients in insane institutions in this country than there are students in colleges and universities.

Backs Sabath Resolution.

Prior to the appearance of the citizen witnesses today, two representatives, J. Charles Linthicum [Dem., Md.], and John J. Cochran [Dem., Mo.], addressed the committee. Mr. Linthicum, who is leader of the house wet bloc, summarized the evidence his side has presented and concluded with a proposal that the committee report out the Sabath resolution, providing for a federal dispensary system, amended to provide for referenda in each state to elect delegates to a constitutional convention. With the cities unfairly represented in many legislatures, he said, this is the only fair way to get a fair vote of the people on the prohibition question.

The statements of the two representatives followed the reading of a letter by Chairman Graham from Walter W. Liggett, the initial wet witness at the hearings, in refutation of Attorney General Smith of Kansas regarding the liquor situation in that state. Liggett said in the letter that he had received a deluge of letters commending him on his Kansas exposé in Plain Talk magazine, but most of them said he "didn't tell half the story." He added that he was perfectly willing to be cross-examined by Mr. Smith, if the latter could obtain time for such a quiz before the committee.

STATE'S STAR WITNESS JAILED FOR PERJURY; DRY CASE COLLAPSES

Tuscaloosa, Ala., March 4.—(AP)—Charges of violating the prohibition law, contained in an indictment returned by a recent grand jury against Floyd Fitts, former Tuscaloosa county deputy sheriff, were dismissed in Circuit court here today, and the state's star witnesses were jailed for perjury on motion of the prosecuting solicitor.

The witnesses, Mel Leonard and Marshal Swindle, were remanded to the Tuscaloosa county jail in default of $500 bonds. They were charged by Solicitor Edward Degraffenreid with not supporting testimony they gave the grand jury which resulted in Fitts being indicted.

PARHAM, NEGRO WEST POINTER, TO TRY AGAIN

Alonzo S. Parham, colored appointee to West Point, who failed in his mathematics examination last January and was dropped from the school, is still determined to reënter the military academy. He hopes to make a satisfactory grade in mathematics at a special examination to be given him by the government this month, his mother said last night at the Parham home at 454 East 45th place. Congressman Oscar DePriest, who appointed Parham, has announced that he will name another Negro for Parham's place if the latter fails to qualify.

After he was dropped Parham said he had received fair and courteous treatment from his fellow students and instructors alike. When the youth entered the academy last summer he was deficient in mathematics.

Swanson Again Urged to Investigate Bank Affairs

State's Attorney Swanson yesterday referred a request for an investigation of the affairs of the defunct City State bank to Assistant State's Attorneys Henry Ayers and Grenville Beardsley. Assistant Prosecutor Charles J. Mueller had previously made an investigation and refused to recommend any action by the prosecutor. Attorney Peter Wall, who represents a number of depositors of the bank, conferred with Swanson yesterday and asked for a new investigation.

Chicago reduced its motor toll in 1929 by 12.5 per cent, while the number of fatalities for the nation increased approximately 11 per cent over those of 1928. Chicago's reduction was larger than in any other city. These facts were revealed in a survey made public yesterday by the Chicago safety council.

Of fourteen cities with populations in excess of 500,000 only four cities showed a decrease in deaths in 1929 as compared with 1928. Chicago reduced the death toll by 113. The other cities having a decrease in 1929 are Boston, in which one less death was reported, Milwaukee with a drop of 9, and St. Louis, which cut its toll by 53.

Still in Second Place.

Despite the fact that Chicago showed a decrease, the city continued in second place among American cities for auto deaths with 803 in 1929. In New York 1,220 were killed. The death rate per 100,000 population in Chicago was 25. This rate was exceeded only by that of Cleveland, which was 26.1.

Thomas Alexander Barns, English explorer, hunter, writer, and lecturer, died yesterday in the Columbus Memorial hospital of injuries received Monday night when struck by a street car and knocked into the path of a taxicab at Clark street and Arlington place. His sister in law, Miss Kathleen Cory, 801 Cass street, was at his bedside.

Mr. Barns was the American agent for the Benguela railroad in South Africa. Word of his death was cabled to his wife, who is in London.

Deaths Now 158 for Year.

Mr. Barns' death and four others raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 158. The victims:

William Herman, 57 years old, 4049 West Madison street. Fatally injured when struck by an automobile as he stepped into the alley in the rear of 4158 West Monroe street. Gertrude Richard, 22 years old, 4848 Quincy street, the driver, was not held.

Edmund Riley, 34 years old, 7223 Kimbark avenue. Killed by a hit and run motorist at 11th street and Major avenue. His body was found by the Willow Springs county highway police. It had been dragged 150 feet.

Andrew Morris, 60 years old, 221 West 26th street. Died in the county hospital of injuries received when struck by a taxicab at Madison and La Salle streets on Feb. 13. The driver, Leo Marshall, 3450 Ainslie street, was not held.

George L. Roscoe, 71 years old, 230 East Superior street, died at the Passavant hospital of injuries received when struck by an automobile on North Michigan avenue.

TAFT IMPROVES, BUT CONDITION STILL IS GRAVE

Ex-President Resting More Easily.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 4.—[Special.]—Former President William Howard Taft registered a slight gain in strength today, but remained in a precarious condition.

Following their evening call, the Taft physicians reported the distinguished jurist had taken more nourishment today than during any other twenty-four hours since his condition became critical. Mr. Taft's appetite was better, they said, and his condition was such he was able to swallow more food. Ice cream and liquid stimulants are his only nourishment.

"The former chief justice had a fairly good day," the physicians stated in their evening bulletin. "He has taken more nourishment than at any other time during the last week."

Won't Discuss Condition Yet.

While neither Dr. Thomas A. Claytor nor Dr. Francis R. Hagner, the attending physicians, would discuss the condition of the former chief justice for quotation, they said he appeared to have better control of his faculties today than usual.

Both the physicians again cautioned against undue optimism. Mr. Taft's condition is such, it was said, that it is impossible to tell when he will take a sudden turn for the worse. The general impression given by the physicians is that Mr. Taft may live for some days more or he might have a relapse and die in less than twenty-four hours.

Any improvement, the physicians have stated time and again, will be only temporary.

No Hope Held, Even Now.

The vitality shown by the patient has been extremely gratifying but because of the inroads of disease, no hope is held out even now for Mr. Taft's recovery.

Most of the time Mr. Taft lies in a state of coma. Today he slept most of the time. At times he rouses and on occasion he recognizes members of the family or the physicians. Tonight Dr. Hagner said Mr. Taft called out "Goodby," in a low voice when they left the sick room.

DRY LAW CASES CLOG U. S. COURT, SURVEY REVEALS

Important Trials Delayed by Lack of Judges.

One thousand two hundred criminal cases, most of them brought under the dry laws, are pending in the United States District court in Chicago. Statistics compiled by the clerk of the court show the court at the point of stagnation, with pleas, arraignments and other preliminary motions occupying so much time that there is little possibility of bringing important jury cases to trial.

This month only Judges Wilkerson and Woodward are sitting. Judge Lindley, who has been in Chicago for several weeks, has returned to his own bench at Danville. Judge Carpenter is in California and is not expected to return until April 1.

Early last month, when several cases were set for trial, is was announced that Judge Wham of East St. Louis would be brought to Chicago. He has been shifted to Wisconsin, however, to help relieve congested court conditions there.

Three Important Cases Delayed.

The trials of three important cases which were set for February, after indictments were returned several months ago, have been delayed. Ralph Capone, brother of Alphonse, was due to appear on Feb. 10 on charges of income tax evasion and making a fraudulent compromise offer. His case was continued to Feb. 24 and then postponed to April 9.

"I do not see how I can handle the case at the present time," Judge Wilkerson said.

Terry Druggan, who has been in and out of federal courts for several years, was also scheduled for trial on charges of income tax evasion on March 17. His case has been advanced to April 9, when, according to his attorney, William F. Waugh, a new date will be set.

The trial of Gene G. Oliver, member of the county board of assessors, who is charged with evading payment of $42,000 in income taxes, also has been set for April 9. His case, according to government prosecutors, will be tried after disposition of the charges against Ralph Capone.

Other Income Tax Cases.

Income tax cases are also pending against Frank Lake, former beer partner of Druggan; Oliver J. Ellis, alleged slot machine boss of Chicago Heights; George L. Chamberlain and Fred W. Rhoades, U. S. A. Company officials indicted after federal investigation of old sanitary district contracts; and Walter and William McKeon, who also held sanitary district contracts.

United States Attorney Johnson expressed disappointment when informed that the Capone case could not be tried until next month. "We were ready to try this case on Feb. 10," he said, "and were prepared to follow it with the other tax cases.

"There are approximately 1,200 criminal cases pending, without judicial facilities to take care of them. If a bill now before congress, asking for two more judges for this district, is passed, the situation will be relieved. With two additional judges our docket could be cleared in six months."

If the majority of prohibition cases were not settled by pleas of guilty the situation would be hopeless, federal prosecutors said. Nearly 90 per cent of the indictments returned by the grand jury, the records show, are for violations of the laws against liquor, narcotics, and interstate theft.

Waukegan Voters Reject $175,000 Sea Wall Bonds

Waukegan voters, at a special election yesterday, rejected for the second time a proposition for a $175,000 bond issue for construction of a concrete highway and sea wall along two miles of lake front. Officials of the Johnson Motor company, whose Waukegan plant was damaged by lake storms last fall, have threatened to close the plant employing 500 men unless the highway and sea wall are built. The proposition was defeated by 417 votes.

TWO ACCUSED DODGE JUSTICE AS YEARS PASS

Records Are Revealed by Crime Commission.

Two trials, in which the Chicago crime commission points out instances of justice defeated, were heard in the Criminal court yesterday. The cases:

1 Alfred Patryas, 25 years old, former bank teller, indicted nearly five years ago for a $52,000 embezzlement. He appeared as the state's star witness yesterday before Judge John J. Sullivan against two gamblers, his alleged co-conspirators in the embezzlement, who have been granted 47 continuances. Patryas, the confessed principal in the five year old theft, is yet to be brought to trial.

2 Harry Greenberg, 40 years old, a professional pickpocket since his youth. He appeared before Judge Harry B. Miller in a bond forfeiture case. It developed that for ten years he had dodged serving a sentence for larceny, although he had been arrested 63 times since the Supreme court affirmed his conviction.

Story of the Bank Teller.

It was early in 1925 that Patryas, then a commercial teller at the Second Northwestern State bank, 2956 Milwaukee avenue, began dipping into the funds intrusted to him. His peculations were discovered in June of that year, and he was indicted with Charles [Chink] Schaeffer, alias Manley, and Stanley Klonowski, alias Tell, who are the defendants now on trial.

In his confession Patryas said Schaeffer and Klonowski had introduced him to one Jack Walton, a "big time" gambler. The plan was for Schaeffer and Klonowski to provide Patryas with marked cards and loaded dice, with which he was to break Walton. He matched Walton at poker, black jack and dice and never won a game.

47 Continuances Granted.

Meanwhile, according to his confession, Patryas, at the urging of Schaeffer and Klonowski, had been taking money from the bank with which to continue his play with Walton. Before discovery halted him his thefts totaled $53,000.

When the case came to trial Patryas was granted a severance on the theory that he, as the dupe, was less guilty than Schaeffer and Klonowski, who had played upon his greed and gullibility. The record in the case, as cited by Director Henry Barrett Chamberlin of the crime commission, shows that Schaeffer and Klonowski were granted 47 continuances, some for as long as six months, and 20 of these with the consent of the prosecutors.

THE CASE OF GREENBERG

Greenberg was before Judge Miller yesterday for forfeiting his bail in November, 1925. The evidence disclosed that on Nov. 20 of that year he had been caught stealing the wallet of Norman C. Whitaker, 1549 Farwell avenue. He posted bond and failed to appear when the case was called for trial.

At this juncture the representative of the crime commission produced Greenberg's record. It disclosed that on Feb. 27, 1920, Greenberg was convicted before Judge Hosea Wells, sentenced to nine months in the Bridewell, and won an appeal. When the Supreme court affirmed the conviction in April, 1922, Greenberg could not be found and the commitment papers were filed away.

Meanwhile the police were arresting Greenberg regularly, court records showed. Once he was fined $10 but in every other case he was acquitted, sometimes for lack of prosecution, again because the stolen purse was found in another man's hand, or occasionally because the prosecution failed to show that Greenberg's nimble fingers were in his victim's pocket.

Yesterday Greenberg was found guilty on the bond forfeiture charge and was sentenced to one to ten years in prison. He took an appeal.

Movie Star Visits Future Mother-in-Law

ALICE WHITE, WITH HER FIANCE, SYDNEY BARTLETT.

Discuss Date

Alice White, Hollywood actress, came to Chicago yesterday. On the same train was her fiancé, Sidney Bartlett, erstwhile of Chicago, later of the New York stage and most recently of Hollywood.

"We're thinking seriously of marrying here," Miss White said, but would not tell just when. She is at the Blackstone hotel. "I wanted to visit Mr. Bartlett's parents," she added. "Of course, I'd like to stay here as long as I can, but I may have to go back in a few days. It all depends on what I hear from the studio."

Miss White is the small miss with brown eyes and yellow hair who played in "The Girl from Woolworth's." Whether married or not on this trip, she will return to Hollywood to work on her next picture, "Men Crazy," in which her fiancé may play opposite her.

House Passes Bills for 2 New Chicago Bridges

Construction of two bridges and the widening of a third, all across the Little Calumet river, were authorized in bills passed by the national house of representatives yesterday and sent to the senate for approval, according to dispatches from Washington, D. C. The two new bridges are for Ashland avenue, near 134th and 140th streets, and the bridge to be widened is that on Halsted street near 145th street. The bills were introduced by Representative Sproul of Illinois

Tells League U. S. Will Attend World Law Parley

CARUSO WIDOW LEFT $25,000 BY DIPLOMAT MOORE

Lillian Russell's Daughter to Contest Will.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 4.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dorothy Benjamin Caruso, widow of the famous Italian tenor, was revealed today as a $25,000 beneficiary of the estate of the late diplomat-publisher, Alexander P. Moore, the late ambassador-select to Poland.

Mrs. Caruso, before her marriage to the famous operatic singer, was Miss Dorothy Benjamin, daughter of Park Benjamin, New York millionaire clubman and a scion of a long line of Knickerbocker and New England ancestors.

Receives Only $1,000.

The revelation of this new angle to the Moore will—which bequeathed $100,000 to Queen Victoria of Spain—came today when the full text of the document became public and at a time when his stepdaughter, Dorothy Russell O'Reilly Calvit of New York was preparing to contest the will. Mrs. Calvit under the terms of the will was bequeathed only $1,000.

The will of Mr. Moore also made a bequest of $10,000 to Paul Alexander Livermore, namesake of the ambassador and son of Jesse Livermore, New York financier and Wall street operator.

It is likely that the document will be filed here in Pittsburgh within the next few days.

Retains an Attorney.

Word was received here from New York City last night that Mrs. Calvit, the daughter of Lillian Russell by one of her former husbands and stepdaughter of the late publisher, has retained an attorney and is preparing to bring an immediate contest of the Moore will.

Mrs. Calvit, who received an income of $50 a week under the will of Lillian Russell, also says she will demand from the Union Trust company the proceeds of the sale of Miss Russell's jewelry, which was held at the American Art Galleries in New York, and certain other personal belongings of her mother, including a portrait of Miss Russell by Howard Chandler Christy.

Mrs. Caruso Surprised.

New York, March 4.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dorothy Benjamin Caruso, when informed tonight that the late A. P. Moore, ambassador select to Poland, had left her $25,000 by the term of his will, expressed surprise.

"This news is a pleasant surprise to me," Mrs. Caruso said. "Mr. Moore was a dear to thus remember me. While we had been close friends, I hadn't known he intended to remember me in his will."

FIND BLACK HAND WITNESS SLAIN IN SCHOOL YARD

Convicted Mafiast Is Sought as Suspect.

Joseph Cerrito, 30 years old, a peddler whose testimony sent a Mafian extortionist to jail two years ago, was found slain last night on the playground of the Socrates school, Polk and Sibley streets. His throat had been cut and his skull fractured in three places.

Lieut. Paul Riccio of the Maxwell district, who assumed charge of the investigation, ordered a search for friends of Dan Clemente, described as a Sicilian who quit saloonkeeping to wring tribute from his countrymen by torture and, after his conviction for extortion, became a pander.

Clemente was arrested in the summer of 1927 on complaint of one Dominick Russo, 231 South Racine avenue, who said Clemente and his band of seven had demanded tribute, burned the soles of his feet when he refused, and shot and stabbed him when he threatened to tell the police. Of Cerrito's story, Clemente was convicted and sentenced to nine months in the Bridewell.

As he was led away Clemente faced Cerrito and said: "I'll cut your throat for this."

On March 1, 1929, Clemente was sent to the Bridewell on a pandering charge and soon after his release last January he was arrested by government agents and is now held in the county jail for deportation.

IRON HAND RULE (GENUINE) WINS WIFE A DIVORCE

An artificial hand was offered in evidence before Superior Judge Lewis yesterday by John Korinek, proprietor of a roadhouse at 4038 South Oak Park avenue, Stickney, contesting an action for divorce brought by his wife, Mrs. Mae Korinek. Mrs. Korinek testified that her husband struck her repeatedly with his artificial hand.

Korinek unstrapped the hand and offered it to the judge to show that it could not inflict injury because it is made of cork. Mrs. Korinek charged that her husband has another artificial hand, made of iron, with which he struck her. The judge granted a decree allowing her $10 a week alimony and the custody of two children, Marion, 16 years old, and Mildred, 13.

Korinek is said to have lost his left hand in May of 1928 while he was a constable in Berwyn. He was shot in the hand in making his escape from a gambling house which was being held up, his wife said.

U. S. INDICTS 128 IN ARKANSAS ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Little Rock, Ark., March 4.—(AP)—The federal grand jury for the Eastern district of Arkansas late today reported 163 indictments, 128 of them for alleged liquor violations. The liquor indictments involved 147 persons in eighteen counties.

Most of the men live near Heber Springs, Ark. Some were arrested near Asheville, N. C., and others in Arizona and returned here to face the charges.

SENATOR STARR HAS FIST BATTLE WITH MOTORISTS

State Senator Harry W. Starr of 7434 Luella avenue fought a fistic battle with two young men who attacked him after a slight automobile accident in Michigan avenue last night and with the aid of policemen landed them in cells. The prisoners are Edward Lehtinen, 25 years old, and Elmer Peterson, 25, both of 925 Dakin street, both sheet metal workers.

Senator Starr was driving south in Michigan avenue when he was stopped by the traffic lights at the south end of the link bridge. As he waited there a car driven by Lehtinen, with Peterson as a passenger, struck the rear of the Starr machine, knocking off the bumper. As the senator stepped from his car Lehtinen swung his car alongside and the two young men became abusive, Starr said.

Starr, who is 51 years old, jumped on the running board of their car to remonstrate, and Peterson, who was nearest him, struck at him, he said. Lehtinen also leaned over to get in a blow and then started the machine slowly south in the avenue, with Starr and Peterson still scuffling. A hundred feet south of the bridge the commotion attracted the attention of Detective James Sullivan and his bureau squad. The policemen went to the senator's aid and took Lehtinen and Peterson into custody.

SEEK MILLIONS IN TAXES ON ESTATE OF HETTY GREEN

Rockingham, Vt., March 4.—(AP)—Little Rockingham, where the late Hetty Green, millionaire, maintained a home for many years, today moved to collect taxes that may aggregate millions of dollars upon the estate. Assembled in the largest town meeting in years, the voters unanimously instructed the listers to proceed to at once levy taxes upon the $67,000,000 estate which, it was said, for 40 years had not been taxed for more than $112,000.

Investigators for the state claim they have evidence that certain town officials entered into an agreement with Mrs. Green whereby she consented to remain a resident of Bellows Falls on condition that she be taxed not more than $12,000 real estate and $100,000 personal property.

Cops Help Victim Pursue Pickpockets; Capture Two

Coming to the aid of a victim who was pursuing three pickpockets down an alley near 66th street and Western avenue last night, Sergt. A. Klaske and his detective bureau squad captured Eddie Meehan, 26 years old, 5026 Oregon street, and George Nveau, 24 years old, 5610 Woodlawn avenue. Police say both have records.

40,000 WORKERS GET $8,444,718 IN OVERDUE PAY

Need $7,358,700 More in Rescue Campaign.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Overdue salaries amounting to $8,444,718 were paid to 40,000 school and city employés yesterday. During the day the citizens' rescue campaign came $3,665,500 closer to its goal of $74,000,000, the sum needed to assure public employés regular pay days until July 1, when tax collections are expected.

The drive to restore Chicago's credit, headed by Philip R. Clarke, president of the Central Trust company, is still $7,358,700 short of the needed $74,000,000. The $3,665,500 total of yesterday's subscriptions, headed by $500,000 from the Chase Securities company, was better than the subscriptions of the last three days, which were $2,816,000 on Monday, $2,676,300 on Saturday, and $2,945,000 on Friday.

Clarke Renews Appeal.

"It would make the task easier and shorten the effort," said Mr. Clarke last night, "if the business concerns and well to do individuals, who are sitting back and hoping that the campaign will be put over without their support, would come forward with substantial subscriptions tomorrow. I hope that many who have been holding off will send in their pledges tomorrow.

"Chicago must re-establish its own credit. Citizens and business concerns, by subscribing, tell the world they have faith in the soundness of Chicago. That should be done—and done quickly and impressively."

The pay day yesterday in the school board equaled the hilarity usually attendant upon a successful mayoralty campaign. City Treasurer Peterson cashed checks for seven hours at the approximate rate of $80,000 an hour.

It was announced last night that every one in the corporate city service had received his check. The police garnered in $1,365,270, the firemen $594,797 and other city employés got $1,663,568.

Others Get Pay Today.

Today $146,000 will be paid the employés of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium, the public library will receive $98,000 for its next pay roll. On the due dates $200,000 will be given the police pensioners and $85,000 to the fire pensioners.

The city employés had previously been paid to Jan. 15, and yesterday's checks squared accounts to Feb. 15. But school employés have been treated more harshly. Their last pay day was on Dec. 24. Yesterday checks were delivered to 19,014 school employés for an approximate total of $4,800,000. The 12,020 regular school teachers obtained $3,520,000, the 1,200 evening school teachers $90,000, the 1,600 substitute teachers $80,000, the 2,782 engineers, firemen, janitors, and scrub women $810,000, the 600 office employés $150,000, the 375 school clerks $75,000, and the 437 bath, bus, and lunchroom attendants also got $75,000.

Sanitary Pay Is Regular.

The school checks paid salaries to Feb. 15. On March 7 the teachers will have another pay day, when about $3,690,000 more will be due them. Other school employés had a payless pay day for $370,000 on Feb. 28.

The sanitary district has been paying regularly all year. The county on Monday paid all of its 3,853 employés up to Feb. 15 and has the cash to meet the March 1 pay roll, which will be paid as soon as the rolls are checked.

The Clarke organization, in addition to the $500,000 from the Chase Securities company, obtained $250,000 yesterday from the Yellow Cab company as the second highest subscription for the day. The cab company announced some time ago that it intended to purchase $200,000 of the city's 1930 tax anticipation warrants and $50,000 of the 1930 county warrants. By investing in the Taxpayers' trust, the Yellow Cab will get back—with nearly 6 per cent interest—a large part of its $250,000 a year earlier than if it had followed its original intention.

Other Large Subscriptions.

Three investment trusts subscribed for $200,000 each yesterday. These are the Central Illinois Securities, Chicago corporation, and the Continental Chicago corporation.

Harold E. McCormick and Cyrus H. McCormick wired Mr. Clarke subscriptions for $150,000 each. The American Brake Shoe and Foundry company took $75,000 and the following concerns $50,000 each: Norris & Kenly, Otis & Co., Newberry library, Automatic Electric, Inc.; Teletype corporation, and the Union Tank Car company.

12,000 OBTAIN HELP ON INCOME TAX AT TRIBUNE LOOP OFFICE

About 12,000 citizens have been aided by income tax experts in THE TRIBUNE Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street, since Jan. 6, the manager announced yesterday. Three deputy collectors of internal revenue have been stationed there by Collector Myrtle Tanner Blackliidge and a fourth will probably be added next week. The final day for filing returns is March 15.

During the past few days between 350 and 400 persons have been assisted in preparing their schedules by the experts. Monday's figure rose to 427 and an increase is anticipated each day until the close of the filing period. Last year more than 18,000 persons were served by the office.

ALDERMEN SHOUT DOWN LAWYER IN TAX REFUND CASE

Would Give Up $648,444 to Spare Mayor.

The city council judiciary committee was thrown into uproar yesterday in its discussion of the city's suit to recover $648,444 federal income taxes paid by four real estate experts. The administration majority on the committee for a time shouted down Attorney Jay A. Schiller, who had been retained to prosecute the city's claim in Washington.

The committee finally decided to postpone a decision until next Friday on whether it will recommend that the city proceed with the collection of the claim.

Claim Based on Expert Suit.

The city's claim is based on the fact that the $648,444 taxes were paid on incomes from experts' fees which were later pronounced illegal and ordered refunded to the city treasury in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S $2,000,000 judgment. In prosecuting the claim in Washington, Attorney Schiller referred to the Circuit court judgment in which Mayor Thompson was described as a conspirator in the illegal payment of the expert fees.

Because of this reference to the mayor, Corporation Counsel Ettelson recalled Schiller from the case. Schiller maintained that it was necessary to make a complete showing of illegal payments from the court records in order to sustain the city's claim to the $648,444 refund.

The administration aldermen under the leadership of Chairman Oscar Nelson [46th] aided by Frank Konkowski [31st] and William Feigenbutz [45th], repeatedly interrupted Schiller when he tried to answer questions defending his conduct of the suit. John A. Massen [48th] and Joseph C. Ross [40th] finally won the attorney a hearing by their plea for fair play.

Ross States Issue.

"At least the committee should let Schiller finish his statement," shouted Ross above the din. "He has been shut off every time he tried to talk. It isn't a question of whether Ettelson made a mistake in hiring him. It's a question of whether Ettelson stopped him from recovering money which is so desperately needed in the corporate fund."

"I was recalled in the midst of arguments and ordered to eliminate mention of the mayor in my brief," said Schiller. "Ettelson is disqualified from acting in this case because he represented the mayor as his personal counsel in the expert fee suit. The council can pass a resolution allowing me to proceed unhampered. That will serve notice on Ettelson not to interfere in the collection of this money."

The administration aldermen tried to end the discussion without giving Schiller a hearing.

QUIZ ASSESSORS ON FAILURE TO ASSESS FLATS

Two employés of the board of assessors were questioned yesterday at the state's attorney's office in reference to tax reductions on properties at 5550-5552 Kenmore avenue and 632 Deming place. Both places, according to reports, were valued only for land, although apartment buildings were built on them in time to have been valued under the 1928 reassessment.

The properties were assessed on the land value only by the board of review because of supposed recommendations from the board of assessors. The board of assessors employés questioned were Joseph P. Toale, in charge of the complaint department, and Oscar Nelson, formerly in charge of the building department.

Peter Hoey, secretary of the city building department also was summoned by the state's attorney to appear with records to determine if the dates by which the buildings were completed had been advanced on the records past the time when they would have been subject to assessment. Mr. Hoey said last night he failed to find any one at the Criminal courts to examine the records.

PREDICT INCREASED WATER COST IF CITY ADDS NEW BUREAU

The proposal of Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th] to create a new bureau in the department of public works was assailed yesterday by the Civic Federation of Chicago. According to the federation's bulletin, the proposed new "Bureau of Plumbing" will result in an increase in the cost of water to home owners.

"One of the chief effects of the ordinance apparently will be the creation of several new and probably fairly high priced jobs," said the federation bulletin. "While it is proposed to finance the cost of this bureau out of the water fund instead of out of property taxes the bill nevertheless will be paid just the same by the home owners and property owners of the community through ultimately increased water rates."

The proposed ordinance will be taken up by the council finance committee during the session on the 1930 water budget. The sessions are scheduled to start soon as the water budget must be passed by the council by March 31.

LIST PROPERTY FOR BOND OF GIRL CASHIER

Security for the bond of Miss Laverne Lindgren, indicted cashier of the People's State bank of Maywood, was presented to Assistant State's Attorney A. C. De Witt yesterday for approval. The latter said that he would first investigate the property scheduled by Miss Lindgren's mother to make sure that it was not purchased with money taken from the bank before he would accept it as bond.

The property was scheduled by Mrs. Hilda Lindgren of Riverside; John and Alma F. Chalstrom, 7931 Manistee avenue; Gustaf E. Bergen, 2050 South Park way, and Elmer Hedin, 9404 South May street.

Miss Lindgren will not surrender, it was reported, until the state's attorney has accepted her surety.

SENATE HEARS BOTH SIDES OF HOOVER 1ST YEAR

Harrison Raps, While Fess and Davis Laud.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 4.—[Special.]—Credit for averting an economic disaster of serious proportions was claimed for President Hoover today as defenders of his administration clashed with its critics on the first anniversary of his inauguration.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, following a cabinet meeting at which the industrial situation was discussed, asserted that as a result of the President's activities unemployment has been held to less than one-half that of previous financial crashes.

Before Secretary Davis issued his statement, it was rumored at the White House that President Hoover contemplated calling a conference on the unemployment situation.

Senator Simeon D. Fess [Rep., Ohio] made the President's efforts to combat business depression the high point in a lengthy review of the first year of the administration in a speech in the senate.

Harrison Is Sarcastic.

Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.] answered Senator Fess, challenging in sarcastic fashion the claims made on behalf of the President. The Mississippi senator stressed unsatisfactory conditions as an administration responsibility.

Secretary Davis replied to yesterday's speech by Senator R. F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.] assailing the administration in connection with unemployment.

He also took occasion to lecture the senate for dilatory tactics on legislation, observing that prompt passage of a protective tariff bill and also the public buildings bill, which has been passed by the house and is held up in the senate, would be the surest method of providing employment.

Lauds Administration.

"Senator Wagner makes a great show of indignation that the administration has not been able to overcome the whole of the terrific dislocation of business and consequent unemployment resulting from the stock crash in New York, the senator's home city," said Secretary Davis. "I admit there is distressing unemployment, but, for the first time in the history of these events, by its actions and policies, the administration has held unemployment to less than one-half that of previous crashes, and by the stabilization of wages and coöperation of the business world work is being provided in a way that should relieve most of this in the very near future.

Senator Fess paid high tribute to President Hoover's handling of the crisis.

"I regard the handling of the economic forces that were playing toward disaster by the President," said Senator Fess, "as the most outstanding single accomplishment in the history of government of which I have any knowledge on economic lines."

Senator Fess said he was not entirely sure that it was possible to avoid the cycles in business in which a high business level is followed by a depression.

"Have the Leader."

"If it can be done," continued the Ohio senator, "we have the leadership in the White House that will do it; for the President has been working on the problem eight years."

Senator Fess said he doubted whether there is an individual in America or Europe who has a better grasp of economic problems than the President.

In dealing with other features of the administration record during the year which ended at noon today Senator Fess discussed farm relief, the tariff, the naval armament conference, other international questions, and prohibition.

Asserting the farm board is laboring with a tremendous problem Senator Fess said if the Hoover appointees on this board cannot solve it "I cannot imagine an aggregation of men who can."

The administration, he said, has kept its pledge of farm relief. Defending the President for not interfering with tariff rates Senator Fess said if he had attempted to do so he would have been bitterly criticized by the same persons who now censure him for not doing so.

Senator Fess said the naval conference will not do any harm and that "if there is a possibility of obtaining parity and reduction this conference is likely to do it." Praising the President's diplomacy, Senator Fess referred to his trip to South America before his inauguration, his intervention in the dispute between Russia and China, his gradual withdrawal of marines from Nicaragua, and his espousal of the Kellogg peace pact.

Senator Fess said President Hoover is dealing with the prohibition question as "an item in his interest in a better social order." He described the personnel and work of the Wickersham law enforcement commission, and added his own view of the prohibition controversy.

Scoffs at Dry Repeal.

"Any one who thinks the 18th amendment to the Constitution will ever be modified has no conception of how reform moves," said Senator Fess. "There will be changes in the Volstead act, but the changes will be in the interest of its better enforcement. The country is stronger for prohibition today than it was last year, and it will be stronger next year than it is this year."

Senator Harrison said he wished to congratulate Senator Fess "on his audacity and nerve in speaking explanations of the misachievements of the administrtaion during the last year."

"If the failure to solve big problems is an achievement, then this administration for the last year is a success," said Senator Harrison. "If disgusting the farmers of the land is an achievement, then this administration is a success. If dissatisfying labor is an achievement, then this administration is a success.

"If indecision upon the part of a President is an achievement, then President Hoover's first year is a great success."

Hundreds of Thousands Of Wise Americans Demand Kruschen Salts

Keeps you in good health all the time—skin clear and body free from fat.

Just think of it: these new, better and different salts were only introduced into America a few months ago—yet a host of intelligent Americans are healthier and happier because of their supreme goodness.

Kruschen Salts are the daily health dose of millions of people the world over—they are the largest selling medicinal salts in Great Britain.

One half teaspoon of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning gently but surely stimulates the liver, bowels and kidneys to healthy elimination.

But the six vitalizing and rejuvenating salts in Kruschen do more than cause regular elimination—the man or woman who takes them regularly need have no fear of poisons polluting the system which is the cause of many annoying and depressing ills.

One bottle of Kruschen Salts (lasts 4 weeks) costs but 85c and one bottle will prove of vast benefit to people who have constipation, headaches, indigestion, nervousness, rheumatism, depression, acidity and auto-intoxication.

Not only that but one bottle will bring about body activity—increase in energy, vigor and ambition, sparkling eyes and freedom from pimples and blemishes—millions know all this—you ought to know it.

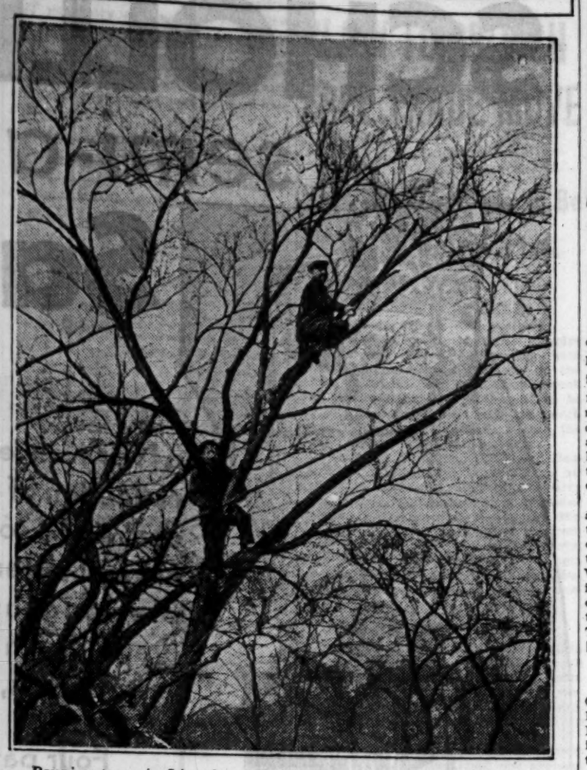
PREPARE PARK FOR SPRING



Pruning trees in Lincoln park as milder weather returns to city.

Winter to Return

Spring held the upper hand yesterday in the combat of the seasons, but the weather man predicted that waning winter would better its position today, if only slightly.

Forecaster C. A. Donnel announced the wind would veer from southwest to northwest this morning, causing partial cloudiness, and that the temperature would be somewhat colder in consequence. The maximum, he forecast, would be no more than 40 degrees.

The southwest wind and some sunshine coaxed the temperature from a minimum of 23 degrees at sunrise yesterday to an agreeable 43 degrees at 3 p. m., an altitude which was sustained for three hours.

Robins are returning in flocks, according to reports from suburbanites. In Lincoln park the gardeners sallied forth to prune dead branches from the trees in which the sap was rising, while in Jackson park policemen were lined up by Capt. Timothy Howard for inspection of their lightweight uniforms.

Byfield's $100,000 Estate Left to Two Brothers

The will of Eugene V. Byfield, vice president of the Hotel Sherman, was filed yesterday before Edward S. Scheffler, assistant to Probate Judge Horner. It leaves his entire estate, estimated at $100,000, to two brothers, Ernest L. and Albert H. Byfield. Mr. Byfield died on Feb. 24 of injuries incurred when he was thrown from a pony during a practice game of polo at the Chicago Riding club.

IRATE LOBBYISTS TO KEEP FIGHTING FOR OIL TARIFFF

Ask Inquisitors to View Opponents' Activities.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 4.—[Special.]—Angry and resentful oil tariff lobbyists, smarting under their defeat in the senate last Friday, today served notice on the lobby investigating committee that the fight for a $1 a barrel duty on crude oil will be continued and challenged the investigators to look into the activities of lobbyists for the Standard, Gulf, and other interests opposing the proposed tariff.

Not content with having frightened a timid senate majority out of line for the oil amendment Friday by an eleventh hour "expose" of vote trading, the lobby committee today recalled Wirt Franklin of Ardmore, Okla., president of the Independent Oil Producers of America, for another grilling. This time, however, both Senators Elmer Thomas [Dem., Okla.] and W. B. Pine [Rep., Okla.] were present.

Thomas Defends Witness.

Unabashed by the appearance of the Oklahoma senators, Senator J. J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.] prodded away at Franklin for two hours, finally refusing the latter the right to read into the committee's record a prepared statement outlining the plight of the independent oil industry, menaced, he contends, by the operations of oil importers.

Furious at the treatment accorded Franklin, Senator Thomas leaped to his feet and, after announcing that he would immediately reintroduce his $1 a barrel oil tariff amendment, declared he would read the rejected statement on the senate floor and "have considerable to say at the same time about the shabby treatment meted to reputable gentlemen."

A few minutes later it was announced that the committee's plan to resume its inquiry into the Muscle Shoals lobby tomorrow had been changed and a summons for the appearance of Philip P. Campbell, Washington lawyer, had been issued. Campbell, a member of the house from Kansas from 1903 to 1923, was identified in a letter to Franklin as the capital lobbyist for "the oil company" (according to Franklin the Standard Oil company), and the same letter mentioned Frank W. Mondell, former majority leader in the house, as "a high pressure lobbyist."

Voices Confidence in G. O. P.

Franklin denied that a proposal made by one of the independents to send agents to Venezuela and other South American oil producing countries to secure the imposition of an export tax on crude oil, if the senate refused to place a duty on imports in the pending bill, was ever considered seriously. He freely admitted having consulted Vice President Curtis, Senators James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], senate majority leader, and Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the finance committee, alone and with delegations.

"You were trying to get Curtis to carry out his pledge in his Oklahoma campaign speeches to secure a tariff on oils?" asked Blaine.

"I am sure the Republican party will carry out its pledges without interference from us," retorted Franklin, adding that the Vice President, stumping Oklahoma in 1928, promised an oil tariff in every speech.

ADMITS SLAYING WOMAN FOR HER MATE FOR $65

Anthony, Kas., March 4.—[Special.]—In a signed confession, James Strutton, 24, said today that he slew Mrs. Ben Turner for an agreed price of $100. Her husband hired him, he declared, but paid only .65 down and has refused to pay the balance.

Mrs. Turner, who was prominent in local social circles, was found dead in her home last Wednesday. She had been beaten, choked and shot several times. Both Strutton and Turner were charged tonight with the murder, but the widower, who is superintendent of an ice and salt company, still maintains that he is innocent.

Strutton's confession was obtained after Mrs. Della Barkley of Wichita, Kas., read about the crime in the newspapers and informed officers that four years ago Turner wanted to elope with her and suggested that she hire a gunman to dispose of his wife. Investigation revealed that he had since told several other persons he could not live with his wife and offered to pay any one who would kill her.

The confession made by Strutton today indicates that Turner had planned to wed another woman when he made arrangements for the murder with Strutton, who worked for him at the ice and salt company plant.

Mrs. Barkley's story, as pieced together now, is that he proposed that she send some one to murder his wife, allow him to surprise the killer in the act, capture him in a heroic fashion and pay the $100 to her rather than to the actual slayer.

She has refused to have anything to do with him, she has told officers, since he made that proposition.

SIX DEFENDANTS DENY CHARGES IN LOFTUS TRIAL

All six defendants remaining in the trial of John W. Loftus, former police lieutenant, and eight others indicted on charges of handling stolen automobiles in violation of the Dyer act, took the witness stand in Federal Judge Woodward's court yesterday and denied the allegations against them.

Loftus admitted selling an automobile to Policeman Mathew Brennan, but claimed that he had bought it from the E. & P. Motor Sales company at 1452 South Michigan boulevard in 1926 and that he did not know it was stolen.

The defense rested yesterday afternoon, and it is expected that the case will go to the jury at noon today.

ALICE ASTOR'S NOBLE HUSBAND TAKES A JOB

New York, March 4.—[Special.]—Work having come into fashion with the growing element of European nobility now sojourning on this side of the Atlantic, Prince Serge Obolensky has entered the employment of the Chase National bank in "a clerical capacity," it developed today. He has been asisgned to the cashier's department of the bank.

The prince is the husband of the former Alice Muriel Astor, daughter of Lady Ribblesdale, first wife of Col. John Jacob Astor. She is a sister of Vincent Astor.

The prince is an Oxford graduate and during the war won the cross of St. George for heroism under fire.

CHANCE FOR SEA PARITY GONE; U.S. TRIES TO BURY IT

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 4.—Naval parity and reduction went overboard with a splash at the London conference today. The American delegation, it was disclosed, has abandoned its effort to obtain by 1935 even such an approach to Anglo-American parity as represented by Secretary of State Stimson's proposals, and also has given up hope of procuring any such general reduction of armaments as President Hoover bade his envoys bring back.

This revelation followed hard upon reports of speeches in the United States senate yesterday demanding both parity and a reduction at the London conference. With parity gone glimmering, it now appears that the only reduction in armaments in prospect will be on the part of the United States.

A Long and Sad Tale.

The sacrifice of parity is a long, sad tale. To begin with, parity of American and British sea power is impossible so long as Great Britain is possessed of a vast merchant marine, including 227 ships, as compared to America's 70, capable of mounting six inch guns, and 27 outlying naval bases, as compared to America's seven, from which to operate small cruisers with a short steaming radius.

The fleet parity, however, proposed by the British admiralty in 1920 and the American navy general board later, calculated that approximate parity be established on the basis of thirty-three 10,000 ton eight inch gun cruisers for the United States and less than twenty for Great Britain.

Coolidge Rejects Geneva Offer.

The British at the Geneva conference of 1927 proposed fifteen big cruisers each for America and Great Britain. Because America would be left short of parity without a preponderance of big cruisers, former President Coolidge rejected these terms and the conference failed.

Congress then voted a big cruiser building program, but held the total number down to 23. President Hoover, in his negotiations with Prime Minister MacDonald, came down to 21 on the theory that with Great Britain limited to 15, an American preponderance of six would establish approximate fleet parity.

Stimson Lowers U. S. Demands.

After reaching London, Secretary Stimson, with the approval of the other American delegates and President Hoover, proposed a plan which would reduce the American preponderance in eight inch gun cruisers to three, or wipe it out altogether under given conditions. America would have 18 and Great Britain 15, but Great Britain could elect to have 18 and America 15. That was parity's last gasp.

It is now receiving a more or less decent burial in Senator David A. Reed's conditional acceptance of the Japanese cruiser terms, by which America is to have no more than 15 eight inch gun cruisers during the period of the treaty. Great Britain already has 15 built or building.

The hitch in the negotiations now is over Senator Reed's condition that in exchange for this concession Japan withdraw its demand for the limitation of the size of six inch gun cruisers to 6,000 or 7,000 tons.

NAVAL PARLEY REOPENS; HEARS EXPERTS' REPORT

France Represented by an Observer.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 4.—The five power naval conference swung into action again today when the heads of the delegations met at St. James' palace to resume the work which had been interrupted for more than two weeks by the French political crisis.

France was represented by M. A. de Fleuriau, ambassador to London, who sat as an observer but took no part in the proceedings. Prime Minister MacDonald and A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, represented Great Britain; America was represented by Ambassador Hugh Gibson and J. Theodore Marriner, Secretary of State Stimson being confined to his room at Stanmore by a cold. Dino Grandi of Italy, and Reijuro Wakatsuki of Japan, made up the rest of the meeting, which sat for a couple of hours.

Consider Category Report.

The meeting took up the report of the subcommittee of experts on categories. After some discussion the report was referred to the first committee for detailed criticism. The first committee is only another name for the full conference sitting as a committee of the whole and it has been summoned to meet Thursday at 10:30 a. m. That its deliberations are expected to be short is shown from the fact that the heads of the delegations have arranged to meet Friday morning to receive its report.

It is hoped that at this time the official French representative may be present, but, if not, the conference will go on anyway. Rene Massigli, the French expert, who has been in charge of most of the French case before the conference, is now in Paris conferring with Premier Tardieu. It is expected that if M. Tardieu gets his majority in the chamber of deputies tomorrow, M. Massigli will be able to appear in London Thursday with instructions.

Take Up Submarines Today.

Tomorrow morning the experts' subcommittee will meet to begin consideration of the submarine question. It will devote itself first to a study of the unitary tonnage of submarines, leaving until later the legal and political questions which are involved in the "humanization" of the submarine. These questions entail wide implications, and may cause a lot of trouble.

In the house of commons today Herbert Samuel, Liberal leader, asked the prime minister whether, in connection with the outlawry of submarine attacks against merchant ships, similar action will be taken regarding air attacks. Mr. MacDonald replied that he would consider the suggestion, but could not guarantee that it would be discussed by the present conference.

J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal and minister for unemployment, was also questioned today about the report of the engineers on the channel tunnel scheme, which, it has been reported from French headquarters, might, if adopted, influence the French to reduce their naval demands. The basis of this theory is that the British would be compelled, for strategic reasons, to defend France against any power which might threaten to seize the French end of the tunnel.

Mr. Thomas said that the report had been completed, but that the government had not yet had time to consider it. He promised that it would be considered as soon as possible, but refused to say whether the report is favorable to the tunnel or not.

It is understood that this committee, like others which have investigated the tunnel possibilities over many years, is divided on the question.

Because George V., Not George III., Rules.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 4.—"The Americans have discovered that George V. is on the throne and not George III."

Summing up the reasons for the improvement in America's attitude toward Great Britain, Sir Esme Howard, former ambassador to Washington, made this declaration at the Pilgrims society's banquet tonight, at which he was the chief guest. Many of the American naval delegation were also present.

"Ancient Grudge Dying."

"I am convinced," declared Sir Esme, "after my six years' sojourn in the United States, that the 'ancient grudge' which lived on so long is really dying."

Sir Esme insisted that the Irish settlement—which had taken Irish affairs out of American politics—and the settlement of Great Britain's debt to America chiefly contributed to this growing friendship and trust. Considering what war credits meant to Great Britain at the time, and that without them Great Britain could not have carried on the war and must almost inevitably have suffered defeat, "the debt was cheap at the price."

Dawes Pays Tribute.

American Ambassador Dawes paid high tribute to Sir Esme's services in America. He said that once in a while he found a Briton who assumed that the virtues of the Americans are a result of heredity and their faults the result of environment. Occasionally an American assumed the reverse of this as to the British.

But then, said Ambassador Dawes, that is only a friendly difference, because it was the Briton excusing the faults of the Americans by their environment, and the American excusing the faults of the British by their

New Envoy Makes Pledge.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, the new British ambassador to Washington, proposing a toast to the chairman, Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson, declared that he fully realized the importance of his new post at Washington and that he is quite prepared, in discharging his duties, to give every ounce of his strength.

WINS ANOTHER FLYING RECORD FOR AMERICA

New York, March 4.—[Special.]—Another world record, the third within a month, was wrested from the flyers of foreign lands and added to the laurels of American aviation today when Capt. Boris Sergievsky in a Sikorsky seaplane, carried 2,000 kilograms [4,409.24 pounds] to an unofficial altitude of 19,500 feet and back in one hour and twenty-four minutes at North Beach, Queens, L. I.

Maj. Luke Christopher, official observer of the National Aeronautical association, said that markings on the instrument chart indicated that the record had been broken, but that the official altitude will not be announced until the sealed barograph has been calibrated by the authorities in Washington within the next few days.

Today's record is but one of four which Sergievsky is to attempt this week. As chief pilot of the Sikorsky Aviation corportion of Bridgeport, Conn., he is to endeavor to bring the records for speed and altitude with 1,000 and 2,000 kilogram loads to this country.

Dry Agents Raid Brewery; Seize Beer and Equipment

A fully equipped brewery at 739 Orleans street, valued at $10,000 and capable of producing more than 100 barrels of beer a week, was raided yesterday by federal dry agents, who seized a truck loaded with 18 barrels of bottled beer. The drys destroyed 12,000 gallons of mash and confiscated motors, bottling equipment and two 1,000 gallon carbonating tanks. The operators of the brewery, who were loading beer on the truck, escaped before the raiders entered the building.

CHARGES SCHOOL TRUSTEES BLOCK AIRPORT GROWTH

Commission Urges Bond Issue Be Withdrawn.

Aurora Goes Ahead

Aurora, Ill., March 4.—[Special.]—So that the Aurora airport may be made an emergency terminal for coast to coast air traffic that stops at Chicago, the port is to be enlarged and equipped with all modern facilities, business men decided in a meeting today. As a preliminary step, a park district will be formed which will include the airport. This will make the port a municipal enterprise. A training school for flyers and aviation mechanics will be established.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

At the close of a lively session yesterday the Chicago aero commission dispatched a resolution to the city council charging the board of education with blocking Chicago's progress in aviation and requesting that the council withdraw the $450,000 airport bond issue from the April ballot.

The commission expressed the opinion that the bond issue is illegal, and declared that such an investment would be unwise because of the short term lease which the city now holds for the municipal airport property at 63d street and Cicero avenue. The property is leased from the school board.

"We cannot honestly go before the people and recommend the passage of this bond issue, knowing that the lease on the present field expires in six years," said M. C. Meigs, acting chairman of the commission. "Any large expenditure will be impossible until the obstinacy of the obstructionists in the school board is overcome so that we can get a long term lease. We are blocked on every move. Our hands are tied."

Airport Called Inadequate.

"The Chicago Municipal airport is now inadequate and hazardous, due to the failure to provide funds for development and maintenance," the aero commission's resolution declared. "The funds cannot properly be made available because the board of education has completely failed to meet the city on any reasonable plan for rental or title transfer of the land involved, although the city has offered rentals three times as large as the city has before paid. The board of education is now considering a counter proposal containing an unreasonable and exorbitant revaluation clause."

The resolution warned Chicago citizens that "a continuance of the obstructive attitude of those members of the board of education who have opposed a sane, fair settlement of this vital transportation problem will hazard the future of aviation in Chicago and the prosperity of every citizen."

Two Trustees Mentioned.

While the opponents of the city's proposal were not specifically named in the resolution, the names of Mrs. Helen Hefferan and James Mullenbach were frequently mentioned as school trustees known to oppose the measure. Ald. A. J. Horan, a member of the commission, pointed to the repeated delays in negotiations and questioned the sincerity of H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the school board, in supporting the property transfer.

Mr. Meigs reported a conversation with President Caldwell yesterday in which Caldwell said that because of many legal phases involved the recommendation of the school board's committee on buildings and grounds had been submitted to the board's legal staff. If these matters are settled by March 12, the next meeting date of the board, action may be taken at that time, Caldwell said, according to Meigs.

City and School Proposals.

The city, through Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe, has requested a 99 year lease on 600 acres of the school property at Clearing, of which 120 acres are now used by the air field. The city has tentatively offered $20 an acre per year. The counter offer of the school buildings and grounds committee calls for a 50 year lease with a revaluation at the end of 20 years and a half share in the profits of the airport.

Walter W. Wright, who directs the affairs of the airport for the city, said the city council would never accept the school terms, pointing out that at the end of 20 years the city would be required to pay approximately $300,000 annually in rental to the school board. He characterized the offer as ridiculous.

Mr. Wright reported that in the four years of the airport's existence the city has spent only $325,000 for its improvement. Much of this has been expended for maintenance, he said.

From Cook Islands, So. Pacific

Aitutaki or Ailutaki is a small island in the Cook group of the southern Pacific ocean. It is about 9 miles long, hilly and fertile, and is ringed by coral reefs making excellent anchorage for small vessels. Mr. Kenyon, who sent in this prize winning envelope, says it came from A. McKenzie, one of the four white officials on the island, who described Aitutaki as follows:

"The island is inhabited largely by Polynesians and white traders who have intermarried with the natives. No Chinese or Japanese are allowed in the island and white people are not allowed to own land, as the island is purely for the natives. The Cook group was discovered by Capt. Cook and is now governed by New Zealand, although New Zealand is about two thousand miles away."

BALDWIN DEALS BLOW TO BRITISH FREE TRADE MOVE

Says Dominions Would Be Sure to Refuse Plan.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 4.—The Empire Free Trade party, announced with loud alarums in that portion of the press controlled by Lords Beaverbrook and Rothermere, seems tonight to be ready to climb down from its perch and take a place of safety within the fold of the Conservative party.

There is a likelihood that Lord Beaverbrook will suddenly abandon his attempt to form an independent party as a result of former Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's address at the Hotel Cecil this morning before the central council of the Conservative party, in which he refrained even from mentioning the new party by name, but declared he was opposed to a considerable portion of its principles.

Move May Fall into Discard.

Taking refuge, however, in certain statements in Mr. Baldwin's speech which approximated the general principles of the new party, the Beaverbrook press tonight hailed Mr. Baldwin's attitude as being identical to that of the new party.

Thus the empire free trade movement, which perhaps had not aroused quite as enthusiastic support as the section of the press which started it was attributing to it, probably will slip gracefully into the discard, unless Lord Rothermere, deserted by the party's founder, attempts to carry on the idea alone.

Mr. Baldwin reiterated the thesis that the policy of safeguarding certain selected industries was preferable to general protection. He made it plain that the empire party's program of building high tariff walls all around the empire with free trade within does not appeal to him.

Asks Food Tariff Referendum.

The idea of a tariff on food always was opposed by British public opinion, Mr. Baldwin insisted, and such a tariff will only be applied after a referendum of the people, which would permit the nation to accept such a tariff on its own merits without having to accept or reject with it all the planks of the political program.

He also pointed out that the dominions and other constituent parts of the empire are not content to be the tail wagged by the British dog, thus bringing up the weakest point of the Empire Free Trade party's program.

"Safeguarding will give us all we want," Mr. Baldwin said. "It gives us a weapon for restoration at home and a weapon for negotiation, and it may well be we may find it useful as a weapon for retaliation." This sentence has considerable significance for the United States.

SENATOR ROBINSON TO TRY TO BRING BACK WRIGHT'S AIRPLANE

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 4.—Senator Joseph T. Robinson of the American naval delegation here, a regent of the Smithsonian institution, expects, on his return to the United States, to confer with Orville Wright on the proposal to bring back to the United States the first heavier than air machine flown at Kitty Hawk, N. C., by the Wright brothers. It now is in a museum in London.

Mr. Wright sent the machine to England after a controversy involving officials of the Smithsonian institution. The latter, Mr. Wright asserted, sought to make it appear that Samuel P. Langley and not the Wright brothers was the first to solve the problem of heavier than air navigation.

Senator Robinson said tonight he would enlist Mr. Wright's aid to return the plane to America.

SAYS REDS PLAN TO BOMB UTILITY CABLES IN CITY

Learning from secret sources that attempts may be made by communists to explode bombs in manholes housing cables and pipes of public utilities, Deputy Police Commissioner John Stege yesterday issued orders to all detective bureau squads to arrest any suspicious persons seen loitering around manholes. The precaution will be taken especially tomorrow, when an international demonstration of Reds is planned.

Although no demonstration of importance is expected in Chicago tomorrow, Deputy Stege said that he had been informed that Chicago communists were planning a parade of children of school age. He asserted that any attempt of that nature would result in the arrest of the leaders on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Lieut. George Barker and his squad yesterday raided the communist headquarters at 2021 West Division street and arrested several men and one woman, Alma Polkoff, 1633 West Jackson boulevard. Miss Polkoff asserted that she was a worker for the Food Workers' Industrial union, a radical organization. She told the police that she had been recently expelled by the American Federation of Labor for her communist activities.

Prof. Kaye's Will Leaves Evanston Woman $40,000

Mrs. Kathleen Carmen Dodge, 721 Foster street, Evanston, has been bequeathed a life interest in $40,000 by the late Prof. Frederick B. Friends at Mrs. Dodge's home last night said she was in Boston. Prof. Kaye had been a friend of her family for years, they stated.

G. O. P. IN INDIANA FACES OLD FIGHT OF INTOLERANCE

Radical Drys Battle for Supreme Court Rule.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., March 4.—[Special.]—Whether Indiana drys can influence the nomination of Republican candidates for judge of the Supreme court at the state G. O. P. convention on June 5 is a question that is already being agitated in the state.

The Anti-Saloon league, the W. C. T. U., remnants of the klan and other habitual dry organizations are showing evidence of designs on the Supreme court, and Arthur L. Gilliom, former attorney general, who fought the issue openly once before, has again put the question, "Where do you stand?" squarely up to the Republicans.

Mr. Gilliom has dragged the issue out into the open in a letter to Elza Rogers, Republican state chairman. As a result the Republican leaders are confronted with this embarrassing situation as they go into a spring campaign for state, county, and township offices for the first time in years admitting they are genuinely menaced by the Democrats.

Democrats Organizing.

Indiana is generally conceded to be on the fence politically in state elections. The Democrats in November won the mayoralty in sixty-nine out of eighty towns and cities in the state, and they have started building a more formidable state-wide organization by welding these winners into the newly formed Democratic mayors' committee of Indiana.

The fight of the dry forces to control the choice of Republican nominees for the Supreme bench revolves around the renomination of Justice Benjamin F. Willoughby in the First district. Judge Willoughby has been on the bench for twelve years. Gilliom, who won national fame while in office by his attacks on dry fanaticism and religious intolerants, charges that the drys are out to defeat Willoughby—first, because he has consistently refused to reconcile court decisions to dry views, and, second, because the drys want to seat Supreme court judges who will be favorable to the "cause."

Fight Centers on Willoughby.

Gilliom's letter to Rogers and a decision by the Republican state committee to nominate the candidates for judges of the Supreme and Appellate courts at the first of the convention instead of at the last—these have so emphasized the battle for the judgeships, particularly that of Willoughby, that they overshadow the makeup of the remainder of the state ticket.

Thus, attention is focused on Willoughby, although there are to be elected one other Supreme court judge, four Appellate court judges, several state officials, thirteen congressmen, 100 representatives, and twenty-five state senators, besides county and township officials. Candidates for state offices and the judgeships will be nominated in the convention, June 5. The other candidates will be nominated at the primary in May.

Justice Willoughby has the reputation of hewing close to the constitution and statutes. He has been the storm center in the battle waged in Indiana between the fanatical drys and those with more liberal views. The judge is a teetotaler himself, but some of his decisions have wrecked pet measures of the drys and the Anti-Saloon leaguers have tabbed him a wet.

Republicans Warned.

The Anti-Saloon league so far has not endorsed any candidate for the high bench, and Gilliom's letter to Chairman warns the Republican leaders not to be duped by the wet and dry issue into voting against the candidacy of Judge Willoughby.

"Judge Willoughby," says Mr. Gilliom, "has steadfastly protected the rights of the humblest citizens as guaranteed by the constitution against all onslaughts coming before him as a judge.

"The issue at the convention in respect to this nomination will be whether a Republican judge who has thus enforced the constitution shall be repudiated by his party at the sole behest of outside leaders of fanaticism who demand the abridgment of fundamental rights of the individual whenever those rights stand in the way of their will for tyranny.

"There is no issue of wet or dry involved. The underlying issue is between individual freedom and the excesses of fanaticism and tyranny which include unusual searches and interference with the use of alcoholic medicine in the sickroom."

The Republican leaders are worried over the whole matter. They wish Gilliom had let it rest under the surface, where it was.

HOUSE VOTES TO GIVE VETERANS MORE TIME TO ASK COMPENSATION

Washington, D. C., March 4.—(AP)—The Hawley bill to extend for five years the period in which world war veterans may apply for adjusted compensation was passed today by the house and sent to the senate.

The time limit for such applications expired last Jan. 2, and it was estimated that some 450,000 veterans had not applied for adjusted compensation benefits.

The measure also would extend from seven to eight years the period in which dependents of veterans could apply in presumption of death cases.

RAIDER PROUDLY TELLS COURT OF HIS RUM BRIBES

Judge Rebukes Witness in Indiana Trial.

South Bend, Ind., March 4.—[Special.]—The confessions of a La Porte county dry raider who boasted that he lined his own pockets at the same time that he was supposed to be enforcing the Indiana prohibition laws astounded spectators in the court of Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell this afternoon and drew a severe rebuke from the judge.

The raider is Alva A. Ellis, a constable of La Porte county, who is now awaiting sentence on a plea of guilty in a liquor conspiracy case. Ellis took the stand as a government witness in the second trial of Richard Kruse, former police chief of Michigan City; Joseph Allie, former dry agent, and five other Michigan City men charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Tells Prideful Story.

Characterized by Judge Baltzell as one who "got them coming and going," Ellis related his story with apparent pride. He told how he would raid a roadhouse in the name of the law, and almost within an hour would visit another place and collect a bribe for leaving its proprietor in peace. These payments, the witness said, ranged from $25 to $225 and were obtained from bootleggers, roadhouse owners, and keepers of disorderly houses in Michigan City and other places in La Porte county.

Once during the afternoon Ellis was accused by W. W. Bozart, prosecutor of Porter county, of having plotted to plant a quantity of liquor in the automobile of Frank Lapham, a former deputy sheriff. Lapham, Ellis had testified, was at one time his partner in the protection racket, but had broken with him.

The witness' reply to Bozart's accusation was quick.

"No, sir," he said; "if there had been any liquor around to plant in anybody's automobile I would have drunk it first."

This was one statement that brought down upon Ellis a rebuke from Judge Baltzell. The judge, apparently angry, rapped on the bench with his pencil.

"I don't like an officer like that," he said. "I would not be a bit surprised if you would do a thing like that."

Judge Baltzell also showed surprise when John Smith, a dry agent during the time the alleged Michigan City conspiracy took place, told of buying from eight to ten drinks at each roadhouse, where he went.

"Why did you buy so much liquor?"

"To quiet the suspicions of the owner of the place," Smith replied.

In his opening statement today Deputy United States Attorney George L. Rullison told the jury that he would prove that the alleged Michigan City conspiracy started in 1924 and that George and Herman West, alleged bootleggers, made contracts with former Police Chief Kruse and Allie. The five others on trial are Bud Lapham, Frank Arndt, Louis Mazzia, Peter Ofcharchak, and Joseph Cardona. The jury at their first trial was unable to agree.

GERMAN FASCISTI AND REDS ORDER RIOTS TOMORROW

All Police Reserves Are Called Out.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 4.—The entire police reserves of Germany are being mobilized for March 6, when both communists and Fascisti intend to demonstrate. Hunger marches have been ordered by the communists, while the Fascists are calling on their followers to demonstrate against the "slavery of the Young plan and Red chaos."

The communists chose Bavaria for their chief meeting ground, but this afternoon the Bavarian government prohibited demonstrations and open air meetings. In Ruesselsheim, headquarters of the Opel-General Motors works, communists are working for revenge against the "American Fascisti and police cossacks" after they failed to put over a general strike in February.

In Dusseldorf communist representatives from Germany, France, Holland, and from Russia's "West European bureau of the Communist Internationale" are meeting to prepare an international demonstration against unemployment on March 6. They have issued instructions to Red workers' councils in factories to organize "revolutionary strikes."

MacDonald Is Quizzed.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 4.—Stanley Baldwin, former British prime minister, today attempted to draw the government into a delicate position regarding the recent order forbidding army and navy chaplains to join in the intercessory services for the Christians in Russia. He asked if the government would prohibit or permit intercessory prayers in all churches where members of the British military forces were present.

Prime Minister MacDonald, however, made it plain that the government does not intend to interfere in the matter of private conscience, but is only anxious that government officials do not join in a movement which might have political repercussions. He said there is no compulsion for attending regulation services on March 16, and that the soldiers and sailors are free to go to churches where the special services are held if they desire.

Bishop Tells of Persecutions.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COPENHAGEN, March 4.—Dr. Raymond J. Wade, bishop of the Methodist church in Scandinavia, the Baltic, and Russia, passed through Copenhagen today on his way to the annual conference in the United States.

"I was in Russia last November," he said. "I do not believe any one who has been in Russia recently doubts that the churches are being pursued and persecuted. It is forbidden to educate minors in religion, but I want to state that behind the religious conflicts the present Russian government is working for high ideals which, in my opinion, cannot succeed without the help of religion."

New Soviet Development Plan.

MOSCOW, March 4.—(AP)—Under a new plan for the development of the soviet union's national resources completed today, soviet Russia, within ten years, would have a total industrial and agricultural output three times greater than the United States and nineteen times greater than its own present production.

Within that period, Russia's agricultural production alone is envisaged at $37,000,000,000 and within fifteen years at $65,000,000,000.

Under this plan, which is based upon the principle "to catch up with and surpass capitalistic countries both in quality and quantity of production," soviet Russia by 1940 is to have reached America's level in technical, mechanical and industrial equipment.

20,000,000 Automobiles.

Russia within a decade, the plan says, is to have 20,000,000 automobiles and 2,500,000 tractors, while within fifteen years the country is to have 30,000,000 automobiles and 3,500,000 tractors.

Special attention is given in the new plan to establishment of new economic regions and so-called "energy areas" which abound in waterways justifying the erection of huge superpower plants to supply the country with electrical energy. Sakhalin island is declared to have enormous supplies of oil and coal which are to be developed under the plan to a point where its output of fuel will be twice as great as that of the Donetz coal basin.

The plan also calls for the Ural mountains to become the backbone of the country, supplying most of Russia's needs in iron, copper, zinc and other widely used metals.

TOM MIX.

Hollywood, Cal., March 4. — [Special.]—Tom Mix, resplendent cow boy of the movie screen and circus ring, appeared as defendant before Federal Judge William P. James today and dug up $177,420 for the government to wipe out charges against him of improper income tax returns covering 1925, 1926, and 1927.

Mix also is under federal grand jury indictment on two other counts, which accuse him of conspiracy to evade tax payment. Two of his former employés also were indicted as asserted co-conspirators. These indictments may be dismissed. Of the sum paid by Mix $3,000 was assessed against him in fines.

MOTHERS GUARD YOUNG AS WILD CATS ROAM TOWN

Provincetown, Mass., March 4.—[Special.]—Wild cats, once domestic pets, but turned primitive after being cast out to shift for themselves by summer vacationists, roam the woods and dunes outside this town with all the ferocity and cunning of their panther kind. Mothers are forbidding children to enter the wilderness for fear they will be attacked. Armed men, with dogs, are stalking the fierce animals. About 1,000 stray cats, it is estimated, now roam the streets and backyards in Provincetown. They are slaughtering birds and rabbits and other small life.

REDS INFLAME 14,000 MANILA STUDENT RIOTERS

Strikers and Police Hurt in New Clash.

BY FORD WILKINS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANILA, March 4.—The red hand of communism made its first public appearance in Manila today in connection with the general rebellion of 14,000 high school students, who refuse to attend classes and are participating in serious rioting as the result of alleged insults by an American teacher, Miss Mabel Brummitt.

The strike has been continued on the demand that four students, who were expelled, be reinstated. All police reserves were called out tonight because of the fighting.

Several students and two policemen were badly injured. One student was knifed. A girl was stripped of her clothing and trampled by the mob on the North High school grounds, while one police sergeant was beaten up.

Reds Address 3,000 Students.

Communist agitators, long known to have been semi-active in a quiet way, today openly addressed 3,000 students in the walled city for the purpose of "protecting the rights of the Filipino students, trampled upon by foreigners, whom we are feeding, and who do not know how to appreciate the hospitality of our people."

It is estimated by reliable sources that 10,000 Filipinos have been converted to the cause of communism during the last three years. At least 20 of the agitators who have direct connections with Moscow are known to be working in the Philippines.

Following the Red talks threats of lynching Alejandro Albert, acting secretary of public instruction, and Luther B. Bewley, high school principal, were heard as the angry students surged about the school grounds. They have demanded the dismissal of the two men.

Word "Imbeciles" Blamed.

Miss Brummitt recently was dismissed after students went on a strike, alleging she called them "imbeciles." She denied the remark, was fired, but the strikers refused to return to school.

Police Chief Columbus E. Piatt, though declaring there is no serious danger, is taking every precaution against general rioting.

SORORITY GIRLS' CLOTHES STOLEN BY A PROWLER

Champaign, Ill., March 4.—(AP)—The Delta Zeta sorority house matron was shocked today to learn that a bold young man had outraged propriety by visiting the co-ed sanctum in the wee, small hours after midnight last night.

None of her fair charges was responsible for the informal call, however. The visitor came and went without making his presence known to any of the Deltas. With him, by way of souvenirs, went $10 in cash and clothing valued at $185.

MITCHELL SAYS U. S. IGNORES COMMUNIST SHOWS IN BIG CITIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 4.—[Special.]—Responding to inquiries, Attorney General William D. Mitchell today said the department of justice did not contemplate making any official investigation of recent communist activities in the United States, as indicated by alleged disorders at Chicago and other cities.

Mr. Mitchell's attention was called to reports that a $1,000,000 soviet fund had been sent to the United States to finance a nationwide "communist uprising" in America, but he said he had no knowledge of such an action. His department, he said, had taken no official cognizance of widely heralded unemployment demonstrations such as the communists are planning for March 6, which, the attorney general said, are being left for local authorities to deal with.

INDICT 9 IN RING FOR SMUGGLING POLES INTO U. S.

Ex-Vice Consul Named in Passport Plot.

New York, March 4.—[Special.]—Nine persons, including Harry H. Hall, formerly an American vice consul at Warsaw, Poland, were indicted today by the February federal grand jury in Brooklyn after an investigation of charges that a passport ring has been operating in the two countries for the purpose of getting Poles into this country on false visés and passports.

The defendants are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government by the illegal entry and residence of persons on the visé list.

In addition to Hall, those indicted are Morris Baskin and his brother, Louis Baskin, and Louise Horowitz, all of Brooklyn; Miss Heinie Fabrikamp, alias Heinie Horowitz, also of Brooklyn; Leo Shapiro of Paterson, N. J.; Moszek Fraszyniak and Moszek Iglicki of Brooklyn, but now said to be in Warsaw, and Mrs. Masza Zniser of Brooklyn.

Story Started Probe.

The indictments returned today were the result of an exposure growing out of a newspaper story from Warsaw revealing the existence of an alien smuggling ring which has been selling forged American visés to Polish emigrants at from $500 to $1,500 each.

Assistant United States Attorney L. R. Henry of Brooklyn said Hall had told the United States state department that while intoxicated he had given several visés signed in blank to Baskin and that he was forced to give others to Baskin and his aids under threat of exposure.

Mr. Henry further quoted Hall as saying Baskin had introduced him to Shapiro and he had sold more visés to Shapiro for $1,200, only to have another member of the ring get the $1,200 back by threats.

Several Poles Arrested.

Several persons are under arrest in Poland as a result of the coöperation of the American and Polish governments, but the exact number of aliens smuggled into this country has not been determined.

HUNT 3 GUNMEN FOR HOLDUP OF BANK EMPLOYES

CRIMINAL COURT.

Harry Greenberg, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller.

William J. Forman, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Robert Bryant, burglar, sentenced to 1 year to life in the Pontiac reformatory; Abe Rudsky, assault to murder, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Fisher.

The police last night were hunting three shotgun bandits who escaped under the fire of two Lincoln park policemen after holding up two bank employés yesterday forenoon at the busy intersection of Diversey parkway and Magnolia street. Their loot was $1,600.

Barney Wattenberg, 25 year old messenger for the Diversey Trust and Savings bank, 1168 Diversey parkway, and Charles Tews, 69 year old bank policeman, had stopped at the Livingston Baking company, 1301 Diversey parkway, and were on their way back to the bank with a $1,600 deposit when three men in a sedan drew up. Two of the robbers jumped out of the car, covered the bank employés with shotguns, and snatched the bag containing the money.

Edward Smith and O. H. Kindlund, Lincoln park policemen, who were half a block away, opened fire as they ran after the robbers. One of the bandits fell to the sidewalk and crawled to the machine, which then sped south in Magnolia avenue and turned west on Wrightwood avenue.

Evanston Wife Divorced from Shoe Manufacturer

Mrs. Eleanor Smith, 2864 Sheridan place, Evanston, yesterday won a divorce from her husband, Dwight Smith, shoe manufacturer, before Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch. She charged cruelty. She was awarded $1,000 a month alimony and the custody of two children, Dwight Jr., 9 years old, and Howard, 6. The Smith's were married on Nov. 15, 1919, and separated last Nov. 18.

CALL OFF YOUR EXPERTS, HAITI CHIEF URGES U. S.

Asks Assistance, Not Domination.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

PORT AU PRINCE, March 4.—Haitian Nationalists varied criticism of the American occupation at today's session of President Hoover's commission with an outline of the procedure they believe could be employed to provide not only for the withdrawal of the occupation, but to prevent the crisis presented by the forthcoming election of a successor to President Borno, which, as now scheduled, will be by the council of state April 14.

Suggestions to this end were laid by Georges N. Leger, leading lawyer here. Leger, who specified he was speaking only as an individual, is understood to have presented the coördinated plan which the federated committee of patriotic societies promised to present to the commission Thursday. Leger's plan follows:

Asks Provisional Rule.

First, creation of a provisional government to take over the reins at the end of the present administration.

Second, creation under this provisional government of a regular administration based on the election of the legislature by the people, which, in turn, would elect the president.

Third, abolition of the office of American high commissioner and the restoration of the usual diplomatic representation by means of a United States minister.

Fourth, immediate withdrawal of the marines, leaving the policing of the country to the gendarmerie, which, however, should remain under an American commander and have a skeleton command of American officers until the Haitians are trained to run it completely themselves.

Fifth, abolition of the office of American financial adviser but retention of the receiver general, who, however, should train the Haitians to take over his functions.

"Fed Up with Experts."

Sixth, continuation of American assistance in the sanitary service.

Seventh, abolition of all other American activities, some of which, it is held, are useless, and others which can be performed as well by Haitians.

"We are fed up with experts," said Leger in summing up. "Haitians want assistance, not domination."

It was learned at the commission's headquarters that officials of the occupation would have an opportunity to state their side of the case privately before the commission and not be placed in the embarrassing position of being called upon at public sessions.

SEIZED FOR AUTOING ON RAILWAY.

Otto Kanize, 29 years old, 2224 Clifton Park avenue, and George Bilek, 28 years old, 2527 South Harding avenue, were arrested yesterday when found driving an automobile down the Indiana Harbor Belt line tracks near California avenue. The police said the two were intoxicated.

Loses $1,200 Ring as She Hides It in Robbery Scare

Caution cost Mrs. George H. Babcock, 121 Custer street, Evanston, the loss of a $1,200 diamond ring. Mrs. Babcock, returning from the theater Monday night with her husband, saw a man in the shadows behind the garage in the rear of the Babcock residence. Fearing a robbery, she slipped her three rings into her glove. In the morning when she shook out the glove, the ring was missing.

Victims Fail to Identify Woman as "Strip Bandit"

Miss Florence Bell, 32 years old, who was arrested at 4217 Broadway on suspicion that she was the "strip bandit," will appear in Judge Alfred O. Erickson's court this morning on a charge of disorderly conduct. Half a score of cab drivers failed yesterday to identify her as the woman who had forced them to undress after taking their money in holdups. Homer Smith Jr., who was arrested with her, also was booked for disorderly conduct.

"Smooth skin a girl's greatest charm" . . say 45 Hollywood directors

LONG AGO our own lovely Hollywood stars discovered how potent a charm smooth skin can be—and long ago they discovered how velvety-smooth Lux Toilet Soap keeps the skin!

The news spread to Broadway—and the famous stage stars became equally enthusiastic about this delicate soap.

Now, in the European capitals, too, the beautiful screen stars have adopted the soap which keeps their skin as exquisitely lovely as their American sister-stars'—as faultlessly smooth for the all-important close-up!

With the talkies sweeping the world, the actresses are more than ever grateful to the gentle care Lux Toilet Soap gives their skin. For never were there so many close-ups as in the new talking and singing pictures. And as the great directors of Hollywood discovered years ago, a girl can never reach stardom on the screen unless her skin is simply perfect.

Exquisite skin is the one essential charm every girl must have to quicken pulses and win hearts.

You can keep your skin charmingly smooth just as 9 out of 10 screen stars keep theirs—by caring for it with Lux Toilet Soap. Such caressing, generous lather, too! Order several cakes of this delicately fragrant white soap today.

DENEEN STICKS TO WORLD COURT TOPIC IN EGYPT

Speaks in Seven Towns Downstate.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fairfield, Ill., March 4.—[Special.]—In seven cities of Egypt, Senator Charles S. Deneen, in his second day of campaigning, repeated his formal address defending the world court on the advice of politicians that it is the outstanding issue in these parts of Illinois.

In Flora, Salem, Centralia, Mount Vernon, Fairfield, Albion and Mount Carmel the senator who cast his vote for the court in 1926 reiterated his argument that five Republican Presidents and four Republican national platforms had advocated the court and that his vote followed party regularity.

The attacks of Ruth Hanna McCormick, his leading Republican opponent, upon the court as a utensil of the league of nations, and the onslaught of James Hamilton Lewis, candidate for the Democratic nomination, upon the court as a lure of the league to get America into the European war system, have developed it into a predominant issue, and the Deneen leaders today urged the senator to stick to this subject all through southern Illinois.

Little Partisanship Seen.

Indications in today's string of seven cities are that Egyptian politics is in its normal state of complexity at present. The senatorship battle is being kept clear of other candidacies by the leading opponents in the April primaries. But in the towns and county seats the most noise is being made over local county tickets.

In some counties vigorous fights are being staged over control of the party organization and groups of young Republicans are engaged in a contest to push over some of the venerable politicians.

Egypt as usual is enjoying its politics in its own peculiar way, which runs back to the days of the Rameses. Meetings in the courthouses at almost any hour of the day bring out good attendances. Down here the set boast is, "We give every candidate a hand." Politicians say numerical comparison of audiences is not much of a gauge to real sentiment any longer.

Farmers Already "Relieved."

On the fringes of the political audiences and in the streets and stores the observer finds indications that so far the Egyptians are rather languid on some issues. In towns like Flora and Salem today many farmers seemed to exhibit no more than an academic interest in the question of farm relief.

"Farm relief?" remarked one agriculturist at Salem. "Why, the farmer has done been relieved; that's one thing that ails him; everybody's relieved him and he ain't got nothing left."

In some of the counties farm leaders report that some farmers are in such financial plight that they are leaving the farm and coming to the small towns to seek work in small industries such as shoe factories and furniture plants which are being built up.

DETROIT FIRES 1,689 ALIENS; NONCITIZENS ALSO MAY LOSE JOBS

Detroit, Mich., March 4.—(AP)—The city council's order banning aliens from employment by the city and directing that all persons not citizens now on the pay roll be dismissed became effective tonight. Latest figures showed that 1,689 persons will lose their jobs with the various municipal departments.

The resolution directs that the aliens be dismissed, but also provides for department heads to make a study of individual cases, with a view to reemployment if there are "extenuating circumstances."

Councilman Robert G. Ewald, author of the resolution, tonight proposed that all persons who have not been residents of Detroit for a year also be dismissed. This was referred to a committee.

GREAT LANDSLIDE SWEEPS DOWN ON CARNIVAL; 14 DIE

FUNCHAL, Madeira, March 4.—(AP)—Sweeping down from a high rock hanging over the sea, a great landslide today killed at least 14 persons, including several children. Directly underneath the cliff a carnival was in progress.

Scores of children were playing on the beach when the tons of rock slid down with a terrific roar and crashed upon the beach and in the sea. The violence and heaviness of the landslide caused such hugh back waves along the beach that fishermen and washerwomen at Riberra, Vigario and Camara Lobos were carried away into the water.

Scores of volunteer rescue workers worked feverishly to rescue the victimes, but it was feared tonight they had not recovered all the bodies.

EX-TULANE GRID STAR KILLED IN MARDI GRAS ROW

New Orleans, La., March 4.—(AP)—"Tiny" Lawrence, former Tulane university football player from Oklahoma, was shot in the forehead and wounded fatally in the Mardi Gras festival here today as he joined the ranks of a number of sailors battling on the street with a gang of Negroes.

Lawrence and others rushed to the aid of a truck load of sailors battling with the Negroes, and an unidentified person in the crowd shot him. He died almost instantly.

The fight was staged at a street intersection in the old French quarter while the day's carnival revelry was at its height.

INSTITUTE REPORT UP TO DOCTORS IN SESSION TODAY

The public relations committee of the Chicago Medical society will meet at 5 p. m. today to consider the report made by three noted physicians on the Public Health institute, a public clinic for social diseases which has been under the ban of the society.

Dean Irving T. Cutter of Northwestern University Medical school, chairman of the committee, in calling the meeting said he doubted if the discussion of the report would proceed far enough to warrant a recommendation being sent to the society as a whole.

The report was drafted by Dr. Harold N. Cole of Cleveland, Dr. Edwin L. Keyes of Cornell university medical school, and Dr. Thomas Parran Jr., assistant surgeon general of the United States public health service, after they had investigated the institute. They praised many phases of the institute's work.

COOLIDGE LAUDS BOULDER DAM AT 'HIS' DEDICATION

Asks Arizonans to Aid Colorado Project.

Coolidge Dam, Ariz., March 4.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge, former President of the United States, today formally dedicated a great dam named in his honor and in the same breath called upon the people of the southwest to dedicate themselves to the task of completing another great project—Boulder Canyon dam.

Speaking from the parapet of Coolidge dam, Mr. Coolidge plunged into a plea for unity in the southwest. He spoke for twenty minutes and climaxed the dedication ceremonies by breaking over the parapet a bottle filled with the water of the Gila river.

Mr. Coolidge said he "had no personal interest in any one locality" concerned in the present interstate disputes concerning Boulder dam, and expressed himself as hopeful that those involved would be able to reach "some agreement to bring about a development so much needed."

Indians Are Guests.

Aged men and women of the Pima Indian tribe were guests of honor at the ceremonies. Many of the old Indians traveled all of last night to be on hand for the dedication of the dam which is to reclaim the arid lands on which they live.

Gov. John C. Phillips of Arizona, mounting the dedicatory platform with the guest of honor, after a brief address, introduced the man for whom the irrigation project was named. A noisy welcome was given by the crowd to Mr. Coolidge.

In his address Mr. Coolidge said, regarding the dam dedication, "I hesitated to come."

"I was exceedingly glad," he said, "to have been of such help as I could, and secure for you the benefits of this project, but after it was secured I didn't see what good it could do for me to come here and talk about it.

Hesitates to Be in Public.

"Another reason I hesitated to come here is because I am no longer in public life. When I held public office I responded as best I could to invitations of this kind. But now, for me to come and take part in this dedication seemed somewhat of a pretense, and it happens, by my nature, I am not given to pretending.

"I do not suppose that I am expected to speak to the dam or the water. So far as any dedication is concerned, it should be a dedication of the people of this community and this great state to the enjoyment and the benefits of the water flowing out beneath this structure.

"It seems to me that we ought to dedicate this to the advancement of the nation, to the benefits of education, to the making of better homes, and the making of a better country."

REPORTS ON BABY'S DEATH.

Olga Kowalski, 2 years old, 725 North Racine avenue, died suddenly of natural causes yesterday, according to the report of Dr. F. A. Levitson, coroner's physician. It was at first thought that death had resulted from food poisoning.

DEFENDS MOVING OF VET BUREAU TO HINES HOSPITAL

Maj. E. S. Dickson, former head of the Chicago branch of Veterans' bureau, who recently criticized the plan to remove the bureau from 111 North Canal street to the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital at Maywood, was answered yesterday by Charles W. Spofford, Chicago representative of Gen. Frank Hines, director of the national bureau.

"Maj. Dickson erred when he said the move would work an injustice on the men," said Spofford. "Only the veterans in need of hospitalization will be taken to Maywood. We will establish a downtown branch, probably at Van Buren and Wells streets, which will be fully equipped with doctors, nurses, insurance department, loan department and contact men.

"We will be able to treat minor cases there and since about half the men who come to the bureau must enter hospitals, the 'injustice' doesn't seem clear."

The move from 111 North Canal street will be made on March 14.

Queen of Sweden Suffers Relapse; Condition Grave

ROME, March 4.—(AP)—Queen Victoria of Sweden, who is ill at the royal villa here, after a few days betterment, has suddenly grown worse and her condition is again grave.

Admiral Jones Arrives in U. S.; Going to Hospital

New York, March 4.—[Special.]—Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, senior naval adviser of the American delegation to the naval conference in London, who was taken ill and had to leave arrived today on the Cunarder Berengaria with Mrs. Jones. He remained on the ship for the night and will go to Washington tomorrow, where a room has been prepared for him in the naval hospital. The admiral stopped on board the Berengaria for the night under the advice of Dr. J. D. Doherty, senior surgeon of the ship, who said it would be advisable to have as few moves as possible. Dr. Doherty said the admiral's condition was about the same as when he was carried on board last Wednesday.

For COLDS

We all catch colds, and they certainly make us miserable; but yours needn't last long if you do this: Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin as soon as possible after cold starts. Stay in the house if you can—keep warm. Repeat with another tablet or two of Bayer Aspirin every three or four hours, if symptoms of cold persist. Take a good laxative when you go to bed and keep the bowels open. If throat is sore, dissolve three tablets in a quarter-glassful of water and gargle. This soothes the inflammation and reduces infection. There is nothing like Bayer Aspirin for a cold, or sore throat. And it relieves aches and pains almost instantly. The genuine tablets, marked Bayer, are absolutely harmless; they do not depress the heart.

Konjola Is Widely Sold Because It Is a Medicine of Proven Merit

MRS. J. E. MORGAN
2530 Jackson Boulevard

What could be wiser than to follow in the footsteps of those who know to their everlasting joy what Konjola has done? Read the testimonial here. Konjola is a compound that will surprise you. Six or eight bottles should be taken as a systematic treatment. It contains no heart-depressing nor nerve-deadening chemicals. Konjola is sold at the rate of 25,000 bottles a day.

Now read what Mrs. Morgan says of Konjola:

"For seven years I had indigestion. All medicines I tried did no good, and diets, however strict, failed to bring relief. This long and painful siege of stomach trouble impaired my general health. But what a change Konjola made! Today I can eat anything I like without discomfort, and I am better than for years. I was advised by friends to take Konjola and now I gladly recommend it."

ANALYZE THE ALLOWANCE ON YOUR USED CAR

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must make up the difference by extra charges on the new car or re-sell it to some one else at too high a price

PERMANENT value is always better than a temporary bargain in the purchase of an automobile. It pays to look ahead and consider reliability and ultimate up-keep costs, as well as comfort, safety, speed and beauty of line and color.

Since most automobiles are bought for replacement, the value set on your used car is a factor in almost every purchase. Frequently it is given an importance beyond its true worth.

Used cars have a definite market value and you are justly entitled to an allowance based on that value. It is not fair that you receive less. It is not to your best interests to receive more.

IF a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must either re-sell it to some one else at too high a price or make up the difference on the new car. This he cannot do unless he is allowed an excessive profit on the car or on financing, extra equipment and other charges. In either case you pay the bill, for no way has yet been found to give something for nothing. The money must come from somewhere.

You may not get the largest used-car allowance from the Ford dealer, but that very fact should give you confidence that you are receiving full value in the new car. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on your old car.

Because there is no waste, extravagance or undue profit in manufacturing or distribution, every dollar you pay for a Ford brings a full dollar in return. In lower first cost, in reliability and long life, in the low cost of operation, service and replacement parts, the Ford will save you much more than the seeming difference in trade allowance.

FURTHERMORE, at least $75 extra value is given to you in the new Ford in the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, Rustless Steel, five steel-spoke wheels, and four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. The large number of ball and roller bearings, and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings are other features that show the extra quality built into the Ford car.

THE HAGUE COURT VERSUS THE WORLD COURT.

Charles E. Hughes, shortly before he became chief justice of the United States Supreme court, spoke to the Association of the Bar of New York City explaining the organization, practice, and purpose of the Permanent Court of International Justice—the world court—in which he was a judge at the time of his appointment to the Supreme court.

Judges for the world court are nominated by the national groups in the Court of Arbitration at The Hague, and from these nominations fifteen judges are elected by majority vote in the assembly and the council of the league of nations. Chief Justice Hughes, speaking of the source of the nominations, said: "That Court of Arbitration (established under The Hague convention of 1907, to which the United States is a party) consists of members appointed by the various governments and is really a panel of arbitrators from which selection can be made for particular arbitration."

This is the system of adjustment of international cases to which, in the opinion of THE TRIBUNE, it is wise for the United States to adhere. Opponents of the world court are not opponents of international arbitration. They are opposed to the disappearance of The Hague court as other than a nominating convention of the permanent court and the use of the latter instead of the former by the United States.

Justice Hughes, when he spoke, was a member of the American group for The Hague court, the others being Elihu Root, John Bassett Moore, and Newton D. Baker. These Americans were part of the panel from which two nations under The Hague convention could have selected an arbitral body for the settlement of any of their disputes. The panel could contain as high judicial quality as can be placed in the permanent court, but it permits the arbitrating nations a choice.

There are issues in which certain nations may or must be regarded as having predispositions. It is true that a jurist may separate himself from his nation's interests, traditions, and inclinations, but it will not be an astonishing thing if he does not. Nationality has deep, imponderable powers which form judgments, establish opinions, and control views even when mind, experience, and training are judicial.

The theory of The Hague court recognizes this, and in providing a judicial system for international cases it does not ignore the political influence. It recognizes that the nations which signed The Hague convention do not constitute a homogeneous state of common purpose and destiny, but are different and frequently opposing in temperament, thoughts, and desires. Consequently, two litigants appearing before The Hague court may select from the judicial panel a court as nearly removed from interest in the causes of the dispute as can be found among the nonlitigants.

To pretend that the nations are not still in the main moved by what can be called political considerations is to deny the obvious. Political considerations are considerations of gain, power, and distinction. The theory of the permanent court assumes that they will not affect the minds of the international jurists, that policies of country will never be reflected in the citizens of that country who may sit judicially in international disputes, even if the issue is one in which the country has had a policy or may have a stake.

Whatever in any specific cases these tangible or intangible influences may be, they are unescapable in a permanent court whose judges have been selected without reference to the peculiar factors of the case submitted. It is argued that submission is optional. It is an option which would be increasingly difficult to exercise. It is not the intent that it should be exercised. It is the intent that all controversies of whatever nature shall be submitted to the fixed panel of the permanent court and not to the selective one of The Hague court. It is the intent that a nation refusing to submit any case to the permanent court shall be regarded as an offender against international law and morality. Be assured that nowhere would that view have more vehement support than in the United States.

It is argued as the main judicial objective of the permanent court that only by it can the body of international law be codified and given judicial effect. That appeals to the judicial mind, but the legal scholar is highly idealistic in his view of international politics. He is assuming something as to the nature of nationalism, its powers and influences, which has not been revealed and cannot be assumed.

For the United States The Hague court has not been exhausted. Nothing has proved that the moral development of the world has made it obsolete. It is impossible to see The Hague court remaining as an arbitral body if the United States joins the world court. The former would have no function except to nominate world court judges.

Republican administrations have urged the senate to consent to the United States entering the world court, but none has had a vote from the party to do this. So far as the record shows, The Hague court still represents the American idea of international arbitration and of peaceable adjustment of controversies. The permanent court is a departure from all American traditions. The instrument by which the departure would be ordered may be taken up by the senate at any time the President wishes to urge it. It has been signed and awaits action. Consequently, it is a current political issue in the United States wherever there are senatorial elections.

PARK POLITICS AND THE JUDICIARY.

One of the obvious requirements of judicial reform in Cook county, as THE TRIBUNE has said before, is to take the election of south park commissioners away from the Circuit court. The theory on which this duty was imposed upon the court was that the judges would be judicial, or at any rate in the best sense judicious, in the selection of park trustees. Ostensibly the theory has worked fairly well for many years, but conspicuously not so well of late. Its weaknesses are fatal and in the long run a fallacious system will break down. The selection of park commissioners is not properly a judicial function at all. It is an excrescence upon the judicial office. It involves political responsibilities and entanglements which are injurious to judicial morale and to the judicial independence which is essential to judicial impartiality. It may have raised the level of the park commissionership personnel for a time, but in the end it necessarily lowers the level of judicial personnel. The gain in one department of government is heavily offset by the loss in the other.

A judiciary elected for comparatively short terms is inevitably entangled in politics. We ought to have sense enough to reduce these entanglements as much as possible, and park politics is one of the entanglements the judiciary should first be freed from.

A LESSON IN BRIDGE RELIEF.

In building tugs of a type fitted to navigation in the Chicago river the Material Service corporation illustrates precisely the viewpoint of THE TRIBUNE and other protestants against the war department's attitude toward bridge regulation. The interests of navigation are not without limit. They are not absolute. They are not the sole responsibility of the federal government. They are subject to fair limitation and regulation. They are relative to other interests. The federal government is bound to consider the interests of millions of citizens who use the bridges as well as the interests of navigation.

The Material Service corporation is using an efficient type which does not impose inconvenience and loss to the city, and this type should be required of private concerns using the river within a reasonable period.

The same principle of compromise between private enterprises and public convenience should direct the correction of present bridge opening regulations. It is a question of relative importance, and the federal government ought not to use its authority against the greater public interest. The city has not asked unreasonable regulations. It has asked only for relief from conditions which are not necessary and which represent a selfish privilege imposing loss upon a great city and a great body of American citizens.

GOOD NIGHT TO THE HEAVYWEIGHTS.

Phil Scott, the English heavyweight, lost his Miami fight to Sharkey, the great emotional actor of Boston, as was expected and in a fashion which was not unexpected. Mr. Sharkey seems to go a bit loco when he is excited by combat. He cries, rages, and uses strange oaths, an unusual technique. He fouled Mr. Scott and was not disqualified. Mr. Scott was merely disabled and, trying to renew the fight, lost it with the next blow. It did not astonish any one that the English fighter was fouled. He always is. Nor did it astonish any one that Mr. Sharkey fouled him. He would if he could, but the conduct of the referee has promoted more international ill will than even the London peace navy conference has thus far.

The British observe that one of their prize fighters is maltreated in the American ring and discuss the incident morosely. If it will help to smooth matters over it might be explained that the American ring does not play any international favorites in doing a shady bit of work. Firpo had to fight two men when he fought Dempsey. When this big Italian, now working the branch railroads, is ripe for a large show something will be done to him which may even interest Mussolini. With long counts and promoters' fixes, with setups and fouls, high prices and bad matches, the noble art, at least as it involves heavyweights, is getting itself ready for a long sleep. It already has its bedroom slippers on and is reaching for its night gown.

The gentlemen who operate in this business have an artistic passion for doing crooked things even if they go broke doing them. That's a real art.

FILM CENSORSHIP IN CHINA.

[Brooklyn Eagle.]

There are regular foreign and Chinese film censorship committees in Shanghai, but what they say "doesn't go." For example, both of these formal organizations saw and approved the Lloyd film comedy, "Welcome, Danger." But when two theaters undertook to produce it popular sentiment showed itself. Under threat of a boycott all the newspapers refused advertisements for the play. The Kuomintang not merely compelled the theater to withdraw the production but also to print a formal apology for having put it on. Art did not enter the controversy at all. Chinatown scenes of the movie type revolted the Chinese in China. Race consciousness was much in evidence.

To the philosophic mind there is much to commend this sort of popular censorship as compared with the official sort so much in vogue in some of the states of the American Union. We really ought to have as much civic vigor as the celestials. Perhaps we have, though too often it lies dormant. And it is real civic vigor that vehemently condemns and compels removal from the stage of plays or films that for any reason are offensive.

And possibly, in the last analysis, even here it is the popular judgment that prevails, though it follows after bureaucratic activities that are not fully in consonance with the spirit of freedom of expression. What revolts our national consciousness, what revolts our traditional respect for religion as religion, what revolts our ideas of morality, is not likely to be successful on the stage, whether or not it seems revolting to a board of censors duly established.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the gibes fall where they may. W. M.

WELL, BOYS AND GIRLS, DON'T SPEND IT ALL IN ONE PLACE—is the subject of our broadcast this a. m. Of course we are talking now to the employés of the city, county, and sanitary district who are now getting their much belated salaries. Well, boys and girls, you haven't seen real honest-to-goodness cash money for so long that you ought to have a few words of advice. The money that has the words "One Dollar" on it is called a dollar. Then there are two dollar bills, five, ten, and twenties. Then there's a lot of coins—such as fifty cent pieces, two bits (called quarters), nickels (5 cents), dimes (10 cents), and pennies (1 cent).

You folks haven't seen money for so long that you'll forget that it goes very quickly if you give it half a chance. You had better put safety pins on your pockets; or, better still, bury it in an old coffee pot under the floor.

As you come away from the cashier's desk with your money in your pocket don't pay any attention to a nice looking young fellow that will offer to sell you the new Palmolive building for forty-five dollars and fifty cents. The Palmolive building is a wonderful building and worth many millions, and it seems a shame not to grab the opportunity of buying it for forty-five dollars and fifty cents. But don't. Just kick the nice young man who offers to sell it to you in the kneecap and walk on. Then you'll meet somebody that will offer to sell you a brick made of solid gold. It isn't. Just biff him in the snoot and tell him his ears are dirty.

Hang on to your money. After awhile, when you get used to counting it over and looking at it, you'll be more able to dispose of it wisely. And after awhile the city and the county and the sanitary district will be able to pay you often enough so you won't start crying, or faint away, or anything like that when you meet a dollar bill face to face.

ROSE AND PATIENCE.

Rose and Patience at eighteen—
Sweeter girls were never seen.
Rose was lovely as her name;
Life to her a happy game.
Patience was a paler flower
Prone to dreaming by the hour.

Rose at twenty filled her life
With the duties of a wife,
Cooked and sewed—and years unfolding—
Tended children with much scolding.
Patience, when the men passed by,
Merely dreamed and wondered why.

Time has touched them both with tears.
Rose has hardened through the years.
Bloom was swept away by duty.
Patience, lonely, holds her beauty.
Underneath her wrinkles gleams
The fine chiseling of her dreams.

RIGHT AFTER CAL COOLIDGE dedicated the dam named after him yesterday he was made a brave by the Apache Indians. And right after that he joined up with another Indian tribe. It begins to look as though Cal might start ghost dancing along in the spring of 1932, put on the war paint, dig up the tomahawk, break off the reservation, and start after somebody's scalp.

IN WHICH HISTORY DOES A LITTLE REPEATING NOW AND THEN.

Old Walt Wright says that Dan Kelly, who is probably the only man in Chicago who reads the Journal of Accountancy, showed him a piece about the Bank of England in 1694, according to the late lamented Mr. Macaulay:

When the treasury was empty, when the taxes came in slowly, and when the pay of the soldiers and sailors was in arrears, it had been necessary for the chancellor of the exchequer to go, hat in hand, up and down Cheapside and Cornhill, attended by the lord mayor and by the alderman, and to make up a sum by borrowing a hundred pounds from this hosier and two hundred pounds from that ironmonger.

The recent crisis in our fair city seems to prove that the world do move only to stay in the same place. Or something like that.

AND, FURTHERMORE, CAL COOLIDGE probably is pretty happy over having that dam in Arizona named after him. But, lissen, Cal, it isn't the dams that a candidate has named after him that count; it's the babies.

OUR TUMMY'S CAVED IN LIKE AN OLD SETTLER'S GRAVE.

R. H. L.: While undoubtedly commendable as a general policy, I think the tendency of the Line toward the ultra-conservatism, under-statement, and restraint reaches the point of excess in your comment on the volubility of the Beards. You will find upon reëxamining your one-volume edition, I believe, that "The Rise of American Civilization" took Charles and Mary some 599,400 words and well over 1,600 pages to chronicle. When you confirm this you'll probably start right in to reinforce that block and tackle equipment for bedside reading of the weighty tome. There, that takes a load off my mind and puts it on your tummy. And how is it bearing up under the weight of those 1,600 pages?

LEN SING.

LAGNIAPPE.

AND SOMETHING the U. S. of A. might give up during Lent would be the naval conference in London. But we hope if our delegates stay over there they don't take Lent too seriously and give up our whole darned navy.

AND WOULDN'T IT be nice if the government gave up putting pieces of barbed wire, shingle nails, arsenic, glue, brickbats, kerosene, carbolic acid, old shoes, and turpentine in commercial alcohol as its Lenten sacrifice? It would be a pretty gesture on the part of the government and it would save the bootleggers the trouble of taking the stuff out so that it can be sold for genuine, bottled in bond twenty year old bourbon.

THE LEGISLATURE out in Kansas yesterday voted down a resolution "that in the opinion of the Kansas legislature Walter W. Liggett is a liar." Walter is a magazine writer and is probably much grieved by the action taken. To be called a liar by the legislature of Kansas ought to about double the price of the pieces he writes for the magazines.

LENT! All right; we're going to give up writing the last line. And we'll start right now. No last line today.

HEATING WITH GAS.

A CORRESPONDENT, a physician, asks for an article on the use of natural gas for household heating. The use of this gas is becoming general in his section of the country and people are asking as to its dangers. The tendency is to install gas burners that have no stove pipes.

Natural gases vary in chemical composition far more than is the case with manufactured gases. They likewise vary in their poisonous properties. This is a factor to be given some consideration because some unburned gas leaks into a house either through the connecting tubes or through cutoffs, but especially through some of the multiple orifices in stoves.

However, this danger is not of the first importance, nor, from this standpoint, does it matter greatly, whether the gas burned is natural or artificial. Burned under arrangements that make for good burning the end products of gas combustion are no more harmful than are those which result from burning coal or wood. In fact, combustion of gas produces less soot and smoke dust than is the case with coal or wood fires. It was during a natural gas period that Pittsburgh acquired the title of a smokeless city—temporarily. Over against this advantage of natural gas is the increased use of pipeless gas stoves that follows.

Soot is a harmful product of incomplete combustion. Carbonic acid gas and water are somewhat harmful products of a complete combustion. But the great harm done and the great danger of combustion is carbon monoxide, a product of incomplete oxidation. If a stove, furnace or fireplace is provided with a chimney or pipe the products of the flame, the more poisonous and those less so, escape into the outside air. A pipeless stove, by whatever name it goes, discharges the product of the flame into the inside air. The degree of danger depends somewhat on whether the stove is in an open, airy room like a kitchen, or in a close one like a bathroom or nursery.

If we could be certain of the stoves and heaters used, and the tubes by which they are connected, healthy people would have no objection to gas heating, either natural or artificial gas.

WRIST WATCH CHAFES.

M. B. writes: Quite a few people wearing wrist watches are troubled by an itch in the spot covered by the watch. Small pimples arise there also. What causes this? What is the cure? In some cases the wearing of a watch is made impossible by the uncomfortable condition created.

REPLY.

This is probably due to some local skin irritant acting on a person with sensitized skin.

The trouble may be due to something in the band, in the watch itself, or it may be the result of sweat or lack of air.

It is possible that you can make some change and escape the trouble or you may have to change to a pocket watch.

VEGETABLES FOR RICH BLOOD.

Mrs. C. M. D. writes:

1. What vegetables are good to make rich, new blood?

2. What vegetables are good for nervousness?

REPLY.

1. The green vegetables and salads such as spinach are the best of their kind. The best foods are liver, tripe, kidney, heart, lean meat, and egg yellow.

2. Those rich in lime. Cheese, milk, and other milk foods head the list.

PERSONAL HYGIENE.

Mrs. G. H. writes: I have two daughters, 14 and 15 years old, with whom I always have to argue about personal hygiene. I would be very much obliged if you would send me a booklet on personal hygiene for women so that I could show it to my daughters.

REPLY.

You send stamped, addressed envelope and we do the rest.

RAPS REGULAR PHYSIC.

H. G. writes:

1. Is it proper to give a child of six years a mild physic every week?

2. The doctor in the public school ordered it. The child is in a good normal condition.

3. What would happen if a physic were given each week?

REPLY.

1. I don't think so.
2. You have been misinformed, I am sure.
3. Habitual constipation, at least.

TWITCHING EYELIDS.

R. P. writes: How can I overcome twitching of the eyelids?

REPLY.

Does a woman born in America lose her citizenship when she marries a foreigner who is not naturalized?

J. M. P.

Under the act of Sept. 22, 1922, any American woman who marries an alien eligible for citizenship does not lose her American citizenship provided she continues to live in the United States. However, if she married an alien before Sept. 22, 1922, she assumed the citizenship status of her husband.

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,
District Director of Naturalization.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 5, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Lincoln was inaugurated at noon and an exceedingly large crowd standing in mud almost knee deep witnessed the ceremonies. The President did not ride in the parade to the capitol, as he had been there all day. The oath was administered by Chief Justice Chase of the United States Supreme court. On the return trip to the White House the President rode in an open barouche. In his inaugural address President Lincoln pointed out that the progress of the federal armies is "reasonably encouraging" and said: "With high hope for the future, no prediction in regard to it is ventured." In concluding he said: "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, and care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and his orphans—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations." The address of Vice President Johnson on being sworn in is very severely criticized on all hands. His friends say he must have been laboring under serious indisposition.

NEW YORK.—Richmond papers assume to be ignorant of Gen. Sherman's whereabouts, but at the same time say he is stuck in the mud in one of the southern states. The force under his direction, including Gillmore's and Schofield's, is estimated at 60,000. Wade Hampton and his cavalry are said to have possession of Columbia, S. C. The burned section of that city extends in one direction three-quarters of a mile. A Fayetteville, N. C., dispatch of the 1st says that the "Yankees" have advanced in that direction.

NEW YORK.—A Washington dispatch says: "Apprehensions are expressed in some quarters that there is deep design in the great influx of deserters from the rebel armies into the loyal states. It is surmised that large numbers of these deserters are transferred to the heart of the loyal portion of the country to organize a raid on an extensive scale. Reinforcements are arriving rapidly and the present total force is over 60,000. Four thousand British cavalry are pursuing the Boers retreating north from Ladysmith.

CHICAGO.—William H. Ferry, 50 years old, wealthy owner of the Lake Forest polo grounds, was run down and killed by a fast Chicago and North Western train as he started across the tracks at Lake Forest. His father presented Ferry hall to Lake Forest university.

DUBUQUE, Ia.—The Most Rev. John Hennessy, D. D., archbishop of Dubuque, died at the archiepiscopal residence at the age of 74. Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, friend of the prelate's boyhood and all through life, was at his bedside. Archbishop Hennessy was appointed to the place in 1866.

CHICAGO.—Miss Ellen Johnson of Austin and Alfred Johnson of Tiskilwa, Ill., were married at the home of C. Rylander, 731 North Waller avenue.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The condition of Gov. Tanner was much improved. He spent a restful night and appeared much livelier.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 5, 1920.

LONDON.—Complete elimination of the forces of Gen. Denekine in south Russia has been brought about, according to expert interpretation of advices on the week's operations. The entire collapse of Denekine's resistance to the Reds is considered a matter of a short time.

EDINBURGH.—While the victorious powers were denouncing and drafting a list of Germans accused of war crimes and demanding that they be prosecuted before an allied court, James Wooley, a British sailor, was on trial in a Scottish court for shooting down Kuno Eversberg, a German prisoner, in cold blood. The murder occurred on June 23, 1919, on board the British warship Resolution. Despite the evidence the jury returned a verdict of "not proved" and released Wooley.

CHICAGO.—John F. Jelke, oleo manufacturer, received an absolute pardon from President Wilson several days ago, according to Mrs. Jelke. On May 5, 1914, Jelke was sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth when he and eight associates were convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government of taxes on artificially colored oleomargarine.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 5, 1900.

LONDON.—Gen. French was again on the move and made a reconnaissance out of Osfontein, finding the Boers in force and holding a strong position on a table shaped kopje. There was a short encounter, but no casualties are reported. From Colesburg the Boers are being followed rapidly by Clements, who is now at Achtertang. Roberts and Kitchener were at Kimberley at last accounts.

SLACKER PACIFISM.

Chicago, March 1.—I have just read with considerable amazement THE TRIBUNE editorial of this morning, entitled "Slacker Pacifism." As one that attended the Evanston conference referred to from first to last, I can say without qualification that the writer of that editorial was in error at several points.

In the first place, the conference was not a conference of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, nor are its deliberations and findings to be regarded as those of the federal council. The Evanston conference was "A Study Conference," convened by "The National Committee on the Churches and World Peace," a body wholly distinct from the federal council.

In the second place, the statements of individual delegates in the course of the various topics discussed may not rightly be regarded or treated as representing the opinions of the conference. Much diversity of opinion developed during the discussion. Only those policies may be regarded as advocated by the conference which found place in the statement adopted at the final plenary session.

In the third place, this conference did not go on record as opposed to all defense measures, or to resistance to invasion or attack.

In the fourth place, the slur upon "the pacificism of individuals" who have not the courage "to die for a cause" is hardly becoming to a great paper that seeks to be fair to every sincere and earnest man. Though not a "pacifist" myself, in the sense in which the editorial uses the term, I may say that those in the conference who did advocate the more extreme positions are not cowards. They have the courage of their convictions as they have frequently shown.

And, lastly, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America does not claim to represent 44 denominations, nor does it advocate "perpetual resistance to national defense." As one closely connected with the federal council for many years, I know whereof I speak. I shall be glad to give the evidence for these statements to any one who cares to write to me at 105 East 22d street, New York City.

SIDNEY L. GULICK.

THE ECONOMICS OF PROHIBITION.

Escanaba, Mich., Feb. 28.—I have been more than surprised that you or the various substantial men the wets have been calling in before the house judiciary committee to explain what conditions are have not harped on the economic side.

It is the writer's firm belief that there has been a constant drain—first, of cash going to Canada, Cuba, Mexico, and Europe for purchased goods; second, money wasted on attempted enforcement; third, the tremendous revenue loss to our federal government and cities; and, fourth, the tremendous loss of a market to our farmers for grains which has been going on for ten years. If this country hadn't been exceedingly wealthy we would have had times such as we now have long ago.

We believe that prohibition is largely responsible for our present poor business; and that if our law makers, who must surely see this, would be honest enough to come out and come out soon with a declaration that they will change this thing and get a system such as Canada has, over night sentiment would change and business would begin to perk up.

FALLING PHIL.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Well, it was only a matter of time, and again "Falling Phil" has upheld Westbrook Pegler's statements.

SID MEYERS.

DRINKING AT TILDEN.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—In this morning's issue of THE TRIBUNE there was an article which stated that a student of Tilden Tech, arraigned in the Stock Yards court on a charge of drunkenness, said that all the students get drunk. We Tildenites want the public to know that this is not true at all, that the boy was never enrolled at Tilden Tech High, that his companions were not members of our student body, and that we consider ourselves much more gentlemanly than was insinuated.

E. W.

WHEAT.

Chicago, March 1.—Any friend of the wheat farmer would probably admit that there are two methods of procedure which would be of benefit. One is the disposal of the present burdensome surplus; the other a reduction in acreage which would prevent future burdensome surpluses. The farmer does not want charity nor should he get it. The farm board has been buying cash wheat for weeks at a price above its commercial value. If this grain is sold below cost at the expense of the federal treasury it will be charity. Recently the farm board has been confining its purchases to wheat shipped by a certain class of farmers, thereby discriminating against a vast proportion of the producers.

During the last week of February the farm board adopted the new policy of buying wheat futures on a large scale. The effect of this when analyzed is of great interest. The price has been advanced materially. U. S. farmers have remaining in their possession approximately 100 million bushels of wheat. Speculators who are carrying the load of wheat which has left the farms are long about 200 million bushels; hence the farm board policy has benefited the speculator twice as much as the farmer. A far more important result, however, is that the advance in price has made U. S. wheat the dearest in the world. This definitely puts our country out of the export business to the benefit of our chief competitor—Canada. Our big surplus cannot be disposed of any more without "dumping" and foreign nations will see to it that we do not ruin their agrarians by any such means. At present the statistical position is such that it is almost a certainty that the U. S. will carry over at least as much wheat July 1, 1930, as they did July 1, 1929, when it was the largest ever known.

As for acreage reduction, it is unthinkable—both here and in Europe—what with our government artificially stimulating prices.

Assuming that this country raises a fair average wheat crop this year, we shall probably be confronted with an alarming situation in July of the coming summer. The available storage space at terminal and secondary markets will be nearly filled. The private grain trade will be unable to compete with the farm board prices in buying wheat from the producer. The farm board if it buys will have no place to ship the wheat. They perhaps will advance funds to the farmer to hold his wheat on the farm, but he has not sufficient facilities for doing so. The farmers' wheat will be unsalable. An economic crisis of major proportions might easily ensue. This will be the logical outcome of "farm relief" as visioned by politicians, if not this year, then at some future date.

EDWIN J. KUH, Jr.

STILL AT THE OLD STAND.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Your editorial "Still at the Old Stand" is good as far as it goes. There are other lines besides the N. W. and "Q" and other "saplings" besides those mentioned. I refer to the C., M., St. P. & P. in the suburbs to the immediate northwest, and Elmwood Park in particular.

Here is one of the livest and fastest growing communities in the metropolitan area, located immediately beyond and adjoining the city limits, and, were it not for the enterprise of a certain subdivider, there might not be even a "stop on signal" in vogue there today. As it is, there is a small depot, built and deeded to the railroad company, but no ticket agent or freight and express service for this village of considerably more than 10,000 people and approximately 500 daily commuters. It is high time that adequate service was given by all roads to those towns and villages that have merited it by their patronage of existing facilities. Chicago certainly has been let down, and will be kept down by such an apparent lack of enterprise by the roads, even in the face of the fast growing competition of private cars, buses, etc. Keep after 'em.

T. J. LEONARD.

DIRTY STREETS.

Chicago, Ill., March 1.—I see by the papers that many millions are pouring into the city hall for anticipation warrants. If they anticipate using any of this money for cleaning up the alleys and streets, let it be spent freely and at once.

NOTABLES HONOR JUDGE HOPKINS AT RITES TODAY

Special Train to Carry Body to De Kalb.

Many distinguished Chicagoans will accompany the body of Judge Jacob H. Hopkins of the Criminal court when it is taken back to De Kalb, Ill., today for burial. The Superior, Circuit, Municipal, County, and Probate courts will be closed in honor of the dead jurist.

Dies After Operation.

Judge Hopkins died Monday night at Mercy hospital after an operation for an intestinal disorder. He had been ill for several weeks.

The pallbearers will be Municipal Judge Frank Padden, former Judge George A. Cooke, Judge Denis E. Sullivan, head of the chancery division of the Superior court; Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch, Probate Judge Henry Horner, and Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of review. All six were intimate friends of Judge Hopkins.

Hundreds Bow at Bier.

The list of honorary pallbearers included several hundreds of men prominent in Chicago. Judge Hopkins was known as one of the most popular men on the bench. Hundreds took the opportunity yesterday of viewing the body as it lay in state at the Auditorium hotel where the judge lived for many years.

Brief funeral services will be held at the hotel at 9:30 o'clock with Attorney James G. Condon delivering a brief eulogy. At 10 o'clock the cortege will leave the hotel for the Chicago and North Western railroad station, where at 11 o'clock a special train will take the funeral party to De Kalb. Services will be held at the judge's old home at De Kalb at 2 o'clock.

71 of 188 Pass Test for County Hospital Internes

Joseph H. Donahue, chief examiner of the county civil service commission, yesterday announced the names of the successful candidates for interneships at the county hospital in the examination of last January. Of 188 students who took the examination 71 passed. The high 32 candidates will begin their interneships on July 1 and the next 32 will begin on Jan. 1.

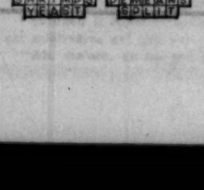
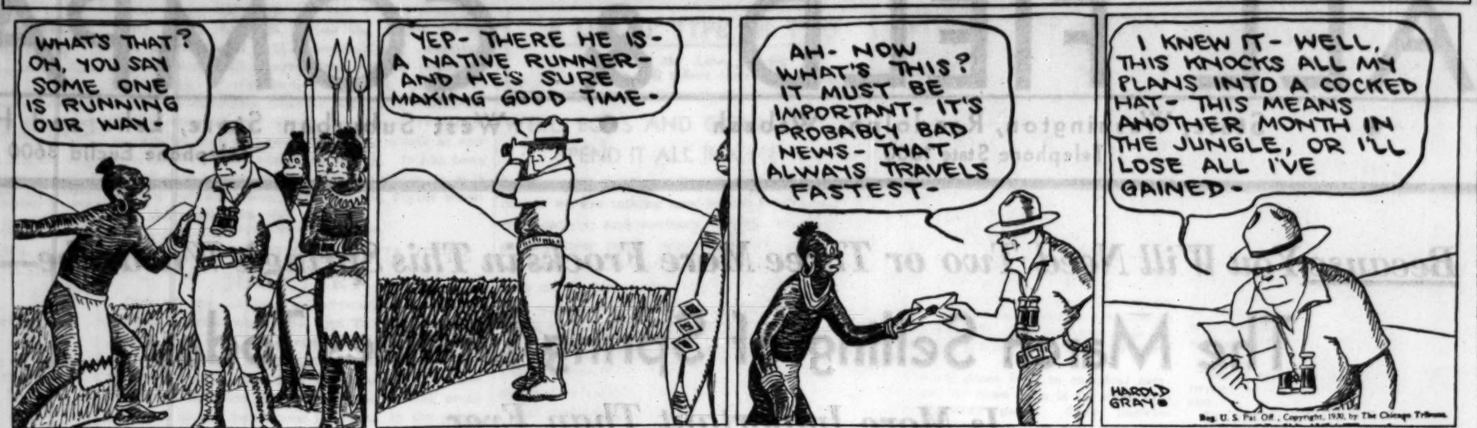
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Interrupted Plans



Popular Music Rules Air and Elmer Is Cool

But He Manages to Find It Somehow Good.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Popular programs ruled the air last night and one of the popular personalities was Miss Helen Kane, soprano, in the chain program through W-G-N, 8 to 8:30. Her first number, "Do Something," was a talking song. The song doesn't amount to a tinker's whistle. The words run something like this:

"I've got the time and place, do something! I can hug, I can kiss, do something. Other pairs are making hay, O do something!"

It is safe to assume that only about half the radio audience cares for stuff like this, for every other week the sponsors of this program present a high class classical concert.

It is safe to assume that the weekly barn warming program from WLS, 7:30 to 8, is of a nature to interest an audience of widely diversified tastes. There's a pleasing countrified color in it.

No doubt the weekly program by the W-G-N Great orchestra [a combination of the station's symphony and dance orchestras], 9 to 9:30, meets the unqualified approval of both the popular and the classical genre of listeners. Symphonic dance numbers sound different when played by a large orchestra such as this—in fact they are different because the scoring is more symphonically treated. Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso" was in true classical form, as the announcer said, "to demonstrate what the orchestra could do with it." Nothing much more need be done to it by any orchestra, however large.

Alfred Lyman Flude in his talk on "Spain," W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, dwelt on the short stories about Spain rather than on the lecturer's own experiences in that country. His advice to the American traveler is to use eyes and ears, study the home life of the peoples of the various countries, and read their poetry.

More than Half Million Pledged for Boy Scouts

With more than $500,000 already pledged toward the $1,250,000 fund to expand the Boy Scout activities in Chicago within the next four years, workers from all over the city will meet at the Palmer house tomorrow night. The dinner will mark the close of the first month's efforts.

Brig. Gen. Abel Davis will be the chief speaker. His talk as well as those of other speakers will go on the air over WMAQ from 8 to 8:30.

E. Chicago Rum Plotters Will Appeal Sentences

The major defendants sentenced Monday in the East Chicago liquor conspiracy served notice yesterday that they would appeal from the sentences imposed by Federal Judge Slick after he had refused new trials. Former Mayor Raleigh P. Hale and his former chief of police, James Regan, will seek a reversal of their conviction from the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago, as will former Policemen Martin Zarkovich and Patsy Ramey and John Antonion and Tony Zaleski, bootleggers. Hale and Regan were sentenced to two years each in prison, and were fined $2,000 each. The others were given lesser punishments. Philip Collenger, said to be a henchman of Al Capone, will be sentenced Friday. He will appeal the conviction.

Emma P. Garnett, Widow of Judge, Taken by Death

Mrs. Emma Patience Garnet, widow of Judge Gwynne Garnett, and daughter of the late Col. John L. Hancock, died yesterday at her residence at 5010 Dorchester avenue. She was a sister of Mrs. Frank G. Logan of 1150 Lake Shore drive and the mother of Mrs. T. Melville Hardie, Eugene H., Cyrus L., and the late Gwynne Garnett Jr., all of Chicago, and Robert T. Garnett of Greybull, Wyo.

D. H. Lawrence, British Author, Buried Simply

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VENCE, France, March 4.—The body of David Herbert Lawrence, English novelist and poet, was carried to its grave in a tiny cemetery here today in a wooden coffin without any ceremony. About twenty persons made up the funeral procession. The novelist's wife and young daughter were present.

Earl Pritchard, 45, Racine Counsel, Dies

Racine, Wis., March 4.—[Special.]—Earl Pritchard, 45 years old, city counsel here since 1925, died at his home today after an illness of three days. Mr. Pritchard contracted a cold several days ago which developed into pneumonia.

MISS TOBY YOCHOLIS, 20 years old, 2139 South Lawndale avenue, died yesterday. She had been an employé of THE TRIBUNE circulation department for 2 years. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel at 3658 Roosevelt road. Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yocholis, and one sister, Florence Ehrlich.

MRS. WOODBURY DIES; SHE FOUGHT MARY BAKER EDDY

Boston, Mass., March 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Josephine Curtis Woodbury died at Nice, France, yesterday, it was learned today. She came into prominence here in 1880 as one of the early pioneers in the Christian Science movement. She wrote poems and articles for church publications.

She later came out in opposition to Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of the movement of which she herself was an ardent exponent, and was barred from the church. In 1896 she set up a magnificent home on Commonwealth avenue where she was surrounded by a group of admirers.

In 1899 she sued Mrs. Eddy for $400,000 on grounds of criminal libel. She charged that Mrs. Eddy referred to her as the "scarlet woman of Babylon." The court decided in favor of Mrs. Eddy.

Mrs. Woodbury in turn was sued on two occasions, once by her son, Curtis Palmer Woodbury, who claimed equity in the house his mother occupied, alleging he had surrendered it as the result of fraud and misrepresentation on her part. The court decided against the son. The second suit was brought by the husband of one of Mrs. Woodbury's followers, who charged alienation of affections.

Wm. H. Goodrow Funeral Rites to Be Held Today

Funeral services for William H. Goodrow, president of the William Goodrow Moulding company and a figure in the moulding industry for forty years, will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon at his residence, 4 Elizabeth court, Oak Park. Mr. Goodrow died on Monday at the age of 72 years. Interment will be in Elgin. He leaves his widow, three brothers and three sisters. He was a member of the Union League club, Illinois Athletic club, Field museum, Chicago Art institute, and Chicago Historical society.

Northern Baptists Plan Cleveland Session May 28

The northern Baptist convention will be held in Cleveland May 28 to June 4, according to the announcement of the executive committee of the Baptist church yesterday at the Stevens hotel. Plans for the convention were presented by Dr. A. S. Shurpe, Cleveland, who stated that more than 14,000 Baptists from over the country will be present. Alton L. Miller, Boston manufacturer and president of the northern Baptist convention, presided at the executive committee meeting yesterday.

I. W. A. C. to Open Its Own Radio Station on Friday

The Illinois Women's Athletic club will broadcast its inaugural program from its own radio broadcasting station Friday evening. A debate on the problem, "Should Divorce Be Made as Easy as Marriage?" will constitute the first feature to be presented by the new station, which will be known as WHCI. Horace J. Bridges, leader of the Chicago Ethical society and Prof. Arthur Todd of Northwestern university, author of several books on sociology, will participate.

Organize Vigilantes After Torture Robbery at Farm

Aroused by the torture robbery at the Ed Tessendorf farm home on Monday afternoon, farmers in southeastern McHenry county have organized a patrol of 25 villigantes. Tessendorf, who lives two miles north of Crystal lake, was robbed of $17 and a piece of crystal which neighborhood gossip had reported was a huge diamond of great value. Tessendorf's wife, Emma, was suffering from a nervous collapse yesterday as a result of her experience with the robbers. Tessendorf was limping from the manhandling he received. The robbers threatened to return for $1,000 if they found the crystal was not of great value.

Former Wrestler Charged with Dry Law Violation

Dr. Carl N. Furness, 2537 East Seventy-fifth street, who achieved some prominence as a middleweight wrestler several years ago, was arrested by dry agents yesterday and arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on charges of violating the prohibition law. It is charged that Furness delivered four bottles of gin in his automobile to agents. A hearing was set for today.

Oooh! Bonnie and Don scrapping

The two collegiate creatures that star in the Beich Collegiana performance each week bow tonight at 8:00. From the appearance of things, there's going to be a lovers' quarrel. However, it won't interfere with the gayety of the music.

Del Owen clowns at keyboard

Piano antics, monologue and musicomics, and black, white and blue noteworthy fun by Del Owen overfill fifteen minutes tonight at 9:30.

Wilfred Glenn on Mobiloil

Wilfred Glenn, basso, selects several of the choicest Victor Herbert songs for the Mobiloil Concert. Nathaniel Shilkret's Concert Orchestra. 7:30.

Hungry Five tootles and talks

Herr Louie and the Weasel carry on their dialogue in tumbl-english and backward sentences between the comical numbers by the Hungry Five. Listen and laugh at 10:10.

"Hello! Hello! How Much Does Happiness Cost?"

Only the price of learning a simple health rule, this smiling youngster finds!

"Happiness is on the other end of your phone too," says little Barbara

"HAPPINESS just radiates from our baby since we began giving her—"

What was it that Mrs. Fred E. Schmitt of 2023 Stone Street, Falls City, Nebraska, discovered, which she could give to her baby that made her happy, well, strong and buoyant?

Not a medicine; not a drug of any kind; just harmless bodily lubrication. Only that, and nothing more. Mrs. Schmitt's discovery that little Barbara kept well when she was made regular as clock work is the same discovery as has been made by millions of other people, who are enjoying the happiness of health because they use Nujol.

Babies, old folks, people in the prime of life—all alike need to have the bodily poisons (we all have them) regularly cleaned out. Drugs, cathartics, pills, all they do is irritate the body and you have to keep increasing the dose. Nujol works in an entirely different way. It is not a medicine at all. It just gently, naturally, normally lubricates the actions of your body, which needs lubrication as much as any other machine.

We have just had over five thousand letters from people all over the world—and all of them discovered this same way to be well and happy. Do you think so many people can be wrong?

Please remember that Nujol contains no drugs; is non-fattening; is not absorbed in any way by the body; can form no habit; cannot hurt you, no matter how much you take. All it can do is keep you internally clean, and make you continually feel better. Colorless, tasteless as pure water, Nujol will make you see the bright side of life; it will help you to get the most out of your life; it will make you wake up in the morning feeling fit, and help you to do a good day's work with a smile.

Millions of people have discovered this fact—why don't you? You can buy Nujol in sealed packages at all drug stores. It costs but a few cents, and makes you feel like a million dollars. Get a bottle today and see how brimming zestful health will boost your day's happiness.

SENATE VOTES ON SUGAR DUTY BOOST TODAY

Passage Is Not Expected Till Next Week.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 4.—[Special.]—After completing action on all tariff amendments in committee of the whole, the senate tonight commenced discussion of a compromise proposal for an increase in the duty on sugar. Instead of continuing in session until a late hour, the senate adjourned early in the evening. The adjournment followed an agreement to vote on the sugar amendment at 3 o'clock tomorrow.

Thus far in the six months the tariff bill has been before the senate, it has been in the committee of the whole stage. From now on it will be in the senate proper, which will give an opportunity for a reconsideration of some of the controversies already acted upon, such as that on sugar. Passage of the bil may come as early as the end of the present week, but more likely not until the middle of next week.

The sugar amendment was offered by Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah] and provides for a duty of 2 cents per pound on Cuban sugar and 2.5 cents per pound on full duty sugar. The senate, in committee of the whole several weeks ago adopted the Harrison amendment to restore the rates of the present law of 1.76 and 2.2 cents, respectively. The house bill increased the rates to 2.4 and 3 cents, while the finance committee proposed 2.2 and 2.75 cents.

Walsh Leads Attack.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.] led the attack upon the Smoot amendment. He asserted the Great Western Sugar company and other beet sugar companies have been prosperous under the present tariff law and that there is no need of an increase in duty.

Before reaching sugar the senate adopted a number of amendments proposed by the finance committee to eliminate various countervailing duty provisions from the tariff law. This action was taken on the recommendation of the state department which advised the committee that these sections of the existing law are constant sources of irritation in dealing with foreign nations.

Asks Tapioca Duty.

Representative W. E. Hull [Rep., Ill.], in a speech in the house urged imposition of a duty on tapioca to provide protection for domestic corn starch.

"If something is not written into this tariff bill for the protection of the corn starch industry," said Mr. Hull, "I am convinced we will see the corn products plants follow the alcohol plants to the east coast, where they will be in cheap communication with the low price foreign products. This substantial market for American corn will be lost forever to the American farmer."

WABASH RISES 19.5 FEET.

Mount Carmel, Ill., March 4.—(AP)—The Wabash river again was flooding lowlands in this area today, after a rise to a stage of 19.5 feet, 3.5 feet above flood stage. The high water had stopped ferry service across the river.

LIKE BEAUTY? GO TO NEW ZEALAND; IT OFFERS PLENTY

Visitors Find Islands Entrancing Spot.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, N. Z., March 4.—Unless it be Switzerland, there probably is more to see in New Zealand than in any like area. In the small territory that embraces the two main islands, there is encompassed the beauties of the American and Canadian Rockies and the Swiss Alps, the wonders of the geyser basin of Yellowstone National park, but with less outpouring, the charms of the timber bound Cascades and Sierras, some eight or ten rivers that rival in beauty the Mohawk or the Juniata.

And if the tourist is pressed for time, the chief natural beauties may be seen in a fortnight, the normal interval between ships.

North Island Best Bet.

If there is limited time—ten days to a fortnight—then the tour is best confined to the north island, but if longer, then also the south island, with its peaks, perennially snowclad and challenging the mountaineer. It is all a country, too, of a people who think, talk and act as we Americans do.

Auckland, in the north island, is where perhaps most of the visitors land, although there is also a fortnightly service at Wellington, the capital, and the metropolis of the lower end of the north island. From the hills of the city the observers may see the slopes of the south island. Auckland and its suburbs have a population of around 200,000 and Wellington and its suburbs, about 150,000.

Stop at Dairy Center.

As a rule the car of the motor company will be some well known American make. Half a day's ride out of Auckland and one stops for lunch at Hamilton, the center of a large dairy interest that ships to the United States and Canada. Canada imports as much New Zealand butter as she exports to the United States of her own product.

The end of the first day's ride will bring the tourist to Rotorua, the scene of New Zealand's greatest thermal activity of recent years and in a region of lakes, mountains, geysers, and volcanic craters.

A few hours' ride and one comes to another geyser basin at Wairakei, near which is a vent, 9 inches in diameter, letting forth its steam safety valve under a perennial pressure of 180 pounds to the square inch. At Taupo one may proceed to the chateau in the national park and enjoy the snowclad mountain of Ohakune, with its 9,175 feet elevation, and the nearest approach to Japan's world famed Fuji, which it resembles. There are also two other mountains, 6,500 and 7,500 feet high.

Up and Then Down.

The other route leads to Napier, on the east coast, a prosperous city and summer resort. The route leaves Lake Taupo at an elevation of 1,175 feet and rises 1,000 feet or more to a mountain pass. At another time it rises 1,375 feet to a ½ mile height in less than 5 miles, and then drops down 1,600 feet in less than 8 miles.

The chief charm of the south island is the New Zealand Alps, with Mount Cook rising to 12,349 feet and fifteen other peaks above 10,000 feet, and 220 peaks above 7,000 feet. The south island possesses such important cities as Christchurch, Dunedin, and Nelson. The south island is about 14,000 square miles the larger.

NEW ZEALANDERS MEET SAMOANS TO CURB UNREST

APIA, Western Samoa, March 4.—(AP)—The New Zealand governors of Western Samoa met the native chiefs yesterday at Vaimoso in an attempt to end the many years of Samoan resistance to New Zealand's rule.

New Zealand's administrator, Col. S. S. Allen, emphasized three points for the chiefs' consideration as a basis of peace. First, that the militant Mau [League of Native Samoans] should disband; second, that men wanted for offenses against the government should be surrendered; third, that the New Zealand administration, when required, would meet with the leading chiefs to discuss all matters for the benefit of the Samoan people.

High Chief Faumuina, spokesman for the Mau, replied that time would be required to consider fully the proposals. Allen returned to Vaimoso today.

Lewis B. Springer Named State Chief of Forestry

Lewis B. Springer, a former member of the legislature from the Seventh senatorial district, was appointed state superintendent of forestry yesterday. The appointment was announced by Ralph E. Bradford, director of the department of conservation, with the approval of Gov. Emmerson. Mr. Springer is a resident of Wilmette and is in the real estate business. During his service in the general assembly he fathered the present state law on forestry and the first appropriation for state forestry lands.

What Shall I Do for Gray Hair?

By ALICE STRAWN

I am often asked for a good way to restore gray, faded or streaked hair. While there are many preparations on the market for the purpose, I know of nothing better than a mixture of good old sage tea and sulphur. You can either prepare the mixture at home yourself, or as most women prefer, buy it already prepared and ready to use.

The correct recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, may be had in Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur Compound. All druggists carry it and since the cost is only 75c a bottle, there is really no need for any woman to go to the bother of preparing it herself. You would be surprised if you knew the number of men and women who employ Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur because its use is undetectable.

You simply moisten a comb or a soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, one small strand at a time. By morning the gray disappears and another application or two sees your hair beautifully and evenly restored to its full original color. There is no suggestion of that hard, dyed look that repels fastidious women. I advise any woman—or man—whose hair is turning gray to try Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur.

EMERALITE KIND TO EYES

The Kind of Child Most Mothers Want

"Nancy never gives me a bit of trouble," says Mrs. Kelly, who lives at 2144-46th Street, Astoria, Long Island, "because I make sure that her little stomach is always sweet, so no sour food can hurt her. I give her a little ACIDINE, which tastes just like peppermint, at night. That keeps away the acidity which comes when children eat too much cake and candy."

When children get sick and become puny so unexpectedly it's the excessive acids, mother. They make your child drowsy; breath is bad; and skin becomes itchy. Give her a little ACIDINE. She'll like it, and before you realize it, she will brighten up and look fine.

More than two million people believe in ACIDINE because it is so sure, good to take, and inexpensive. You can get ACIDINE at any drug store.

HAWKS AND RANGERS PLAY 2-2 OVERTIME TIE

IT'S HARD TO KEEP A BRITISH FIGHTER HOME

Boxing for Shillings Is Dull Sport.

Fight Decisions

At Hudson, Wis.—Mike Mandell knocked out Pug Firpo [2].
At Indianapolis—Tony Herrera beat Jimmie Reed [10]. Joe Lynn beat Jimmie Dale [8].
At New York—Tony Canzoneri stopped Solly Ritz [1].

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Palm Beach, Fla., March 4.—The British press, which never has been successfully accused of harboring a sense of humor, is very indignant over the injustice done Fainting Phil Scott, John Bull's boy in the battle of the itching palms at Miami, and one of the papers advises British boxers to keep away from the United States.

JACK DEMPSEY.

Of course, the only reason why British prize fighters come to the United States to fight is that the American customer spends dollars with reckless extravagance where the British customer spends shillings with cautious deliberation. It is useless to warn them clear of a land which has paid Fainting Phillip approximately $100,000 for less than 15 minutes of swooning in three abortive encounters.

British Forget to Remember.

There is a smug arrogance about the British temperament, nowhere more apparent than in the editorials or leaders in the press, which assumes that true British sportsmanship is a special type of sportsmanship and true British pluck a very superior kind of pluck, and forgets that true British thrift is a very special kind of parsimony.

Although any continental bellhop will testify that as between handling six trunks for an English gentleman, or six trunk for a French millionaire, he would much rather fetch one pitcher of cracked ice for an American school ma'am doing Europe in three weeks on her savings for the current year.

It must be a simple minded people which will take a serious patriotic attitude toward a heavyweight prize fight in the United States in view of all the revelations that have been printed regarding the prize fight industry here since Gene Tunney acknowledged his signature on a mysterious agreement with Max [Boo Boo] Hoff, executed shortly before he took the ring against Jack Dempsey in Philadelphia.

Just prior to their second fight in Chicago in the twilight of evening, a member of the Illinois prize fight commission called on Dempsey at his training quarters accompanied by an influential racketeer of the period, since deceased, per small arms fire, and this item of significant interest was printed, too.

Just a Mischievous Farce.

These and various other enlightening circumstances should have impressed the English press with the fact that prizefighting in this country, particularly in the upper ranks of the heavyweight class, is not sporting drama but broad, mischievous farce, to be viewed with the same tolerant amusement with which all well balanced persons regard the keynote speeches of the temporary chairman at our national nominating conventions.

Americans, although they pay $25 for prizefight tickets, do not require nor necessarily prefer idealized sporting contests, being partial, I believe, to the unexpected turns of strategy devised by the manipulators serving in the corners or on the prizefight commissions. If the British press is outraged by the idea that Fainting Philip was denied his technical rights, as he certainly was in Miami, their sense of true British sportsmanship should remind them that Philip never earned the match in the first place but was appointed for it, despite his depressing record, as a political favor from the New York prizefight commission to his manager, James J. Johnston.

Who Cares Who Won?

The taste of the American customer is such that those who paid their $25 to see the battle of the itching palms undoubtedly were more excited and better entertained by the hilarious foolishness in the third round than they would have been by a fifteen round boxing match between a puncher without the skill to break through a defensive boxer too timid to let fly a punch lest he irritate his opponent.

It seemed to me that the customers were well pleased with the show and not much interested in the identity or nationality of the victor and as they were the only ones with anything at stake, the British press has no cause for complaint. Philip is better off by $30,000 minus the customary 30 per cent for his managers and his reputation cannot be said to have suf-

Ruth, Yanks Near Salary Agreement?

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 4.—(AP)—While a chill, biting wind swept across the park today, perspiration dropped from the ruddy face of Babe Ruth. Grunting and shouting, posing for cameramen, or exchanging wisecracks with bystanders, Ruth, capless, in the heavy white gym shirt, cavorted around first base like a rookie just up from the bushes. In short, the great man, who has yet to sign a 1930 contract, was the life of the Yankee party, going through a snappy drill under the watchful eyes of Manager Bob Shawkey and First Lieutenant Arthur Fletcher.

The camp and hotel lobby gossip is that a compromise will be reached by the end of this week on the salary issue by which Ruth will sign a one year contract for $85,000. This is the figure the Babe demanded for a new three year term of office. The club's best offer, which Ruth unhesitatingly spurned, was $75,000 for each of the next two years.

The belief, however, is that Ruth is inclined to gamble on the future if he can have his own figure met for at least this year. Col. Jacob Ruppert, the Yankee owner, may be willing to concede this proposition when he arrives here Thursday night to settle the situation in a personal conference with the big hitter.

TEN BROWNS MISSING.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 4.—(AP)—Ten players were missing from the Browns' training camp here today, but Manager Bill Killefer was expecting the early arrival of most of them. The skipper, however, was not hopeful that Ralph Kress and Heinie Manush would arrive soon, since neither has indicated any willingness to go to work for what the Browns offered them. The work of Pitcher Dick Coffman continued to impress Manager Killefer.

CARDS DRILL SANS BATTING.

Bradentown, Fla., March 4.—(AP)—Two workouts, without any batting practice, constituted the Cardinals' activities here today. With only six young pitchers in camp and their arms weary from their batting practice work yesterday, Manager Gabby Street decided it would be safer to let the players engage in pepper games and other forms of exercise.

RAIN HAMPERS PIRATES.

Paso Robles, Cal., March 4.—(AP)—Practice games will start Friday at the Pittsburgh Pirates training camp here if it doesn't rain. Manager Jewel Ens made the announcement today while gazing sadly at the downpour outside, but one of many that have disrupted his training program. The Pirate activities today were confined to calisthenics and skipping rope performed indoors.

HARRIS GROOMS PITCHERS.

Tampa, Fla., March 4.—(AP)—Manager Buckey Harris has taken steps to improve the pitching quality of the Detroit Tigers, only one of whose moundsmen finished the 1929 season with a winning record, without offending the pitcher temperament.

A board of pitching control was organized in the Tigers' training camp here. It includes Roger Bresnahan, Jean Dubuc and Aloysius Egan.

GIANTS' ROOKIE BEARS DOWN.

REDS' HURLERS TRY FIELDING.

Orlando, Fla., March 4.—(AP)—Cincinnati pitchers, with the exception of Si Johnson, still weak from an attack of mumps, had their first real taste of the Dan Howley method of workout today. The manager put them through their paces in covering first base on hits to the right side of the infield for an hour and a half, catching flies in the outfield for another hour, and a trip around the park.

ROOSEVELT PREP HEAVIES DEFEAT LANE FIVE, 21-19

Calumet Lights Win Way to Title Game.

The heavyweight semi-finals between the north and south section aren't over yet. Roosevelt, north section champion, which couldn't win its two games with the south side teams, rallied to beat Lane Tech, 21 to 19, at Loyola gym yesterday. The Techs' defeat plunged them into a tie with Morgan Park, south section titleholder, which scored its third victory of the season over Bowen yesterday. Both teams have won two and lost one in the semi-finals.

Capt. Krajacic of the Lane light weights sank a last minute free throw to give his team a 20 to 19 decision over Roosevelt. The heavyweight score was tied 8 to 8 at the half, and 16 to 16 at the third quarter. Lapid's basket just before the gun sounded brought Roosevelt victory. Vaicek, Lane star, was ruled out on personal fouls in the first period, but contributed seven points before going. Line-ups:

ENGLEWOOD BEATS CRANE.

Englewood heavyweights, central section runnersup, defeated Crane of the west division in another semi-final battle at White City last night, 25 to 16. Chuck Waterman led the Englewood scorers with 9 points, while Denenberg, Bocek, and Maffia featured for the losers. Englewood led at the half, 11 to 8, but Crane came back and took a 16 to 13 advantage. Johnson then tied the score and Waterman and Guthrie added the 9 points. Lineup:

PHILLIPS WINS SECOND.

Wendell Phillips heavyweights, central section champions, scored their second semi-final victory at Crane last night by defeating Harrison, west division titleholders, 22 to 16. The Harrison lightweights gained revenge for two previous defeats by trimming Marshall, west champion, 22 to 19, at Crane yesterday afternoon. The heavyweight game was tied at 11-all at the half, but Phillips took a 16 to 11 lead. Harrison rallied and came within a point in the last few minutes. A basket and two free throws

McCARTHY GETS YOUNG HURLERS READY FOR WORK

Will Test Newcomers in Week-End Games.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 4.—The young fellows who have ambitions to become members of the hurling staff will be permitted to carry the mound burden this week-end when the Cubs start operations in the first two of a long series of exhibitions at Los Angeles. The veteran curvers will not be asked to perform for at least another ten days unless an emergency should arise.

Boss McCarthy handed this information to the beardless candidates today, and while they welcomed the opportunity they feared that too good a showing might do nothing more for them than to get their names transferred to the Angels' roster. They were not far from right. Officials of the latter at least one flinger.

New Hurler Annoys Hitters.

The young flingers in line of labor Saturday and Sunday are Nelson, Shealy, Moss, and Teachout. Just how long they'll last and the order in which they'll appear will not be known until McCarthy has time to consult himself in secret conference.

During the drill this morning, when Hornsby, Wilson, Heathcote, Lester Bell, and English were on the batting side there was more or less annoyance caused by George Bell, who was one of the rookies used by the team in the field. Bell is a tall, loose jointed kid who had a mediocre record last season with Mobile of the Southern association, but he was purchased on his appearance. He has an overhand delivery, which isn't common these days, and with it a slow, sinking curve. He employed this sinker today, and the men who are real hitters bellowed lustily because they couldn't do much more than drive the ball into the ground in front of the plate. Bell might develop into the dark horse of the outfit.

Grimm Joins Reducers.

The fat men of the outfit, with few exceptions, still are laboring on the problem of reduction. Nobody would suspect it, but Der Kaptink Charley Grimm is in this class. He is sporting a rubber shirt. Neither would anybody suspect that Pudgy Hack Wilson wasn't in this class. Hack, after a few days of exercise, says he is eleven pounds below his weight of a year ago.

No workout of the Cub squad or even the reports thereof would be complete without mention of Gabby Hartnett's machine gun arm. The wing still is free and without pain, so there is no change in the report of last week that he would be the regular backstop when the impending campaign bursts open. Gabby felt so good today that he asked McCarthy if he couldn't get behind the plate in batting practice and do a bit of throwing to second base. McCarthy told him to keep quiet, so Gabby confined himself to a bunting game on the side lines.

Taylor Tried at Third.

One of the two teams McCarthy has made up includes Danny Taylor as a third baseman, but this shouldn't be considered important. Danny is an outfielder and was good enough as a hitter to lead the International league last season when he was at Reading, the Cubs' farm. While there he was tried as an infielder because the Cubs needed that variety of employé, but the experiment was a flop.

Lester Bell now is available for the job, but if a real pinch should occur during the season, Taylor might be drafted.

Wesley Ferrell, Indians' Pitching Star, Signs Up

New Orleans, La., March 4.—(AP)—Wesley Ferrell, one of the aces of the Cleveland Indians' pitching staff, ended his controversy with General Manager Billy Evans over the matter of salary today with a telegram accepting the club offer for the season. Ferrell was the last of the holdouts.

Fans, White Sox Mystery Is No More

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Antonio, Tex., March 4.—The heavy shroud of mystery that has enveloped the goings on anent the assembling of the White Sox ball club of 1930 has lifted. You, dear public, are to be let in on secrets of a character heretofore held inviolate. Mr. Charles A. Comiskey, long known as the most close-mouthed of all the magnates, has taken you into his confidence.

Yesterday we undertook to list several mysteries pertaining to about $180,000 worth of athletes. Now we are submitting a supplementary list of items, solving all mysteries previously outlined.

The solutions are not hearsay or rumor. Treasurer Lou Comiskey, manager Donie Bush and Secretary Harry Grabiner today held a conference with the press at which they deplored implications that club officials had been guilty of holding out on the bugs who lay down two or three pennies for a newspaper and $1 for a baseball ticket. Although there were no refreshments, it was one of the clubbiest conferences you ever saw.

After the confab everybody was happy. Judge for yourself how pleased everybody was. We all got together and sang a hymn of success for Mr. Comiskey, Mr. Bush and the White Sox. And what a hymn! Rotary or Kiwanis never sang with greater verve.

Here are the mystery solutions:

1. No one sent for the Great Shires, who spent last night and today in San Antonio. He can join the ball club on three conditions: [a] If he accepts the terms offered; [b] If he promises never to sass Manager Bush on or off the ball field; [c] If he promises never to quarrel with a teammate.

2. J. Smead [Carnera] Jolley, $50,000 outfielder purchased from the San Francisco club of the Coast league to give the Sox batting punch, has signed his contract and is pleased with his terms. His delay in getting here is traceable to an effort to get part of his purchase price from the San Francisco club.

3. Willie Kamm, for six years ranking third baseman of the American league, as suspected, is a holdout. Kamm wants to be captain, a job he resigned a year ago and then resumed reluctantly. Mr. Bush says he doesn't want or need a captain on the Sox. Kamm has been tendered the same terms as he accepted last year.

4. Alex Metzler, regular left fielder last year, but doped as a third stringer this year, is a holdout. Alex has been offered a sort of bonus contract—if he plays as well as he did two years ago he'll get as much money as he drew last season.

9:48—Called at New York Giants' headquarters and sang the blues to Dick Kinsella and Hans Lobert.

11:00—Submitted to a brief interview in his suite at the Blue Bonnett hotel.

11:10—Launched a tour of San Antonio hotel lobbies, exclusive of Sox headquarters, and the more popular restaurants.

12:30—After being assured all Sox had gone to bed, visited Chicago press fellows in the latters' quarters, regaling them with all manner of anecdotes and a few moans.

10:00 a. m.—Arose and donned one of his favorite costumes.

10:30 a. m.—Went to Giants' workout and talked an hour with John J. McGraw.

12:00—Lunched in company with his entourage.

1:00—Returned to ball park for Giants' afternoon workout.

2:15—Left town, ostensibly for his home in Italy, Tex.

All Sox officials said they had had no communication with C. Arthur during his visit in town. But some of the boys were betting the young first baseman will be in uniform ere another week.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

An overtime game of dazzling hockey from the first faceoff to a few minutes before the final horn didn't do a thing toward breaking that tie for second place between the Blackhawks and the New York Rangers at the Stadium last night. After seventy minutes of brilliant play that kept the crowd of 14,000 constantly cheering, the score was deadlocked at 2 to 2.

JOHNNY GOTTSELIG

The Rangers were willing to call it quits first and take a tie, resorting to defensive play to hold the Hawks' headlong dashes in check, but it didn't slow up the speed one whit. The Rangers went out in front by a goal by Thompson in the first period, increased it to two on Keeling's score, and then Abel scored a minute later. Gottselig poked the puck into the net in the third period to tie the count.

Play Clean and Fast.

In contrast to the last game, which was a series of fist fights, this contest was remarkably clean and the faster for it. Only five penalties were called in the four periods, and none of them for anything vicious. The only time any one got hurt was when Vail's lift shot caught March over the right eye and the cut made by the edge of the puck required a couple of stitches to close. But the Hawks' little "Iron man" came back on the ice in the next period and, to the accompaniment of a roar of approval, played as if one eye wasn't covered with a wad of gauze and tape.

The draw was a result of the clash of two opposing styles of hockey. The Rangers might be said to use a delayed offense, seldom sending more than two men down on a rush, but keeping one or two forwards planted close to their blue line on defense. They waited for an opening, and with the smoothness of a finished hockey machine took it. Their passing was beautiful and their team work practically perfect.

The Hawks' younger and less polished team, met the blue shirted New Yorkers with speed, more speed and spirit to fight them to a finish. Where the Rangers calmly intercepted passes and shot the puck to a teammate who was clear, the Hawks accomplished as much by following the rubber like terriers, driving and striving with every ounce of energy. Not that the Rangers haven't as much speed as the Hawks. They have and the experience to match it. But in pure pluck that wouldn't quit, the Hawks were their superiors last night.

Scores on Solo Rush.

How mightily the Chicagoans tried is indicated by the goalies' saves, the Hawks putting 41 shots on the net to 30 for the Rangers. That indicates how the Hawks were going through the Rangers' four man defense, but it also shows how well Taffy Abel, and Teddy Graham held up in playing seventy minutes on the defense line without a rest.

The backchecking of the forwards also had something to do with that, and while he didn't score, Vic Ripley deserves a hand all by himself. The little blonde center who has been pursued by illness all year, was all over the ice last night and his poke check was working like a charm.

Fourteen minutes of the first period had passed before Paul Thompson scored the first goal for the Rangers on a solo rush. The official scorer gave Keeling an assist for a pass in center ice, but in the actual scoring of the goal he served no purpose except that of a decoy.

Taking Keeling's pass in center ice, Thompson raced down right ice and faked Abel into a body check which missed. Gardiner dropped to save, but Thompson held his shot a fraction of a second and slapped the puck past the goalie into the farthest corner of the net, despite Gardiner's frantic kick at it. The Hawks' also had had a couple of good chances in the period but the most outstanding bit was the fine work of both teams, breaking up plays with sweep and poke checks.

March was hit in the face half way through the second period, in which the Hawks had a decided advantage in the play. They carried the puck to the Rangers' goal a score of times, but that polished machine was as efficient on defense as offense. Only three minutes were left in the period when Frank Boucher and Butch Keeling combined to score again for the Rangers.

Boucher carried the puck into the Hawks' defense area on the right and whipped a pass to Keeling, who was racing in on the left. Keeling took the hard pass in front of the net and shot with one motion, beating Gardiner with the shot and doing a complete somersault over the prostrate goalie and crashing into the boards.

Abel Scores His First Goal.

Less than a minute later the Hawks again drew up to only a goal behind. Abel began the sortie, passed to Adams at the left. Inside the Rangers' blue line, Adams shot the puck back to Abel, who bored in between the defense with it. Roach stopped his first short shot, going to his knees, but Abel dug the puck from under him, and literally smashed it into the net. It was Taffy's first goal of the year.

With a score to work on, the Hawks lost less than four minutes of the third period before they tied the count. Roach had made a great slash save of Ripley's drive and the puck was still in the Rangers' defense area. Frank Ingram grabbed the puck as a defense man shot it to the boards, and sped behind the Rangers' net. Around the goal he passed out to Johnny Gottselig in front of the net, and Gottselig took the pass cleanly and whistled it past Roach.

Neither team took any chances in the overtime. The Hawks knew how smoothly that Ranger machine could slip goals into the net at the slightest slip of an opponent, and the Rangers knew how swiftly the Hawks could charge if the defense let up for a second.

WARNER TO AID HANLEY AT N. U. SUMMER SCHOOL

Teacher and pupil will collaborate when Pop Warner, veteran coach at Stanford university, assists Coach Dick Hanley in offering the football course at the annual Northwestern university summer school, Aug. 11 to 22. Hanley uses the Warner system in his football coaching. Warner will give his course during the first week of the school.

Coach Hanley invited the famous west coast grid leader to give his football course when he went west with the all-star east team and trained at Palo Alto. Hanley received Warner's acceptance yesterday. Last summer the school attracted 185 coaches. This year the enrollment is expected to exceed 250.

Besides football the school offers courses in basketball and track. Coach Dutch Lonborg has charge of the basketball class and Coach Hill conducts track.

CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Loyola and De La Salle heavyweights, leaders in the north and south sections of the Catholic league, continued to make the pace last night, the former defeating De Paul on the Loyola floor, 19 to 14, while the latter invaded the De La Salle of Joliet court for a 22 to 18 victory. Both of the winners' lightweight teams were defeated, De Paul trimming Loyola in an overtime, 19 to 18, while De La Salle bowed to Joliet, 20 to 15. Shanley, Bon and Burke led the Loyola heavies, while Ed Krause featured for De La Salle. Smith scored the winning basket for the De Paul lights in the extra period. Lineups:

COLLINS BEATS SUTTON IN 18.2 MATCH, 600-427

Percy N. Collins of Chicago, former national amateur 18.2 balkline billiard champion, defeated George B. Sutton, also of Chicago, 600 to 427 in their special two block match at Mussey's parlors last night. Collins clinched the match by taking the final block, 427 to 127 in 18 innings.

This was the first match in Sutton's comeback campaign and after the first block Monday night, which he won, 300 to 173, having an unfinished run of 55, he seemed a certain winner. But Collins opened with a run of 90, and added strings of 74, 59, 41 and 35. Sutton's best runs were 35 and 24.

Collins had an average of 23 13-18 for the second block, and his average for the match was 15 15-39 against Sutton's average of 10 for the match.

GLENNA COLLETT TIES RECORD IN FLORIDA TOURNEY

St. Augustine, Fla., March 4.—(AP)—Miss Glenna Collett led a great field today to win the medal in the qualifying round of the Florida east coast tournament with a brilliant 74.

This score equalled the course record for women made by Miss Collett in the qualifying round of the 1928 tournament.

Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, Miss Maureen Orcutt, New York and Miss Helen Hicks, New York, were tied for second place with 78's.

Chicago's Biggest Indoor Polo Meet Will Start Tonight

E. A. S. Hopping, internationally known polo player, will be one of the referees in the Illinois circuit indoor tournament, starting tonight at the Chicago Riding club, proceeds from which will be donated to Chicago Boys' clubs and Boy Scouts. Mr. Hopping, on his way east, after participation in the winter Pacific coast championships, will work Friday and Saturday nights.

Frank Hayes and Walter Barger are others who will serve as referees.

Chicago's largest indoor polo tournament will be launched with four games tonight. In the first at 7 o'clock, 124th field artillery reserves will take on the 317th cavalry. Other games, at intervals of one hour, will bring together University of Chicago and Fort Sheridan reserves, 122d field artillery C and Fort Sheridan, and 124th field artillery C and Chicago Riding club C.

Fifteen three man teams will compete, their handicaps ranging from fourteen goals, the rating of the Chicago Riding club trio, to two. Several clubs and army units have entered more than one team. Because of their ratings the teams have been named for different classes.

It's Hard to Keep British Boxer Home

fered because his was a reputation strangely immune to damage, like a private detective's reputation for truth and veracity.

I begin to suspect that the British press is developing an inferiority complex as to the United States. Americans are dollar chasers, even though British prize fighters, actors, and authors find the dollar chasing very fruitful and not especially arduous over here. But, when Americans go to England they discover the English chasing shillings with dogged persistency and much less success. English employers believe that if the working classes get too many shillings they might get out of hand and consequently English prize fighters on their own home grounds fight for prices which preliminary boys would spurn in the U. S. A.

Considering the quality of prize fighters that England has been sending here in the last ten years, I should judge that it would be quite O. K. with the American customer if the boys should heed the admonition of the London newspapers to stay at home, where they can be certain of fair play, attended by low remuneration.

Grand Jury Time Again.

The Florida season is now coming to an untimely close. The larceny has been unconfined in the Miami region this year and after several alarms and temporary migrations to adjoining counties, the gambling men of the north have folded away their furniture and tools and started for home. The Miami grand jury is sitting again and the chaps have decided that this would be as good a time as any, if not better, to adjourn business.

The sheriff will now testify to the success of his efforts to suppress lawlessness, culminating in the rout of the enemy just at grand jury time. Conditions were ever thus at grand jury time.

YANGER TO GIVE GOLDEN GLOVES TEAM POINTERS

C. A. A. Instructor Eager to Help Boys.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Benny Yanger, known in the ring as the Tipton Slasher a quarter of a century ago, will help train THE TRIBUNE Golden Gloves winners for the inter-city bouts with New York at Chicago Stadium, March 19.

Yanger is boxing instructor at the Chicago A. A., where the Chicago team will gather March 12 for a week of strenuous training. The team will be in charge of Johnny Behr, physical instructor at the Illinois A. C.; S. H. Darwent, assistant physical instructor at the C. A. A., and Jabber Young, coach of the Belle Plaine A. C. team.

Sees Promising Boxers.

"I have seen the trials and finals," Yanger said yesterday, "and I am convinced Chicago has a promising team. Some of the boys need a little schooling, but in a week's time we can teach them the finer points of the game.

"We shall not try to change their natural styles. We will endeavor to teach them how to keep their hands up to protect jaws and body and how to counter punch. We want them to be aggressive. In amateur boxing the fighter who leads and forces the fight generally is the winner."

Boys Already Training.

Members of the Chicago team already are in training. Through the courtesy of Sheldon Clark, chairman of the athletic committee of the C. A. A., a ring will be erected in the club's gymnasium. E. C. Delaporte, physical director of the C. A. A., has made arrangements to quarter out of town boxers.

Professional fighters and others connected with the game have offered their services.

3 TIE FOR LEAD IN ST. PETERSBURG OPEN TOURNEY

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 4.—(AP)—Louis Chiapetta of Clearwater, Fla., Tony Manero of New York and Tom Creavy of New York shared the lead in the $2,500 St. Petersburg open golf tournament here today, each turning in cards of 72, one over par, for the Lakewood Estates course.

Gene Sarazen of Freshmeadow, L. I., had difficulties on the outgoing nine and turned in a 77. Bobby Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., scored a 73, and Harry Cooper, Los Angeles, turned in a 78.

LORD PLUSHBOTTOM ALLOW ME TO PRESENT MY NIECE MISS GWENDOLYN GUMPERTZ.
CHAWMED, I'M SURE.
MULLINS IS MY NAME, GWENNY. JUST CALL ME, MOON.
OH-HELLO, MULLINS-HOW ARE YOU?
WONDERFUL, SIR SAMBO. JUST WONDERFUL.
WELL, I AM GLAD TO HEAR THAT SOMEBODY THINKS SO.
DID YOU HEAR THAT, MULLINS? SHE JUST SAID- "SO THAT IS THE GREAT LORD PLUSHBOTTOM" YEH AND DID YOU NOTICE HOW SHE PUT THE ACCENT ON THE THAT?

Y.M.C.A. Boys Await Call to Title Fights

More than 100 young battlers are ready to enter the ring Friday at the Central Y. M. C. A. to fight for the city Y. M. C. A. boxing titles. Every class has a large entry, with South Chicago Y predominating in the list in an effort to retain the all-class championship won last year.

In the 147 pound class, Joe Lewis of Hyde Park will defend his title, but will find keen competition. One of his chief obstacles will be George Hull of South Chicago, who won the third prize in that class last year. Al Garcia of Central Y looks like a comer among the 126 pound boys.

FAVORITES WIN IN PALM BEACH TENNIS TOURNEY

Palm Beach, Fla., March 4.—(AP)—Favorites again ruled the courts today and paved the way for some fast quarter finals in the 20th annual Florida men's tennis championship on the Palm Beach Tennis club's courts.

Seeded players, including Norris Williams II., eleventh ranking player; J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J.; Emmett Pare, Chicago; Marcel Rainville, Montreal; Craig Biddle, Peacedale, R. I., and Karl H. Hodge, St. Louis, won their matches handily, with the exception of Hodge. He received a good fight from J. D. E. Jones, Providence, R. I.

However, Jones went into the game with a sore arm and was forced to default after losing the first set, 7-5, and winning the second, 5-3.

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pine Island, Fla., March 4.—A thrilling outdoor scenario entitled "When the Tide Comes In" could be written with this island as the scene of action. Today we visited the Pine Island bridge to see the excitement furnished by such star actors as sharks, sea trout, ladyfish, jacks, mullet, and other roving salt water performers. The program lasted for several hours.

Pine Island is south and west of Punta Gorda. Several long arms of the gulf reach back into the tidal flats, which are alive with birds. Several short bridges span main channels through the lowlands. When we reached these channels the tide virtually was at a standstill. The salt water had reached its lowest ebb for the day. Around the shallow pools left in the mangroves we could see the water birds feeding, for low tide is their hour. All the bars and mud beaches are exposed, and food is plentiful.

Then the tide began to creep in and the steady current from the gulf soon sent several feet of water over the lowlands. This is the magic hour in fishland. With the flow of water comes food and the fish sail into action. They are savage, striking food hunters. It's the zero hour among the fish and also the welcome hour among fishermen, because when the tide turns the Waltonians know it's time to do their stuff.

Leading the migrating schools of fish coming in to feed on the flats were the ladyfish, and they were nothing less than a riot. When we first arrived at our fishing spot on the slack tide we couldn't get a strike with our bait casting outfit. Thirty minutes later—zowie! what a high jumping contest we got into. The long, slim ladyfish hurtled into the air to become molten bars of silver and pearl under the bright sun, and the air was filled with shouts of excited anglers as they watched the performance.

LOUISIANA PREP CHAMPIONS ENTER STAGG TOURNEY

The second team to accept an invitation to play in the University of Chicago's national basketball interscholastic, April 1 to 5, is Jena, champions of Louisiana.

Jena competed in the tournament last year, going into the quarterfinals by defeating Wheatland, Wyo., and Heath, Ky. The Joes, Colo., team which won third place eliminated Jena. The Louisiana champs represents a town of 520.

Robert E. Lee High of Jacksonville, Fla., is the other team entered so far.

AMATEUR MAT WINNERS TO GET DIAMOND MEDALS

The midwest amateur wrestling championships at the Coliseum, under the sanction of the Central A. A. U., beginning April 15, will be known as the diamond championships, according to Promoters Coffey and Krone in charge.

Diamond medals will be awarded winners of the eight classes from the 112 pounders to the heavyweights. Tokens studded with rubies will go to the runnersup. There also will be a suitable trophy for the team winner.

Maroons and Illini to Clash Again Tonight

The University of Chicago five will engage in its last two games of a rather disastrous season this week, meeting Illinois in Bartlett gymnasium tonight, and traveling to Lafayette to play the championship Purdue quintet Saturday.

With ten games out of the way, the Maroons have conquered only Wisconsin, and are not likely to win either of the remaining contests. Purdue and Illinois both have whipped Chicago this season.

Coach Norgren will start his usual lineup, with Capt. Changnon and Paul Stephenson at forwards, Slim Boesel jumping center, and Fish and Ashley at guards. An unprecedented run of hard luck has kept the Maroon machine in check all year. In the first conference game, Sid Yates, the scoring power of the outfit, sustained a broken wrist and has been out of the lineup since that time. Harry Ashley missed two contests because of an infected foot, and Jonathan Bunge, one of the center prospects, was graduated unexpectedly.

Indian Dislikes Contract; Fixes It with Eraser

Springfield, Mo., March 4.—[Special.]—Columbus Shell, Indian pitcher with the local Western association club, has a method all his own when it comes to signing contracts. He did not like the terms offered him this year, so he wrote from his home in Oklahoma that he had changed the figures to suit himself, erasing those inserted by the club owners.

He had the document witnessed by a notary public and returned it to the local club. Shell probably will remain on his farm in Oklahoma this summer.

Bruins Battle Tonight to Stay in Title Race

Facing the necessity of winning all five games remaining on their schedule, the Chicago Bruins will open a two game series with the Paterson Crescents tonight at the Stadium. The Taylor Trunks also will play, defending their national girls' championship against the Allerton Aces of Cleveland.

The Bruins still have a chance to win the second half championship, but they must win every game and Rochester, the league leader must lose two. Paterson is likely to provide stiff opposition, for Benny Borgeman, is the league's leading scorer. He has only a few points more than Nat Hickey, who hopes to go out in front in tonight's contest.

The GOLDEN ROCKET

Demonstrator represents an invitation to drive this great new car

We have put this Golden Rocket demonstrator on the streets to introduce you to the superior performance of the New Oakland Eight. We want you to know General Motors' lowest-priced eight by what it does, with your own hands at the controls.

The Golden Rocket is symbolic of this car's tremendous speed and power. Its engine develops 85 horsepower. That means one horsepower to every 37 pounds of car weight, a ratio that is not approached in any other car of Oakland's size and weight. That's why so few cars can match it in speed, in pick-up or in climbing the steepest hills. It is making new records over some of the steepest grades in the United States.

Hail the driver of the car with the Golden Rocket today, anywhere you see him. Jump in and take a ride. Notice how easily you can handle the car, shift the gears, apply the brakes. If it's more convenient, arrange at our showrooms for a demonstration. In either case, be sure to drive this car before you consider the purchase of any other new automobile. We'll be glad to have you base your opinion of the New Oakland Eight on what you learn at the wheel.

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

$1045 AND UP

ALTOONA'S STIFFEST GRADE MASTERED FOR THE FIRST TIME

E. L. Shellenberger of Altoona, Pa., writes: "With four passengers in a New Oakland Eight we can start on an 18.5 per cent grade, turn left on a grade of 15.4 per cent, and wind up our high gear performance by topping a 22 per cent grade. The grade figures are from the City Engineer. This superior performance has never been duplicated by any other automobile, regardless of price or power rating."

ULUNIU EQUALS TRACK RECORD IN N. O. VICTORY

Wins Mardi Gras Race by 1½ Lengths.

New Orleans, La., March 4.—(AP)—A bay thoroughbred from Texas streaked across the Mardi Gras handicap picture today and when the dust from his wake had lifted a track record had been equalled and Uluniu proclaimed winner of the closing feature at the Fair Grounds.

Uluniu, a Hawaiian bred son of Rodgers, exploded from the barrier in the rich mile and an eighth to cover the distance in 1:51 1-5, and, thus, equal the track record. Eating the dust from the hoofs of the flying four-year-old, carrying Mrs. Ray Pollard's silks, were 12 ranking runners in training.

Pays $13.20 for $2.

At the end of the jaunt, Uluniu found $5,870. Holders of $2 straight tickets cashed them in for $13.20. In accomplishing his victory, Mrs. Pollard's star packed 111 pounds, a part of which was Johnny Parmalee.

The little jockey reserved his mount off the early pace but when given the word at the top of the stretch, Uluniu went on to win in a clean cut fashion. Parmalee finished with one foot out of the stirrup.

Favorite Finishes Last.

George Collins' eight-year-old Old Slip was a length and a half behind. Only a head back of Old Slip was S. W. Labrot's Dinah Did Upset. The last to cross the finish line was Donnay from the Rancocas' stable, the favorite.

SAN ANTONIO
is all things to all men

Would you adventure along the trail blazed by Spanish conquerors more than two centuries ago?....would you join hands with the eager men and women who are fast turning South and West Texas into America's richest and most diversified agricultural section?....or would you loaf happily in a sunny clime?

It is yours to choose—for San Antonio is all things to all men!

Here you may lead the gay life of a cosmopolitan city of 300,000 hospitable folks....play outdoors in the healing warmth of sunny spring days, storing up new health and energy....explore the rich empire of South and West Texas and see for yourself the varied opportunities it offers the capable worker with a little capital....travel the Road to Romance back through the storied past of this enchanting city 200 years young!

San Antonio, once the capital of a province in New Spain—now the mother city of a great American commonwealth....once the stronghold of a Spanish king—now the center of military activities in the United States, with a dozen army posts and flying fields in and adjacent to the city—once a lazy Spanish village sprawled along the river banks—now the largest city south of St. Louis, east of Los Angeles and west of New Orleans, its citizens busily at work creating new wealth from the raw materials of this far-flung empire!

Come adventuring—now—and see this land of fullfilled promise. Spring is in full bloom, with wild flowers carpeting the countryside. March's mid-day temperature averages 76 degrees and the sun beams from a blue Texas sky nearly seven hours each balmy day. Picnics at sunset, canters along leafy bridle paths, with breakfast in the open....golf, tennis, polo and motoring only begin to list the joyous things to do—and All Outdoors is your playground.

PPLY RADICAL EASURES TO UT OIL OUTPUT

alifornia Reports a Sharp Decline.

BY O. A. MATHER.

adical measures to remedy long-ding overproduction in the Ameri- petroleum industry were taken terday.

First, the federal oil conservation rd, which is composed of the secre- es of war, navy, interior, and com- rce, issued a plea to the oil industry eliminate refinery operations on nday and thus adopt a six day week. s recommendation resulted from the rd's findings that refining capacity gasoline production are increasing ster than consumption.

Second, the drastic curtailment meas- es imposed on crude oil production in alifornia last week resulted in one of the sharpest declines in many months. he country's daily average gross ude oil output dropped 98,100 barrels a total of 2,623,950 barrels a day, cording to the weekly summary of e American Petroleum Institute. Cal- rnia production fell 83,000 barrels a y and Oklahoma made a cut of 29,600 rrels a day, while Kansas and Wyo- ng showed considerable increases.

Adopt Six Day Schedule.

In response to the recommendation of the federal board the Humble Oil & Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company announced last night their adoption of a working schedule of six days a week, beginning next Sunday, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Houston, Tex. President W. S. Parish explained that all drilling, producing, transporting and refining will be shut down on Sundays where physical conditions make it possible and that where a complete shutdown is impracticable operations throughout the week will be reduced one-seventh in volume. But he also said no reduction in personnel or pay roll is contemplated.

But whether the other big refining companies will follow the restriction plan is a question. Jacob France, president of the Midcontinent Petroleum corporation, was quoted in dispatches as asserting that the recommendation of the federal board is very radical and cannot be worked out. He offered a counter suggestion that daily refinery operations might be curtailed but that the plants must operate seven days a week to avoid great loss.

A protest against the plan also was entered with Secretary of the Interior Wilbur by Gov. Moody of Texas, who charged, according to the dispatches, that lowering the supply of gasoline would give the refiners an excuse to boost prices and also would increase the surplus of crude oil.

Supply Rises, Demand Drops.

The recommendation of the federal board was accompanied by a plea to governors of Texas, Oklahoma and California, the chief oil producing states, to persuade the industry to adopt a six day week. The board quoted the report of the bureau of mines showing that 10,000,000 barrels of refined gasoline have been placed in storage since Jan. 1, that supplies are at the highest point since 1927, that demand is only up to the level of 1928. Gasoline production last year was placed at 1,005,598,000 barrels, an increase of 104,500,000 barrels, or 12 per cent, over 1928.

Other news of business and industry was mixed yesterday. Montgomery Ward & Co., mail order and chain store concern, reported the first comparative monthly decline in sales in about two years. The total for February was $18,405,885, a decline of $246,355, or 1.34 per cent, from February, 1929. Sales for the two months this year totaled $36,736,998, a decline of $47,108, or 0.13 per cent, from the corresponding period last year.

Steel Activity Tapers.

Activity in the steel industry appears to have tapered further in the last week. The industry now is operating around 79 per cent of capacity, compared with 80 per cent a week ago, and 93 per cent a year ago. The United States Steel corporation continues between 85 and 86 per cent, but independent companies have sagged to slightly above 73 per cent, compared with 75 per cent a week ago. The decline for the whole industry has been in effect for three weeks.

Building construction took another spurt last week. Contracts awarded in 37 states east of the Rocky mountains totaled $133,899,000, compared with $63,562,000 in the preceding week, and $99,943,700 a year ago, according to the F. W. Dodge corporation. But the total of $641,028,200 for the two months this year still is 17 per cent below the same period in 1929.

Illinois Waterway Seen Big Benefit to Interior

BY SCRUTATOR.

Completion of the Illinois waterway and the linking up of the great lakes and the gulf of Mexico will bring large benefits to cities along the lake, as well as to Chicago and to residents along the great system of rivers in the interior of the continent.

Some specific instances were referred to yesterday by William R. Dawes, president of the Mississippi Valley association, at a luncheon of members of the organization in the Palmer house.

"A firm in Milwaukee," he said, "had a large shipment of machinery destined for Seattle. Its plant had a siding on a railroad that led directly to the city on the coast. But this railroad got only a haul as far as Chicago. The machinery was sent to the Atlantic seaboard, placed on a vessel, shipped through the Panama canal and reached Seattle at a total cost that was $6,000 less than the direct route freight would have been.

Interested in Channel.

"That company is interested in the nine foot channel to the gulf. An oil company in Detroit is ready to use the waterway to haul in its supplies as soon as the channel is complete. Henry Ford's traffic men have been making inquiries as to how soon they will be able to ship to the Mississippi valley by water. There will be barges that can navigate the lakes as well as the rivers and the canals, and we may expect Milwaukee and the other cities on the shores to gain.

"This campaign we are making for the finishing of the waterway is not based on selfish advantage to ourselves. We want the people along the Missouri river to have the proper depth for navigation — whatever is practical, a matter that is in controversy. We want to let Minneapolis and St. Paul have the full benefits, too. Our task is to get the whole valley and the lakes out to the sea with the cheapest possible transportation."

Mr. Dawes devoted a considerable portion of his speech to the legal aspects of the government's taking over of the remainder of the work on the Illinois link. On this the state of Illinois has already spent twenty million dollars, while the other local expenditures bring the total to seventy-five millions. Uncle Sam is now asked to spend only a little more than seven millions in addition. The Mississippi Valley association is hopeful that congress will pass the necessary legislation at this session.

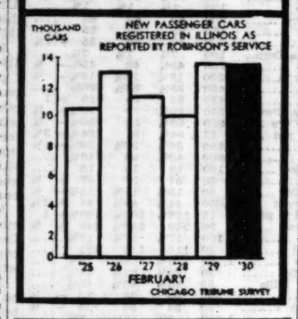
Points of Importance.

Two other points of importance were touched on by Mr. Dawes. One was the ownership of barges and the other the necessity for ocean shipping equipment at New Orleans when the traffic is ready here.

Concerning the first, Mr. Dawes said that private capital would undoubtedly go into the business of operating barges as soon as the channel is complete, as they have already gone in on some of the inland waters. Meanwhile the government operated barges are showing the way.

It was only a year ago, the speaker said, when it was discovered there might be a lack of seagoing ships. There were indications, he added, that interests on the Atlantic coast were trying to prevent the ownership of large vessels by those favoring the valley. As a consequence high prices had to be paid for shipping board vessels to be used out of New Orleans. Even now these are being hampered by a lack of mail contracts, but have fair prospects of getting what they want.

New Auto Sales in Illinois in February Were Near the Record Set Last Year



ENACT MOVIE DRAMA IN OLD FOX STUDIO TODAY BUT NOT FOR SCREEN

New York, March 4.—(AP)—In an old studio, a drama of the motion picture industry will be enacted tomorrow as stockholders in the $90,000,000 motion picture enterprise built up by William Fox consider refinancing plans in an effort to avoid a receivership.

The outcome of the battle tomorrow at the meetings of the stockholders of the Fox Film and theaters corporations was clouded by cross currents of developments today.

The meetings were called by directors of the two corporations, which Fox heads, to consider the refinancing plan which they have approved. An alternative plan was announced today by Halsey, Stuart & Co., with the statement it would be submitted to stockholders at the meeting tomorrow. Halsey, Stuart & Co., one of the principal creditors of the Fox companies, oppose the plan submitted by a group composed of Bancamerica-Blair, Dillon, Read & Co. and Lehman Bros.

Federal Judge Frank Coleman announced today that the stockholders could vote only on the plan approved by directors. In the event it is rejected, Judge Coleman has announced any practicable plan to extricate the companies from their financial difficulties precipitated by the stock market crash would be considered. Otherwise a receivership for the companies is the only alternative.

It was undecided tonight who could legally vote 50,000 shares of class D stock owned by Mr. Fox and placed in trust by him under an agreement with Harry L. Stuart of Halsey, Stuart & Co. and John Otterson, president of the Electrical Research Products, Inc., creditors of the Fox companies to the extent of $27,000,000.

Republic Steel Completes $350,000,000 Consolidation

Cleveland, O., March 4.—(AP)—Consummation of the $350,000,000 merger of the Republic Steel corporation was assured here today with announcement by a merger committee that sufficient percentages of stocks of the constituent companies have been deposited under the proposed plan of consolidation. Announcements of the receipts of stock deposits were mailed to stockholders at once.

The announcements said the committee proposed to declare the merger operative as soon as the requisite corporate proceedings have been taken by the several boards of directors and stockholder groups. The committee anticipated that the boards of directors will meet in about ten days and announce stockholders meetings to follow shortly.

Extends Deposit Time.

In order to comply with requirements of the New York stock exchange the committee extended the time to make deposits of stock to March 10.

Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland industrialist and financier, who arranged the merger, announced the plans last fall. Companies included are the Republic Iron and Steel company, its subsidiaries, Steel and Tubes company and the Union Drawn Steel company, Central Alloy Steel and its subsidiary, Interstate Iron and Steel company, Donner Steel company and its subsidiary, Witherow Steel company; Bourne-Fuller company and Trumbull Cliffs Furnace company.

E. T. McCleary is slated to be the president of the new company. T. M. Girdler is the expected chairman of the board. McCleary is president of the Republic Iron and Steel company and Girdler was former president of the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation.

Estimate Net Sales.

Estimated annual net sales of the new Republic Steel corporation will be $250,000,000. Its physical properties will include the following:

Four blast furnaces, 67 open hearths, seven electric furnaces, two bessemers, 633 coke ovens, 16 rolling mills, 160 finishing mills, and raw material reserves consisting of 125,000,000 tons of iron ore, 165,000,000 tons of coal, and 30,000,000 tons of limestone and dolomite.

Principal products of the company will include yearly 2,900,000 tons of pig iron, 4,900,000 tons of steel ingots, 3,350,000 tons of semi-finished steel, and 5,400,000 tons of finished steel products.

Principal plants of the company are located in Youngstown, Warren, Niles, Canton, Massillon, and Cleveland, O.; Detroit, Mich.; Chicago and Moline, Ill.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Buffalo and Brooklyn, N. Y.; Muncie, Ind.; and Birmingham, Ala.

HARTMAN CORP. SALES, PROFITS HIGHER IN 1929

Sales and earnings of the Hartman corporation increased last year and should prove satisfactory this year, according to President Martin L. Straus, who issued his annual report last night. The company has limited its chain store program, but still will open about ten additional small units this year. Fifty stores were operated at the end of 1929.

Net sales last year totaled $20,294,121, compared with $18,409,552 in 1928. Net income was $1,103,432, equivalent after class A stock dividends to $2.46 a share on 400,000 shares of class B stock. Net income for 1928 was $935,931, equivalent to $2.06 a share on 397,227 class B shares. The balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1929, shows current assets of $17,515,907, current liabilities of $5,052,539 and surplus of $4,031,804.

The annual report of De Met's, Inc., Chicago restaurant chain, shows net income for 1929 available for dividends of $149,586, compared with $169,303 in 1928. Gross income was larger in 1929. The company explains the reduction in net by unusual expenses incurred during the year, including the moving of headquarters. As of Dec. 31 current assets were $855,445, as against current liabilities of $287,101.

Freight Loadings for Week Off 62,707 Cars

Washington, D. C., March 4.—(AP)—Revenue freight loadings for the week ended Feb. 22 were reported today by the American Railway association to have totaled 828,890 cars. This was a reduction of 62,707 cars below the preceding week, and a decrease of 76,613 cars under loadings for the corresponding week a year ago.

New York, March 4.—For no more apparent reason than the growing discouragement of the bear faction, the stock market pushed ahead rather vigorously today.

A scattering of issues developed real driving power. Case Threshing Machine, for example, shot up some 23 points, Westinghouse spurted nearly 7 to a new 1930 high, International Business Machine advanced 6—but later surrendered about a third of it—and Goodyear Tire rose about five.

An imposing batch of the day's favorites of varied classification established new peaks for the year, including, besides Westinghouse, Loose Wiles, Marmon, Oliver, Columbia Carbon, Commercial Solvents, Union Carbide, Consolidated Gas, Household Products, North American, Porto Rican Tobacco, and Warren Brothers.

Vie for Leadership.

Many groups vied for leadership. The farm implements and chemicals were consistently strong, the oils and utilities were bid up strenuously, the coppers made their bid in the afternoon and numerous specialties were active at constantly rising prices. Some of the pivotals, notably United States Steel and General Electric, became prominent in the late dealings, registering a net gain of more than a point each.

AMERICAN G. & E. SUBSIDIARIES ARE SUBJECT OF QUIZ

Washington, D. C., March 4.—(AP)—Transactions involving the Ohio Power company and the Indiana and Michigan Electric company, both subsidiaries of the American Gas and Electric company, were examined today in the federal trade commission's investigation of public utilities financing methods.

Special attention was devoted also to the acquirement by American Gas and Electric of the Electric Company of America, in connection with which Max F. Millikan, now vice president of the holding company, testified that he had acted as an intermediary some years ago.

Commission examiners gave all the testimony about the Ohio Power and the Indiana and Michigan Electric companies, after close examination of the books of those firms. John H. Bickley said he had found a discrepancy of more than $3,000,000 between revenues reported by the Ohio concern to the state public service commission as having been received from sale of electric energy, and the receipts as shown on the books of the company itself. He said only $15,547,879 had been reported in 1928, while the figure was $18,902,480 on the books.

Ernest R. Lucas told of the formation of the Indiana and Michigan Electric company by the merging of the old Indiana and Michigan Electric company and the Twin Branch Power company. As a result of that merger, he said, the fixed assets of the two companies were "written up" $5,958,475, after the Indiana public service commission had approved the merger and sanctioned an issue of securities as requested by the holding company.

Hear B. & O., N.Y.C. Agree on Reading Stock Purchase

New York, March 4.—(AP)—The New York Herald Tribune tomorrow will publish a report that the Baltimore and Ohio and the New York Central railroads have arrived at an understanding, on the basis of which the former road may take over the Reading railroad stock of the New York Central. The acquisition of the New York Central's 25 per cent interest in the Reading railroad would give the Baltimore and Ohio approximately 64 per cent of the Reading stock, and also control of the Jersey Central. The Jersey Central has been the keystone upon which the Baltimore and Ohio has concentrated its whole consolidation plan, and acquisition of it would afford the Baltimore and Ohio entrance into New York.

Bankers' Acceptances Dealers Reduce Rates

New York, March 4.—(AP)—Leading dealers in bankers' acceptances today reduced the bid and asked rates on all maturities by one-eighth of 1 per cent. The new rates are as follows: 30@120 days, 3⅜ per cent bid, 3⅝ per cent asked; 150@180 days, 3⅞ per cent bid and 3⅝ per cent asked.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 4.—Mexican Petroleum company declared a dividend of $20 a share from surplus on common and regular quarterly of $3 on common. Regular quarterly dividend of $2 on preferred was also declared payable the same date. In April of last year the company paid an extra dividend of $40 a share along with the ordinary $3 rate. The company is a subsidiary of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, which owns about 98 per cent of the stock. The special dividend will enrich Pan-American's treasury by approximately $9,000,000.

A quarterly dividend of 20c a share was voted on the common stock of the Timken Detroit Axle company, placing it on an 80c annual basis, as contrasted with the 60c rate with extras, which has been paid heretofore.

Loose-Wiles Biscuit company declared an extra dividend of 10c on the common stock. The New England Public Service company declared a stock dividend of 1¼ per cent.

Milwaukee Road Cuts Train Time to St. Paul

George B. Haynes, passenger traffic manager of the Milwaukee railroad, announces that, effective March 9, the running time of the train leaving Chicago Sunday evening for St. Paul and Minneapolis will be reduced an hour. Under the new schedule the train will leave Chicago at 11:35 p. m. Sunday and will arrive in St. Paul at 9:40 o'clock Monday morning and Minneapolis at 10 o'clock.

Announce Withdrawal of Merger Negotiations

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 4.—Officials of both the Republic Steel company and the American Rolling Mills company announced today the withdrawal of their companies from negotiations looking toward a combination with the Gulf States Steel company, the American Rolling Mills company issuing its statement during the morning and the Republican officials following suit tonight. The two companies formerly had been rivals in efforts to bring about a combination with the Gulf States organization.

What makes an advertising agency make good?

THE advertiser familiar only with one agency's work necessarily is limited when giving an opinion of agency service.

For a real estimate, go rather to the advertiser whose experience with agencies is more extensive.

It is interesting that the accounts served by the Roche agency, almost without exception, had been directed by numerous other agencies before becoming settled here.

And aware that some of these predecessor agencies, by accepted ratings, are outstanding in accomplishment and size, the Roche agency treats the confidence reposed in it as a continual challenge of its capacity and mettle.

That is why a notably successful principal of matured advertising experience serves every advertiser here—and why no account, however small, that we accept, is ever classified as minor.

CITIES SERVICE SPURTS AHEAD IN TRADING HERE

Borg-Warner at Peak on Chicago Exchange.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Brisk trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday was featured by substantial gains in Cities Service and Borg Warner. Several other issues scattered throughout the list made creditable showings, giving the market a strong tone. Sales volume expanded to 306,000 shares.

Cities Service, which has large natural gas holdings, established a new high for the year at 33¼, a net advance of 3¼ for the day. Strength in the stock follows the flurry of activity experienced by most of the gas utility issues on the local board and in New York. Nothing resembling definite announcement concerning the reported formation of a huge super gas system has yet been made.

Expands in Michigan.

The company has added to its retail marketing facilities in Michigan through the acquisition of four distributing companies. The company now has about forty retail outlets in that state. Other gas utility issues fluctuated narrowly. United Gas eased a point and Missouri Kansas Pipe Line closed up a fraction.

On sales approximating 20,000 shares, Borg-Warner shot up 2¾ to 45, setting another 1930 high. Pines Winterfront responded to reports that the company will show an increase in February sales over last year. The stock closed at 44, up more than a point. James F. Raleigh, president, states that tabulation of February sales figures which will be completed in about a week will show a gain of more than 50 per cent. Discussing the outlook in the automotive equipment field for the year, Mr. Raleigh believes that the third and fourth quarters will make up the shrinkage in the first two quarters.

Stimulated by the announcement of Charles F. Glore, president, at the stockholders' meeting, that Chicago Corporation holdings have appreciated more than $4,000,000 since Dec. 31, the corporation's common stock sold higher on active trading. The issue closed at 14¾. The preferred made a slight advance.

Assets 54 Millions.

As of Feb. 28 net assets of the holding company amounted to more than $54,000,000, compared with original capital of $59,375,000 and net assets of approximately $50,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1929. Net asset value of common shares now amounted to about $7.50 after deduction of liquidating value of $55 a share on the preferred stock.

Mr. Glore told stockholders in replying to questions that the company paid $25 a share for 200,000 shares of the Willys Overland stock now held, and that 50,000 shares had been purchased in the open market at prices less than $25. Holdings reported on Dec. 31 are still intact, he said.

Grigsby shares dropped a fraction. Meeting of directors has been postponed until Friday, it was stated.

Holland Furnace Co. Has $2,202,858 Net Earnings

Establishing new records in sales and earnings, the Holland Furnace company report for 1929 shows net profits of $2,202,858, which after preferred dividends of $108,636 paid leaves $2,094,222, equal to $4.85 a share on 432,196 no par shares outstanding. This compares with $1,245,190 earned in 1928, equal after preferred dividends of $112,000, to $2.81 a no par share on 402,857 shares, which were then outstanding. Total sales amounted to $18,671,828, as compared with $15,849,034 in 1928, an increase of 17.8 per cent.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, March 4.—(AP)—Cotton goods continued quiet and barely steady. Raw silk stocks were reduced in February to 58,000 bales from 76,000 while consumption for the month reached 49,852 bales. Japan silk advanced on a report that the government will indemnify reelers for recent losses. Burlaps were unchanged and quiet. Wool goods openings are attracting more buyers.

Chicago Board of Trade Stocks

The market yesterday on the whole presented no new or striking features. North American Trust advanced ¼ point and Cook county warrants were ⅛ lower.

Top yesterday, $11.15; average, $10.50.
Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 6,500 cattle, 16,000 hogs, and 17,000 sheep.

Hog prices on both the cash and futures markets ruled weak to 25c lower yesterday, light weights getting the brunt of the break.

Volume of trading on the cash basis and in contracts for March delivery was smaller than on Monday, due largely to the fact that the Lenten season opens today. Sellers of several hundred hogs for this month's delivery filled their contracts Monday and Tuesday. While buying of this month's hogs lagged all day and finished weak, there was a marked gain in buying for April delivery, sales for the latter month showing a 50 per cent increase for the day.

Bids Plentiful, No Sales.

No sales for May and September delivery were made, although bids were plentiful at $11.30 for May and $11.50 for September, with offers at $11.65 and $12.00, respectively. Trading in "to arrive" hogs will open today. The call is for the sale of live hogs which are to arrive on a specified day, which shall be within seven days after the date of sale.

Only 18,000 hogs were unloaded on the market yesterday, among the smallest totals of the year barring Saturday's. However, with demand narrower on all sides, the available supply exceeded immediate requirements and losses of 10@15c were general in all branches compared with the average selling the previous day. Sales were in line with Monday's bottom, but mostly 25c under that day's high opening market.

Yesterday's meager supply of cattle cleared at steady to 25c higher prices, better grades of yearlings and light steers showing the advance. Plain quality continued slow and some were held on unsatisfactory bids at the finish. Choice 787 lb yearlings held the top price at $15.25, while $14.25 was paid for well finished 1,524 lb averages.

Lambs Advance Again.

Another bulge in the lamb market yesterday carried prices to the highest level since middle of last week and as much as 50@85c above the low spot Thursday.

Medium and heavy lambs were strongest on the upturn. Prime 92 lb averages reached $11.00, with $10.50@10.60 paid for 95 lbs and $10.10 for 98 lbs. Several hundred shorn lambs sold at $9.40@9.85. Aged sheep and yearlings were scarce and unchanged. Feeding lambs sold steady. There was a slight increase in receipts today, the result of advancing prices.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 6,500 cattle, 16,000 hogs and 17,000 sheep, against 5,647 cattle, 21,824 hogs and 15,811 sheep, the previous Wednesday and 8,425 cattle, 23,525 hogs and 7,949 sheep, a year ago.

HOG FUTURES PRICES

Light hogs were purchased freely for April delivery at 15@25c lower prices, while contracts for the present month's delivery were hard to dispose of, the opening of the packing season being the principal drawback. March light hogs sold at $10.85@10.90 and April light at $11.25@11.30. Medium grades for April delivery at $10.60 were 25@40c lower. Heavy grades for April delivery at $10.00 were steady.

Active future delivery prices established on the Chicago live stock exchange for uniform car lots of 16,500 lbs. with 1,500 lbs variation:

CHICAGO STILL DOOR TO REALTY WEALTH—LUEDER

Now Time for Opportunity Seeker to Knock.

BY AL CHASE.

Opportunities for profit in Chicago real estate were never greater than right now according to Postmaster Arthur C. Lueder, who spoke last night before a group of real estate men and women at the headquarters of of George F. Nixon & Co. Mr. Lueder declared that future opportunities will continue to be created by the assured growth of the city. He also attributed Chicago's great growth to its ideal location and to the spirit of its inhabitants.

ARTHUR C. LUEDER (De Gueldre Photo.)

"Thirty years ago the postmaster here celebrated because his department handled $5,000,000 in receipts annually," said Mr. Lueder. "Today we handle more than that amount a month. In the eight years of my administration our receipts have grown from $42,000,000 to $63,000,000 annually. In the last seven years Chicago's growth in population has been greater than the entire population of any city in the United States with the exception of four.

Sees Continued Growth.

"Everything is in favor of Chicago's continued growth. We may look ahead to further great impetus through making Chicago an ocean port and holding the Century of Progress World's Fair. The population of the city and its suburbs will keep on growing from year to year, and population growth is the greatest factor in creating increased realty values and investment."

Mr. Lueder emphasized the necessity of devoting a major portion of selling effort to the feminine members of the family.

"Women now control 40 per cent of the nation's wealth. They pay taxes on more than three-quarters of a billion dollars income. Then, too, we must remember that more than 8,500,000 women in this country are gainfully employed. In addition 80 per cent of the ninety-five billion dollars of life insurance policies have women as beneficiaries. At the present rate women are destined to own the majority of the wealth of the United States."

Percy Wilson to Speak.

"Chicago's Real Estate Situation as It Affects the Sale of Real Estate Securities" will be the subject of a talk by Percy Wilson, head of Percy Wilson & Co., before the Chicago Financial Advertisers at their noon luncheon today in the Chicago room, at the Palmer house.

Harry A. Bollman has purchased the Hyde block at 2314-16 Roosevelt at the intersection of Ogden avenue and Oakley boulevard, 50x125, containing two stores, six apartments and four garages, from Emma Hyde of Denver. The price was not disclosed. W. C. Regelin represented the buyer and Tittman-Kimbark & Co., the seller.

MARCH BUTTER HIGHER

Rising spot levels and good news from the four markets on storage stocks pushed March butter futures up ¾c, or $144 a car on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. The market report was less favorable, showing 31,832,806 lbs on hand, against 8,203,046 lbs a year ago. Sales were 83 cars and receipts 13,797 tubs.

Uncertainty regarding fresh receipts tended to weaken egg futures slightly in spite of smaller arrivals. First bids and offers were made in April fresh futures at 24¾@25c, and in May storage packed at 25¾@27c. Sales were 89 cars and receipts 20,529 cases. Prices follow:

PLAN $200,000 AUTO BUILDING NEAR LOGAN SQ.

Work is scheduled to start shortly on a three or four story building at the southeast corner of Sacramento avenue and Altgeld street as a new home for the Tennes Motor company, distributors of Ford automobiles. Ray P. Tennes, president of the company, has purchased the ground, 75x125 feet at the corner, now improved with three cottages, from Erik Griswold and others for an undisclosed consideration.

L. Crosby Bernard, a Hammond, Ind., architect, is drawing plans for the structure, which, it is stated, will cost at least $200,000, and possibly more. The street sides of the building are to be finished in stone, while plans are to have the window frames and other ornamental metal work of stainless steel.

The Tennes firm, which operates in the Logan Square district, now has a sales office at 2550 Milwaukee avenue which possibly may be retained for the sake of second hand automobiles. There will be a sales office on the ground floor of the new building, a second hand department on the second, and service department on the upper stories.

Stockholders' Plan for Refinancing

FOX THEATRES CORPORATION

The Plan underwritten by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., and approved by the Trustees of Fox Film Corporation is more advantageous by $31,850,000 in cash or equivalent than that offered by Bancamerica-Blair plan.

The Plan provides offering of $40,000,000 6½% 10 year sinking fund convertible gold debentures (underwritten at $90) and 1,150,000 shares of Class A Common Stock to stockholders at $30 (and underwritten at $28) a share providing an additional $32,200,000, making a total of $68,200,000 new money.

The advantages of this Plan are summarized below:

(1) The Plan provides initially an excess over the plan of Bancamerica-Blair, Lehman Brothers and Dillon, Read & Co. of $9,050,000 cash.
(2) Assuming that all the warrants and conversion privileges under the two plans are exercised, this Plan will retire $20,000,000 more debt than theirs, and will require 100,000 less Class A shares, even after taking into account the bonus of 200,000 shares under their Plan.
(3) These 100,000 less Class A shares are worth $28 per share (Bankers' underwriting price), $2,800,000. Therefore, total advantage in cash or equivalent is $31,850,000.
(4) No preferred stock.
(5) No bankers bonus stock or option.
(6) Average per share realized on Class A stock after all conversion and exercise of all warrants:
Bancamerica-Blair Plan.....$18 per share This Plan.....$29 per share
(7) Debentures under this Plan call for interest at rate of 6½ per cent per annum—under Bancamerica-Blair plan interest at 7 per cent per annum—or a yearly saving in interest in favor of this Plan of $200,000.

SAVING IN CAPITALIZATION:

	Shares		Realization
Stock under conversion debentures, this Plan	1,200,000		$40,000,000

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by some men from the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and injures one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be revenged for the injury and pursue him. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house, where he finds Ellen Lawson alone in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house inquiring for him and sends them off on another trail, even though she learns that he has injured her brother. Jim rides on into the town after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Pete Moss. Here, the town marshal, threatens to arrest him for the attack on Steve Lawson, but Hartman Pendleton, an old trail driver, arrives on the scene in time to save him from arrest. Shortly afterward Shear kills Doc Brown, who, he claimed, had threatened his life. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town. Jim goes into the local gambling den and is astonished to find Ellen Lawson there. She tells him she has come to speak to her brother, Steve. Jim guides her to where Steve is sitting in a poker game with Shear, Buck Roe, and others. As they reach the table the lights go out, and when the room is again lighted Shear is found crumpled in his chair dead, with Jim's knife in him. Ellen's right hand is covered with blood. She had become separated from Jim in the dark and some one had jostled her. In putting out her hand for support she had touched the crumpled figure. Jim and Ellen are questioned by the sheriff, Manders, and Jim is arrested, but is later released. Jim is determined to find the murderer to clear himself. Ellen arranges a meeting to warn him against Dave Moss, and Jim learns that Moss is trying to force her to marry his son, Pete. He suggests that she marry him, but she is angry at the manner of his proposal. He realizes his mistake, goes to see her again, and tells her he loves her. They are married in a hurry. Jim calls on Mamie Dugan, Joe Shear's girl, to question her.

INSTALLMENT XXXIII.

A WARNING.

Miss Dugan leaned forward eagerly. "Listen. You have spoiled the plan so carefully arranged by Dave Moss. Do I not know? From some one I hear everything. His witnesses are lost to him now. What will he do? Ask yourself. Will he not think some quicker way will have to do instead of hanging? You have brought danger, O, so close to you!"

"It has been close for some considerable time," he told her. "I'm on my guard, but I can't leave now. Got to clear my good name. About the killing of Joe Shear—I've got to find the truth."

He could see the instant change in her, the starch of wariness stiffen her figure.

"Ah!" she murmured. "So you come to me, my friend. I ask myself why."

He had not intended to be so direct, but he had found her quite different from what he had expected—franker, more friendly, less hard on the surface.

"You knew Shear well. He was yore friend. Perhaps you might help me find his assassin."

"Did I see Joe Shear killed? Was I at the Longhorn?"

"But you stay a little jug corked all tight."

"I don't expect you to tell me who killed him, but you might help me to a motive."

"You think so?"

"Where do you stand? Do you want the killer caught? Or don't you?" Jim asked bluntly, brutally.

Her slant eyes mocked him. "That would depend. It is so romantic that you marry and then come to spend your honeymoon with me that I would be sad if you are the guilty man and are caught. O, ver-ry sad!"

"And if it was Sam Moss?" His steady gaze held her. "What then?"

A flare of reminiscent resentment lit her face. "I will whisper a secret, Mr. Bridegroom," she told him recklessly. "If it was Sam I would say how too bad it was, but I would save my tears. I would not weep, in my heart at least. He is too—too much like Joe Shear. I am to do this. I am not to do that. But I—I will do what I like."

"You know they quarreled about you—Shear and Sam Moss?"

"And why?" she demanded. "Am I a horse, a cow, with a brand? Por Dios, no!"

"I reckon they were both arrogant," he prompted. "Acted like they owned you, probably."

"When I marry I will not be a peon for my man to trample on. He must be a nice man and must make money while I sit in the parlor and play the organ," she explained.

"Have you picked him out yet?" he asked.

Mirth overflowed in her mocking eyes. "Alas! they are all married, these perfect men. I meet them too late."

He ignored any personal application there might be in her remark. "No, I don't reckon either Joe Shear or Sam Moss would grade up a hundred per cent as husbands. Too bossy. Both of 'em. No wonder they were sore at each other about you."

"Ah! If I wanted to talk. But no—I am a little jug corked all tight."

He nodded sagely. "Yes, I figure you would be scared to talk."

"Scared?" she cried, the Irish in her flaming out. "Me? Scared of Sam Moss?" She snapped her fingers. "Pouf! I laugh at him."

"But you stay a little jug corked all tight," he drawled.

"And why not? He is my friend. Must I tell all I know to please you? For what reason?"

"I reckon yore talkin' wouldn't help much, anyhow," he said lightly, with a glance provocatively skeptical. "If Sam had anything to keep quiet he wouldn't be tellin' it around to his lady friends."

"I know what I know," she flung back. "But I am not one to chatter."

"No?"

"And now, Mr. Bridegroom, it is nice that you have come to see me. Ver-y—what you call—flattering, is it not? But we must not forget there is another lady waiting at a window for her new and handsome husband. And on your so rapid way back to her I advise, out of my kind heart, that you pass Boot hill and count the graves—one, five, ten, and so many more."

"You're so thoughtful, Miss Dugan."

He knew she would tell him no more. With a smile he offered a brown hand in farewell.

"Adios. I've enjoyed meeting you. An' if you ever want to take the cork out of that little jug—well, I'm a right good listener," he said.

She accepted his hand gayly. "You are a good sport, Mr. Bridegroom. I ask myself, why are they all already married?"

That she knew something Jim was sure, but he was certain she was not going to tell it at present. As for her warning, he had given the subject consideration before meeting her. His marriage had been a direct challenge to the Moss tribe. More than that, it had been an extinguisher of their hope of convicting him of the Shear murder. Old Devil Dave would get into action without delay and probably without further finesse.

. . . . . .

Jim had never found anything easier than burglary. All you had to do was to open a window, go through it, find what you wanted, and go out through the same window, closing it behind you. He was very careful not to leave any burned matches on the floor, for he did not want it known that anybody had been in the room. But, easy though it had been, Jim breathed freer when he had left the house and was back on Front street. There was something hair raising in moving about a house filled with darkness when one had no right to be there.

Technically Jim might not qualify as a full fledged burglar. He was not sure about that, since he had taken nothing from the house except information. This he carried to Harrison Pendleton at The Trail's End.

"I've found out who Blackbeard is," he told his friend. "Broke into Mart Brown's house. His wife is out of town right now, so there was nobody at home. The pirate's costume was on the floor of a closet in the bedroom."

"You didn't bring it with you?"

"No, sir. That wouldn't have bought us a thing. Some one less interested than I am has to find that suit."

"I'll see it's found within an hour by several good witnesses," Pendleton said.

"There's a pair of square-toed boots at the foot of the bed I'd bring along, too," Jim suggested. "Who are you going to take for witnesses? I'd say fairly prominent folks."

"Roundtree and Garrick. They've been drivin' herds to this town for years. They're respected here by the merchants. Their word will be held good."

THE CAST.

Winnie Harper	Winnie Lightner
Jerry Casey	Chester Morris
Iris	Sally Eilers
Tommy Blake	Johnny Arthur
Big John	Tully Marshall
Cora	Louise Beavers

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

You can't help liking Winnie Lightner. There's such a genuine ring to the big girl!

When she clowns, she clowns with all her might; when she sings she does it for all she's worth, with plenty of grimaces and gestures flung in for good measure; when she loves—BABY! It's no mean, picayunish passion she offers HER man! No sir! It's a great, big platterful of unselfish devotion—that includes letting the other woman have him if he'll be happier that way!

"Life's a merry-go-round," says Winnie in this picture. "Some of us get the horses and the brass rings. Some of us get the lions and the elephants. It seems to me I got a jackass. I love you—you love her—that's how it goes."

As a night club song shouter who forges onward and upward until she is an idolized figure in the amusement world, Miss Lightner is heartsome and convincing. You laugh at and with, and feel terribly sorry for her. Chester Morris as a racketeer, Rialto playboy, and "angel" doesn't get over very well, while Sally Eilers as the society girl whom he loves and respects just doesn't register at all. The staginess and lukewarmness of these portrayals should, I'm sure, be blamed on the scenario. Johnny Arthur pleases as a song writer who yearns to marry Winnie, and Tully Marshall qualifies as the kindly, unmoral manager of the one ring night club where Winnie gets her start. Other rôles are satisfactorily played. Photography is good and direction so-so.

Chicago with over 3,000,000 people, celebrating quietly its ninety-third birthday yesterday had reason to recall its first city hall, virtually its cradle, "The Saloon Building" at the southeast corner of Clark and Lake streets. Built the year before by Capt. J. B. F. Russell and G. W. Doan, its title in 1837 was regarded as akin to the French word salon, a place for wit and wisdom to congregate.

For it was there in January of 1837 a group of leading citizens met to plan the steps by which the village of Chicago was to receive its charter as a city.

It was a lively article of faith then that those who grew up with Chicago would profit thereby. In the following year, when Stephen Arnold Douglas was running for congress against John T. Stuart, an enthusiast rose at a meeting and predicted that men then living would see Chicago with a population of 50,000 persons. Those who filled the hall of the Saloon building, declared then to be the most "elegant in the west," raised the cry of "town lots," intimating thus that the enthusiast had them for sale.

In May of 1837 Chicago's common council rented a room in the Saloon building, occupying it for five years. The council then moved to other rented quarters and it was not until 1848 that the city housed its council in a building belonging to the municipality.

It has been stated, apparently on good authority, that Abraham Lincoln, as an attorney for the Chicago and Rock Island railroad, argued the Davenport bridge case in the Saloon building in 1857. That case, won by the road against the steamboat and logging interests of the Mississippi river, did more than perhaps any other to determine the outcome of the middle west contest between steamships and railroads.

Miss Linda L. Doan, C. R. Clow Married Yesterday in Paris

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 4.—Miss Linda Lee Doan, daughter of Mrs. Sally Doan, formerly of St. Louis and Washington, was married this morning to Charles Rhodes Clow of Chicago in the office of the mayor of the seventh arrondissement.

The religious ceremony took place in the home of Vicomte and Vicomtesse Obert de Thieusies. Vicomtesse de Thieusies was the matron of honor. The best man was James Beach Clow of Chicago, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Only a few friends were present. The bride wore a long white satin gown without adornments. Her train was cut in the skirt of the dress and over it fell a veil of tulle, which was caught under a Juliet cap of pearls.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

The Answers.

Dr. E. A. Schmuck, 1842 Marshall Field annex, dentist—All things considered, he has done exceedingly well. He has done everything he could for the farmers, likewise for the financial interests and for the country's stability. It is fortunate we have so level headed a man at the helm.

Mrs. Anna Schnirer, 909 Lafayette parkway, housewife—President Hoover would be as good as any one if he had loyal support. Certain unfavorable conditions could occur under any administration. For instance, the President cannot be blamed for the present financial depression.

Leslie Hudson, 706 Wellington avenue, real estate—Bad. Prices are shot. There are no jobs for the jobless. Besides, he doesn't say whether he's for or against prohibition; he sidesteps that issue.

Mrs. H. R. Steidtman, 3251 Maypole avenue, advertising—So far, he has been rather a disappointment to me. I expected better things of the Republican administration, although it may not be entirely at fault. If the Democrats had been in power the public would have laid the blame on them.

Folmer Christensen, 4144 Newport avenue, draftsman—It's o. k. It has been as good as any other could have been in the face of similar problems. It would be helpful if President Hoover could improve employment conditions. Also I would like to see the return of light wines and beer.

Duchess of Apulia Expects Heir, Italians Are Told

ROME, March 4.—(AP)—The duchess of Apulia expects the birth of a child some time this month. The prefect of the royal court so notified both houses of parliament and the chief officers of state today by the king's order. The duke of Apulia is a cousin of King Victor Emmanuel.

Frame Church Tenet on Love and Divorce

Presbyterians to Report on 3 Months' Study.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Six ministers and five ruling elders of the Presbyterian church, constituting the church's commission on marriage, divorce and remarriage, will meet in the La Salle hotel at 9 o'clock Friday morning to tell each other their conclusions after a three months' study of that trinity—love, marriage and divorce. The commission will sit in judgment behind closed doors.

Some inkling of what will be weighed by the commission may be gleaned, however, from a perusal of the bibliography which was made the basis of the study. Prominent in the list, which comprises several typewritten pages, are names of the foes of conservatism as regards marriage and divorce.

The works of Judge Ben Lindsay, Havelock Ellis, Margaret Sanger, Count Hermann Keyserling and others have been studied by the commission, with the purpose of making a report to the general assembly in order that it may "give to the whole church a clear deliverance on marriage, divorce, and remarriage."

The bibliography is divided into four sections: "The History of Marriage," "What Makes Marriage a Problem?" "Some Proposed Remedies," and a section concerning ideas of marriage as defined by Christ.

Under the first topic Westermark's "History of Human Marriage," Adler's "Marriage and Divorce," Havelock Ellis' "Sex and Civilization," Margold's "Sex Freedom and Social Control," and a book by Ellen Keys are among those suggested.

Among the books suggested with reference to the question: "What Makes Marriage a Problem?" is Keyserling's "A Travel Diary of a Philosopher," with the notation, "A very important statement of sex standards which are being widely accepted in America today."

Other books on that section were: Collins' "The Doctor Looks at Marriage and Medicine," Lindsay-Evans' "The Revolt of Modern Youth," Lippmann's "A Preface to Morals," Keyserling's "The Book of Marriage," and a series of articles by Kenneth MacGowan and C. V. Hamilton published in Harper's magazine in 1928.

In the first of the articles by MacGowan and Hamilton it is stated: "The 1,358 love affairs of these 200 men and women form the basis of the present article." It refers to 200 men and women questioned by the Bureau of Social Hygiene of New York over a period of four years as a basis of study of the marriage problem.

Under "Some Proposed Remedies," are listed: [1] "Education of youth in sex hygiene and the art of love as suggested by Fielding's 'The Art of Love,' in 'Sex in Civilization'"; [2] "Judge Lindsay's suggestion—Lindsay-Evans' 'The Companionate Marriage'"; [3] "Proposals to make marriage more difficult"; [4] "Remedy of easier divorces," and [5] "Birth control as in part a solution."

THE STAGE

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

THE repertory company of the Goodman theater journeyed to Naperville, Ill., last Monday night for some mysterious reason and there gave, without much scenery, its current production of Philip Barry's "Holiday." Transportation was by motor bus. With this experience in rough and ready trouping, the Goodman players are calling themselves "The Good Companions," after the fly by nights of Priestley's popular novel.

Next Tuesday night, following its new policy of changing the bill every three weeks, more or less, the Goodman will stage Richard Brinsley Sheridan's "The Rivals," thus taking the wind out of the sails of Mrs. Fiske's all-star revival of this classic comedy. Whitford Kane will be the Sir Lucius O'Trigger and Mary Agnes Doyle the Mrs. Malaprop. Others in the cast will be Ellen Root, Katherine Krug, Roman Bohnen, Hale MacKeen, Neal Caldwell, Karl Kroenke, and Harry Mervis.

Whitford Kane will hold the fort single handed, in a manner of speaking, at the Goodman next Monday night, when the others are resting or dress-rehearsing. He will stage there, for one performance and with a cast of volunteers, Ralph Cullinan's drama of the Irish sea coast, "Loggerheads." This is his method of celebrating St. Patrick's day and his thirtieth anniversary on the stage. He recalls that he has played 108 parts, 43 of them in Chicago. He asserts that he has acted characters representing every race except the Negroes and the Chinese—but he fails to submit evidence that he has ever appeared as a Finlander, a Montenegrin, or a Lett.

Item of no especial interest to any one except the editor of this column: the villain of "Loggerheads" is named Collins. The stage directions describe him as "a mean looking, waspish little man of 42, dressed in skimpy corduroy trousers and a dirty bawneen over which he wears a faded coat. His hat is soft and shabby."

Burton Holmes will explore the Mediterranean and the capitals of the Balkan states in his travel revues at Orchestra hall this week—tonight, Friday night and Saturday afternoon. Next week, which will be the last of his visit, he will deal with Venice and the mountains of northern Italy. Mr. Holmes is talking better than ever this season, and there is said to be a reason—he has thrown away his sheafs of manuscript and is chatting ex tempore as the pictures flit across the screen.

Mr. Holmes is a lecturer of perennial charm. He skitters over the map, not as a culture hunter or a go-getting explorer, but as a cultivated man of the world who knows how to get the most fun out of travel with the least effort. He sometimes turns up material that has escaped the book writers and the foreign correspondents—as, for example, the quaint town of Dinklesbuehl, a backwater of German mediaevalism, exploited in last week's lecture. Also, his discovery that the Germans of the republican era are speaking their language with a new accent, having discarded the kaiserliches, bristling mustache, dia- of the old Prussian régime.

The annual benefit performance for the Actors' Fund of America, the twenty-third in the series, will be given at the Erlanger theater Friday afternoon, March 21. Walter Hartwig, personal representative of Daniel Frohman, chairman of the fund, is now in Chicago making arrangements for the program. Nearly every theatrical company then in town will contribute to the entertainment.

"Strange Interlude" will end its run at the Blackstone theater Saturday night, March 29. This Theater Guild production will then have a history of eighteen weeks in Chicago.

Charlie Chaplin Plans to Stake Future on the Silent Movies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., March 4.—Charlie Chaplin will cut loose from that portion of the film industry which has "gone talkie." He will stick with the silent pictures. His representative, Carlyle Robinson, so indicated today. Chaplin expects to organize a new producing company, a closed corporation, and spend several millions, his representative said.

Chaplin will sell off his present five acre plant which he bought in 1917 for $33,000, hoping to clean up millions on that deal, for the land is in one of Hollywood's high priced apartment sections. He will erect new studios on a fifty acre site in the San Fernando valley, near Hollywood.

He will personally appear in one comedy a year, and will direct one film personally every year.

One of those whom Charlie intends to sign for his silent film stock company is John Gilbert, whose voice proved a failure in talking films.

Churches Plan Loop Meetings to Aid Faith

Hope to Increase City's Religious Life.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Today is Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent. Programs for the observance of the season which continues until Easter promise to be the most comprehensive ever known to Chicago. Easter falls on April 20 this year. Noon hour services are to be held in central points in the loop for Episcopalians, Lutherans and churches coöperating in the Chicago Church federation, while special services have been called in all the Catholic churches of the city.

A comprehensive program for Lent has been arranged by the 800 churches of the 19 denominations represented in the Chicago Church federation. Services will be held daily except Sunday between April 7 and 18 in the Chicago Temple at Washington and Clark streets from 12:10 to 1 p. m. Special preachers will be the Rev. Dr. John Thompson, the Rev. Dr. E. F. Tittle, the Rev. Dr. William Boddy, Dean Shailer Mathews, President Albert W. Palmer, Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, the Rev. Dr. Roy H. Vail, the Rev. Dr. Herbert L. Willett, the Rev. Dr. H. E. Brown and Dean Charles W. Gilkey. On Good Friday a three hour service will be held.

The 20 minute noonday Lenten services of the Chicago Church club will begin at the Garrick theater at 12:10 p. m. today, with the Rt. Rev. Campbell Gray, Episcopal bishop of northern Indiana, as the preacher. On succeeding weeks the preachers will be the Rt. Rev. Frank E. Wilson, bishop of Eau Claire; the Rt. Rev. G. G. Bennett, bishop of Duluth; the Rt. Rev. H. P. Almon Abbott, bishop of Lexington.

During Holy week, the last week in Lent, the Federation of Lutheran Brotherhoods will sponsor noonday services at the Grand Opera house. About 180 Lutheran churches of the city are participating in the enterprise. C. W. Howe and Dr. J. A. Christenson, officers of the federation, are obtaining nationally known speakers for the services. The Great Northern theater has been engaged by the Missouri Synod Lutheran church for Lenten services, which will begin March 24 and continue until Easter. The program is to be in the charge of the Rev. Henry Kowert, pastor of First St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Heads Churches' Council.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 4.—Overriding his protests, the Illinois Council of Churches today elected as its first president Dr. H. T. Morrison of Springfield. He was the unanimous choice of the convocation of Protestant ministers who organized the council.

The Rev. Stephen E. Keeler, rector of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church, Chicago, declared last night that most ministers are confused and worried to death by denominational programs, plans, campaigns, quotas and objectives to the extent that the main business of the church has been largely lost.

"What I would suggest tonight," said Dr. Keeler, "is that we as ministers, whose main task is bringing souls into union with God, forget our programs and campaigns and fasten our thought more especially upon ourselves in order that we measure more closely to the pastoral and spiritual possibilities in our own lives."

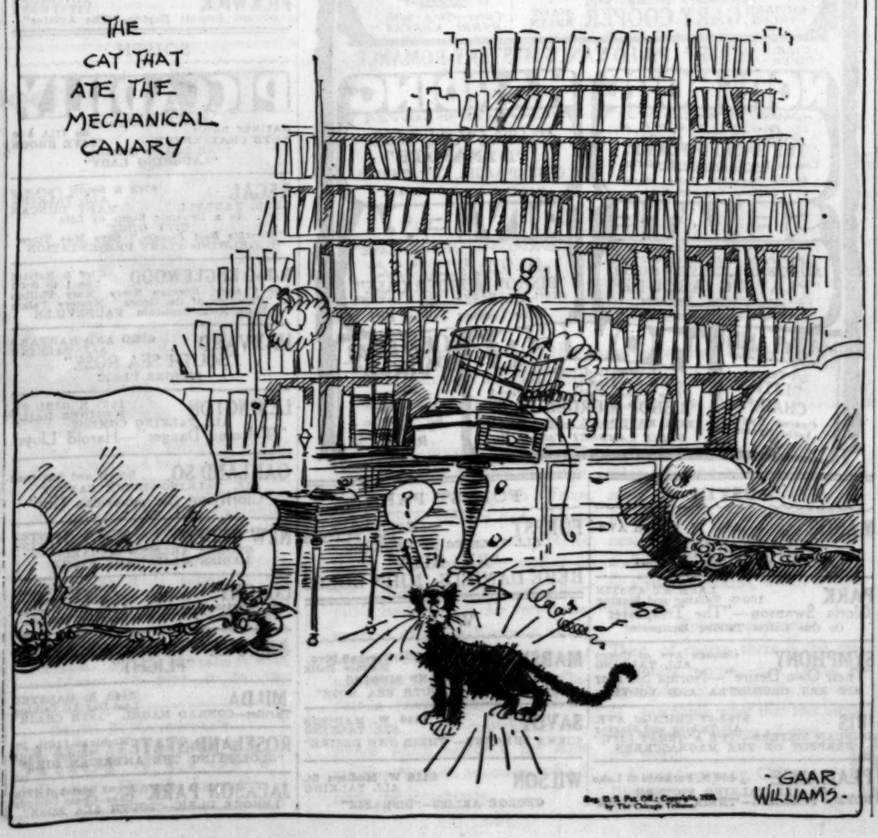
The Chicago rector pointed out that most clergymen have been so busy running institutions, instead of exercising spiritual leadership, that the present need in the churches is for converted ministers.

"Our spiritual power as ministers is dissipated and worn threadbare because of energy expended as institutional promoters of this or that campaign," Dr. Keeler declared. "How many of us really find time for deepening our spiritual lives? We need to have time to develop ministerial friendships on high spiritual levels. The power of the church, as the New Testament reveals it, lay in the lives of men wholly converted to Christ."

Dr. Morrison is a physician, but formerly was in the ministry. He was instrumental in bringing about the convocation. Rev. H. H. Waltmire of Pontiac was elected secretary.

Officers in addition to the president and secretary were elected as follows: Vice presidents—Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, Methodist, of Chicago; Bishop John Chanler White, Episcopal, of Springfield; Bishop S. P. Spreng, Evangelical, of Naperville; the Rev. Walter R. Cremeans, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, Springfield; Carl Vrooman, Bloomington, C. A. Lloyce, Champaign.

WOTTA LIFE! WOTTA LIFE!



Philanderer Is Cause of Trouble in Two Households

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I have given my whole life to a man I am madly in love with, but when I started going with him he was married and the father of two children. He told me he did not love his wife and had no use for her."

That's the way today's true confession begins.

Out of the liaison was born a girl, now 18, taught to believe her father is her uncle. After sixteen years of devotion, the man meets another girl, one of fine build, good looks, and of excellent position, as well as a woman with a personable bank account. The mother of the then 16 year old, though she had bought the man clothes and given him money, was deserted for the new love. The new love gave less, exacted more and receiving it not, gave the man the air.

He floundered around for a time, we judge, looking for still another easy berth. Others failing, he returned to his wife and children, where he is now respectably ensconced and from reports, enjoying his reinstatement in the family bosom. His wife welcomed her husband back, having continued to love him during all the years.

So now we have the sorry picture of the woman who made a wife suffer for a good many years, in turn being the butt of this sometimes extraordinarily cruel thing known as love. And with a grown daughter without the legitimatized advantages of the rival wife's daughter!

Denouements of the sort make one realize that marriage, though its best laid plans go often gang awry, is the state of security for which women should aspire, and be content with nothing else.

The bitterest punishment a woman has to take is to look into the eyes of a trusting young daughter and know that she has failed her in the most important thing in that young life—respectable parentage. After all, there is a greater love than that of two human beings for each other. But it is tragedy. Life—perhaps—human weakness, nevertheless tragedy! Most tragic because a woman who is capable of strong, enduring love deserves the security that only marriage seems to give.

Passing the night in a berth on a Pullman car was something new to 5 year old Ben.

His father and he occupied an upper berth, while a portly middle aged man had the lower.

In the morning while Ben was sitting beside his father in the diner, the man of the lower berth happened to walk down the aisle.

Catching sight of him, Ben, to the amusement of the passengers, exclaimed in a loud whisper, "Say, pop, I believe that's the guy that sleeps under our bed." I. F.

"Well," retorted the exasperated little boy, "you'd act a lot more like mama, if you'd thympathyze a little." A. P.

Lenten Season Starting Today; Society Notes

BY THALIA

Ash Wednesday brings announcements of the annual series of Lenten lectures arranged by the Chapel Guild of the Cenacle. The series includes five talks on subjects of current interest to be given on successive Mondays.

Mrs. Edward I. Cudahy will open her residence at 1501 State parkway for the first one next Monday. There the Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., will speak on "Curbs and Checks in Literature," with reference to censorship.

The other lectures and the residences where they are to be held include one by Dr. L. H. Wetmore on "The Catholic Renaissance in Europe Since the War," at Mrs. Frank M. Gordon's residence at 1430 Lake Shore drive, on March 17; one by Dr. J. F. Kinsman on "The Oxford Movement" at Mrs. Lester Armour's house at 225 Wellington avenue on March 24; one by the Rev. Frederic Siedenburg, S. J., on "Nationalism and Peace," at Mrs. Edward N. Hurley's apartment at 3400 Sheridan road on the 31st, and the final one by Msgr. A. K. Gwynn on "Catholicism in the Land of Cotton," at Mrs. William Roy Carney's apartment at 3400 Sheridan road on April 7. The talks will all be given at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

One of the spring weddings will be that of Miss Edwina Litsinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Litsinger of 1400 State parkway, and Wilbur C. Smith, son of Mrs. Theodore White Smith of 24 Scott street.

Thornton Wilder will be the guest of the Chicago Drama league at a luncheon at 1 o'clock today at the Stevens hotel. He is to talk on "The Enthusiasms and Disappointments of Play Going."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McWilliams are in their old home town for a week's stay for the first time in several years, and they are being entertained as often and as much as possible during the duration of their visit. They are house guests of the Walter S. Brewsters, who gave a dinner for them last evening. The supper party the Kellogg Fairbanks are to give for them on Sunday will be the final affair before their departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Blair of 209 Lake Shore drive, their daughter, Miss Anita Blair, and the Ernest A. Hamills of 2450 Lake View avenue are noted among the arrivals at the Raymond hotel in Pasadena, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale Holden Jr. of Lake Forest and their small daughter, Jean, have left for Florida to be away until April 1.

The Lawrence S. Scudders, also of Lake Forest, and their child, Mary, have gone to Savannah, Ga., for a vacation of several weeks.

Comtesse de Gramedo of Paris and the chateau de Ranville, at Ranville, France, has gone to New York City after a gay and busy visit for the past month as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Harry Spenser-Brown of the Ambassador. She is to sail for France on the Ile de France on March 7. The Comtesse has been much entertained during her stay.

The Rev. George Roberts, pastor of the Lake Forest Presbyterian church, began a 9 months' leave of absence on Monday. He and Mrs. Roberts, and their son, are to go to Bermuda for young Roberts' spring vacation from school in the east. Then they plan a trip to Europe, returning by the time the boy is out of school for the summer.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 4.—Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hawthorne Wylie have left by motor to spend several weeks in Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Middleton S. Burrill are at Atlantic City for a fortnight's visit.

Mrs. Clark Williams left to join Mr. Williams at their estate in Camden, S. C.

The Misses Elaine and Janet Laidlaw, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Laidlaw, will give a large supper dance for Miss Caroline Dubois and Philip Langdon, who are to be married on March 11.

WEDDING

HER ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Child's Body in Wall of Jericho May Be Key to Bible Verse

JERUSALEM, March 4.—(AP)—Remains of a child sacrifice discovered by Sir Charles Marston's expedition in the walls of the ancient biblical city of Jericho, are believed to throw a significant light on a curious Bible verse not thoroughly understood heretofore. The verse, found in I Kings, 16:34, reads:

"In his days did Hiel, the Beth-Elite, build Jericho; he laid the foundation thereof in Abram, his first born, and set up the gates thereof in his youngest son, Segub, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by Joshua, the son of Nun."

The expedition, headed by Prof. John Garstang, has found many interesting things in the ruins of the city.

One discovery was that of a charred beam underneath the wall. It was taken to suggest that when Joshua's seven Hebrew priests marched around the walls blowing each a ram's horn, workmen were busy undermining the walls.

Beauties on Way South Give Chicago Once Over

What they do in every day life back in Wyoming or Idaho or Wisconsin seemed to be forgotten yesterday by beauties representing their states who gave Chicago the once over before going on to Miami, Fla., to vie for the coveted honor of "Miss America."

Among the first to arrive were Miss Margaret Bowman, 19, a Glen Rock, Wyo., stenographer; Miss Evian Seetin, 20 years old, a ranch girl from Emmett, Idaho, and Miss Mabel du Pont, 21 years old, a nurse, who is Miss Wisconsin. The three left in the morning on the Ponce de Leon of the Big Four. Last night Miss Rosella Dressen, Minnesota's beauty, and Miss Vevonne Clegg, Belle Plaint, Ia., departed on the Big Four's Royal Palm.

Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Scott Leeds, Mr. an.. Mrs. Vincent Bendix, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius P. Ordway, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. Florenz Ziegfeld, and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Cowdin. Others present included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minot Amory, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. William Thaw III., Mr. and Mrs. John North Willys, Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Brokaw, Miss Marjorie Oelrichs, Miss Frances Gilmore, Miss Alice Delamar, Miss Virginia Thaw, Mr. Jules S. Bache, Mr. William Burden, Col. James Blair, and Mr. Ames H. R. Cromwell. Lady Morvyth Benson and Lady Ward of London arrived from Havana today by plane to join Mrs. Harriman Russell at Whitehall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Durbin, who are the house guests of Mrs. Joseph B. Long, are returning to Chicago next Monday. The Florida Embassy club was the scene of a brilliant rose fête tonight. Among those who entertained large parties at this dinner were Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Quincy A. Gillmore, Capt. and Mrs. R. A. Wilson, Mr. Adolph Lewisohn, and Commodore and Mrs. Vincent Ward. Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin of Chicago, who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche before she went to Miami to attend the Scott-Sharkey fight, has returned to Palm Beach to join the house party now being entertained by Mr. Charles A. Munn at his ocean front estate.

The Evanston Smith College club will hold a meeting this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Arthur M. Betts of Evanston.

Three Shows Current at the Arts Club; Muriel Hannah's Best

The Arts club has opened three exhibitions of interest this week. In the long hall are a series of pencil portraits by Muriel Hannah, a New York artist. Her heads of children are most attractive and she is equally effective when it comes to doing adults. Her portrait designs are fascinating. Miss Hannah is a young artist of great promise and one who has already attained a great degree of proficiency.

The gouaches by Emil Ganso [and do not let the strange sound of 'gouaches" intimidate you—it merely refers to his medium, like oil, water color, etc.] are spirited and picturesque in as far as his landscapes are concerned. His studies of the female form are another story and one that is clumsily written. His drawing is abominable and the women's faces are irritating, startled, grotesque and needlessly present. The masks which are these bodies could well have been drawn up to drown the faces.

The landscapes are different. Here there is humor and there is beauty. He has a capital sense of color and of design. Among the most intriguing are "My Home Town," which smacks of a sporting print though the only horse in sight is a thin beast straining at a coal wagon, "Montrouge," "Street Scene," "Summer in Villiers," "Church in Maine," "Halberstadt" and "Landscape, No. 30."

In the farther gallery hang the paintings, water colors and drawings by Ernest Fiene. Mr. Fiene could throw the lot into the sea, saving only the charming "Girl Reading" and advance his reputation by the vandalism. Nor would it be vandalism, it would be an act of grace. His modernistic tendencies are rampant in much of his work. He is stilted and prim in such things as "Hudson River Boat," stupidly realistic, flagrantly Teutonic, and he is confused in other pictures such as the still life, "Bouquet of Flowers." In "Lake Hil Farm" he is needlessly preposterous, dragging in cows such as never grew on land before. The "Girl Reading" redeems all this, however. It is as fresh and attractive and sympathetic a little picture as the most carping could desire.

The exhibition will run to March 17.

Helpful Usher.

At a recent church celebration I was asked to help usher. A woman entered late and, not noticing the ushers, hastened up the aisle to find a place for herself.

Just as I reached her, she suddenly stopped to enter a pew and I, almost upon her, stumbled and literally fell over her, knocking off her hat in the process.

I restored the hat, stammered incoherent apologies, and made my way back the entire length of the aisle with burning face and the titters of the congregation ringing in my ears.

FIGHT RIGHT BACK WITH PEBECO

The war in your mouth never ends. If unchecked, the mouth acids attack the teeth crevices incessantly, until painful cavities start. But just rally PEBECO Tooth Paste to your aid. Pebeco not only cleans and whitens but actually neutralizes these destructive acids. The result: Sparkling white teeth, safeguarded... and you're glad that you tried Pebeco when you found ordinary dentifrices so disappointing. Start giving your teeth Pebeco's help today.—Advt.

You have a Doctor's Word for this Laxative

IN 1875, an earnest young man began to practice medicine. As a family doctor, he treated many cases of constipation. He soon saw the harm in common purges and began to seek something better. Out of his experience was born a famous prescription now in wide use.

This prescription was written thousands of times. It proved an ideal laxative for old and young. Children like its pleasant taste. Older people like it because it doesn't gripe or cause discomfort. It is a mixture of fresh herbs and other pure ingredients; thoroughly effective for the most robust of men. Stimulates the normal muscular action of the bowels. So its use will not become a habit. As people saw how marvelously the most sluggish bowels are started and bad breath, headaches, biliousness, feverishness, or no energy, poor appetite, etc., are relieved by Dr. Caldwell's prescription, it became necessary to put it up ready for use.

Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. All drug stores have the generous bottles. The product never varies from Dr. Caldwell's original formula. So you can take it with confidence or give it to the youngest child.

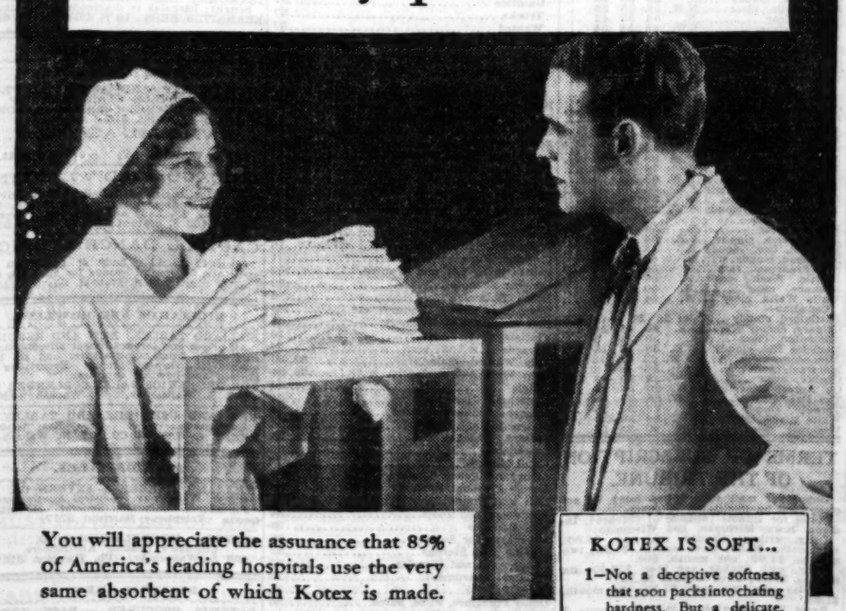
Let hospitals guide you in choosing sanitary protection



You will appreciate the assurance that 85% of America's leading hospitals use the very same absorbent of which Kotex is made.

YOU'LL discover, once you use Kotex, any number of things about it which distinguish it from any ordinary sanitary pad. Kotex is hygienically safe. It protects health at a time when vitality is low. Over 85% of our leading hospitals have chosen the very same material of which Kotex is made, because of its remarkable efficiency and surgical purity. This is Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding . . . a remarkable substance which performs the same sanitary function as cotton, with 5 times the absorbency.

Kotex is shaped to fit. You can wear any kind of frock under the most difficult circumstances and feel entirely free of self-consciousness. You can feel immaculate and dainty, for Kotex deodorizes by a special process, which is most effective.

Kotex is disposable

Then, of course, there is the reason most women first began to use Kotex: it is so easily disposed of. Just think what that fact alone has meant to women all over the world.

Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.

3—Deodorizes... safely, thoroughly, by a special process.

Regular Kotex—45c for 12
Kotex Super-Size—65c for 12

Here's a Suggestion for Avoiding the 'Don't Touch' Method

A "Play Booklet" by Mrs. Bevans for mothers of pre-school children will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Anything which will help the very little things—and their parents—through the age of thirsty fingers and legitimate curiosity about the material world is welcome. Here is an interesting letter:

"My dear Mrs. Bevans: You have published so many helpful things of your own and from your correspondents that I thought perhaps you would be interested in a problem and its solution as worked out in my home.

"Even before my baby could coo or creep I began carefully differentiating between her things and daddy's and mother's things. As she grew older and moved about the house I never found it necessary to move any of my books and magazines, for I made certain she had some of her own on a lower shelf or within easy reach. If by chance she did pick up something she could not have I let her look at it a moment and then took it, saying, "No, no, that's daddy's" or "mother's." Every one thought it wonderful that a child so young could be so trustworthy.

"And then we moved! As I unpacked I put all of baby's books, toys, etc., on the same shelves as before but, of course, everything was in a different place, and that child seemed possessed! She grabbed, pulled and tore everything she could get her hands on.

"At the end of a week of this, coupled with the extra work of getting settled I was tired out and suddenly awoke to find myself slapping my baby's hands and angrily saying, 'Now, you stop that!' I was so ashamed that I sat down on the closest chair and thought the situation over.

"After a few moments my common sense came to my rescue and I realized that to a baby 12 months old, any old thing placed in a new position becomes a new thing and therefore an object to be investigated, and that if I were patient she would soon get acquainted again, and be her usual self.

"How true it was! We have been in our new flat six weeks now and she seldom bothers anything not belonging to her."

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

A Vegetarian Menu.

The following menu prepared by Miss Farmer a long time ago is eminently suited to any season of the year, but is best suited to the season when eggs are triumphant or at their best:

Vegetable Soup Toasted Triangles
Egg Salad, Cream Dressing
Quick Nut Bread
Caramel Custard, Caramel Sauce
Fruit Punch

If we consider the protein element of this menu—a first consideration with people who are working on medical prescription menus—we have to say that the soup may contain a little protein, the egg salad with the dressing may contain enough to make the amount of protein equal to that in any ordinary menu with meat.

Wheat contains a small per cent of protein, so we always get a little bit of bread, and when we come to caramel custard, there we again have protein from the egg used in it. It will vary according to whether the custard is made of whole egg or just the yolks. It is less in the latter case, but the yolk of egg contains fat as the white does not, so if we are estimating the fat in our menu we must mention this in connection with the custard.

The caramel sauce most likely contains some fat. The nut bread may contain considerable fat because a little shortening is always put into bread, and nuts are the vegetable foods which contain the highest proportion of fat in the shape of oil, as much as the fattest meats. A cream dressing such as that prescribed for the egg is almost sure to have some fat and some egg, and there will be some fat in the soup, so we have a good number of calories in this menu. Perhaps too many because the toasted triangles are easy to eat and give calories. No salad could have more calories than this one, probably, and there are many calories from both the fats and the starches in the nut bread.

In the vegetable soup we could have ingredients to bring us practically every one of the vitamins. Right straight through this menu there are good possibilities in the way of vitamin bringing foods.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

MISS M. M.: NO, EXERCISE will not correct bowed legs. An operation is the only means of successfully treating the condition.

A. E. T.: IT IS MOST DIFFICULT to get rid of brown spots on your face. You may apply repeatedly a saturated solution of hyposulphite of soda. It is harmless.

F. D. C.: DRY HAIR REQUIRES less frequent washing than oily hair, but every two weeks does not seem too often to wash dry hair. Certainly it should never go beyond three weeks. Shampooing instructions may be had for a stamped, addressed envelope.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

The dipping sides of the circular flaring skirt of this chic dress and the beautifully molded bodice and hipline pronounce it one of the latest designs. The pointed bodice at the front emphasizes the snugness through the hips, while a huge bow of self fabric at the left hip and the lace vestee show the feminine trend of the mode. Chiffon, crêpe Elizabeth, crêpe marocain, and crêpe de chine are among the lovely materials suitable.

The pattern, 3,275, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material with ⅜ yard of 16 inch contrasting.

Beauty Surgery Clinic Will Fill Long Felt Want

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

A news note in the paper the other day indicates that plans are under way for a beauty surgery clinic, sponsored by reputable men of the medical profession. To this I, as one who would like to see women protected against quack operators, respond with a loud hooray.

Naturally, the profession would hesitate about exploiting foolish female vanity. Their clinic has no such purpose in mind as to soothe the whims of one whose nose, say, is but a sixteenth fraction of an inch off the straight and narrow line. Nor are these reputable men eager to contribute surgical experience to doing for a double chin what a wholesome course of diet and exercise would do better.

The motive, according to the new item, is a humanitarian one, and basically for persons with deformities that prove handicaps in finding jobs. I don't suppose the profession would object to me adding "finding husbands," too, since they must recognize wifehood as a perfectly legitimate vocation.

There are birthmarks, scars, blemishes that are disastrously and pitifully discouraging, and it is a pity if persons afflicted, through no fault of their own, have to go through life handicapped if skilled and ethical plastic surgery can afford relief.

According to one of the physicians interested in the clinic, persons facially disfigured have been at the mercy of quacks who have victimized them without remedying their defects. Such blemishes as sunken or saddle noses, cauliflower ears, torn lips and caved in cheek bones need the attention of the most skilled surgeons, and the services of these men should be within reach of the poor.

All of which proves that ethical medical men are aware of the vast importance of one's personal appearance in our current lives—workaday or social—in view of which this move ment of reputable surgeons should meet with unanimous support.

Capes and Boleros Enter Fashion Race

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS. — [Special.] — The stretch covered by the spring wrap grows shorter as the sun mounts higher. Long coats and capes are relegated to traveling and evening. Little capes and boleros run for place in the smart spring ensemble. Chic Parisiennes have eagerly adopted these nonchalant aids to the silhouette, which do so much to mitagate the too revealing princess frock and the defined waist line.

Capes and boleros were seen everywhere on every sort of frock along the Riviera, and they are beginning to drift back to Paris with the opening of the season. Some of these capes and boleros are attached to the dress or coat. They soften a back, underline a décolletté, or fill in needy sides. They may be regular, or asymmetrical, rounded, zig-zag, or split into two.

More often they are separate and may be worn or not, as you like, and thus they vary the effect of your costume. They not only add just the necessary touch of warmth for a mild day, but they make you feel more dressed than you ever do in a separate seatless frock.

Capes and boleros are both so attractive that it is hard to choose between them. Elspeth Champcommunal relieves your indecision by giving you both in this youthful and useful spring ensemble. It is made of Rodier woolen in one of the new lively beiges. The box plaited skirt is mounted on a hip fitting yoke, which is draped over the blouse around the natural waist and fastens in front by two ends, which pass through a button clasp.

The bolero is an amusing variation of this useful accessory. It slips over the head and is cut away to a point in the front. The neck is finished by a bias fold of the material held by a button with the two ends hanging carelessly down the front. The little rounded cape is fitted round the shoulders by a series of darts. It has a rounded standing collar which also narrows into ends that may be worn free or knotted at the throat.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

The soil is a prime factor in a successful garden. Usually in the city garden little choice is possible. The city gardener therefore must make the soil as suitable as he can. The farm gardener has more choice, but not infrequently somewhat unsuitable soil will have to be used in order to locate the garden conveniently. If the soil is very unfavorable, it may require more than one year to get it into condition, but proper practices will accomplish much in a single season.

Vegetables cannot thrive in waterlogged soil. If it does not have natural drainage, provision must be made to drain it. Excessive surface water may be carried off by surface ditches. If made as soon as the frost is out of the ground, they will help in getting the soil in condition to work earlier.

Lightening with sand or coal ashes will help heavy soil which is inclined to hold too much water. On such soils tile drainage is usually best. When only low marshy lands are available, gardening on raised beds is often more satisfactory.

The desired texture of a garden soil is often described as "fine and loose." "Loose" does not mean that the soil particles are far apart, but that they are not cemented into large masses or "clods." If a soil is lumpy and cannot be made "fine" by tillage methods, it should be modified. On some soils this may be done by increasing the organic content of the soil, or by adding lime, while sanding or using coal ashes may be necessary on others.

Sand or sifted coal ashes make excellent modifying material for heavy soils. Put on enough to give the desired texture. Wood ashes, or coal ashes which contain wood ashes, should not be used for this purpose unless the amount necessary is small.

No Indigestion!

He used to suffer after eating—but no more! He carries quick relief in his pocket. STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS. A pleasing combination of modern anti-acids: Calcium Carbonate (far superior to soda) Magnesium, and the like.

Hearty eaters—hard smokers—high livers find Stuart's Tablets indispensable for the relief of after-eating distresses.

Why have a sour stomach—or risk a bad breath? Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets; one of them will neutralize 2½ times its weight of acid material in the stomach; they furnish the ideal and harmless remedy.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL AND SPECIAL MEETINGS OF STOCKHOLDERS.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, FEBRUARY 25, 1930.

I. THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY will be held at the office of the Company in the City of Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, on Thursday, the first day of May, 1930, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the consideration of the following questions:

1. Whether the Company shall be renewed under the laws of Illinois and Iowa for a period of fifty years after the expiration of the present Articles of Consolidation of June 2, 1880.

2. The increase in the number of directors of the Company from thirteen to fifteen, and the amendment of the Articles of Consolidation to provide therefor;

3. The creation of an issue of $32,228,000 Thirty-Year 4½% Convertible Gold Bonds, to be dated May 1, 1930, to provide funds for the general corporate purposes of this Company, said bonds to be convertible into common stock of the Company at any time on or after May 1, 1931, and before May 1, 1940, at $125 per share, with an adjustment of accrued interest and current dividends to the date of such conversion; and, in order to secure said bonds, the execution and delivery of an Indenture setting forth the terms and conditions on which said bonds will be issued and delivered and will be convertible, and the approval of the form of the proposed Indenture;

4. The increase of the authorized capital stock of the Company from $140,000,000 to $170,000,000, all of the proposed increase to be common stock; and the amendment of the articles of Consolidation to provide therefor;

5. The repeal of Article VIII of the Articles or Consolidation of June 2, 1880, which provides that the limit of indebtedness of the Company shall not exceed $275,000,000, exclusive of bonds issued for the acquisition of additional railways or property;

6. The amendment of the By-Laws to provide that the Board of Directors may authorize the signature of the president, or vice president, upon the Company's stock certificates to be engraved in facsimile, under such regulations as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe;

7. The election of Directors;

And for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

II. In order to comply with certain statutory provisions of the State of Iowa, SPECIAL MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS of the Company is hereby called to be held at the principal office of the Company in the City of Davenport, Scott County, Iowa, on Friday, the second day of May, 1930, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, for the consideration of the questions set forth above.

By order of the Board of Directors.

J. E. GORMAN, President.

CARL NYQUIST, Secretary.
